Synopsis of the Activity (Description) :

Dr. Ashwini N.V - the founder- director of Muktha Foundation visited the Christ (Deemed to be University), Bannerghatta Road Campus on 17th April, 2023. Her organization - the Muktha foundation - is committed towards preventing interpersonal violence and promoting mental health.

Ms. Ashwini NV delivered an informative and thought provoking session on the very sensitive issues of gender-based discrimination and inter-personal violence. The guest lecture was inaugurated with some eye-opening examples from our daily routines. She pointed out a pyramidal structure of how any and all forms of violence stem from over-generalization of concepts where we assign gender-based traits or gender roles withing our society.

We were all very fortunate to have received some from the depth of her knowledge and the ability with which she converted some very complex ideas. She explained in comprehensive terms the meanings of sys-gender and trans-gender. Ms. Ashwini also shed some light on cases where an individual experiences a strong and persistent sense of discomfort or dissatisfaction with their assigned gender identity. This is a recognized medical condition called gender dysphoria and the available treatments involve either therapy or gender-change operations.

Ms. Ashwini raised the topics from a regular standard of domestic violence and instead discussed some issues that are rarely spoken-about. She picked up a critical discussion on concepts on self-incineration and homicidal burns. So homicidal burns essentially refer to burns that are intentionally inflicted on another person with the intent to harm or kill them. And Self-Incineration, on the contrast, is the act of intentionally setting oneself on fire, often as a form of protest.

Ms. Ashwini not only attempted to make the students aware of the seriousness of this issue but she also encouraged all to take action and develop necessary mindset and skills, should we wish to bring a change in the society we thrive in.
Ms. Ashwini left us with the following key tips for making our communities safer and more harmonous :-
1) Be like the Ant - be persistent and hard-working in promoting gender equality and challenging gender-based discrimination, without resorting to aggression or passive acquiescence
2) Be the Change - you stop emasculating others around you and you stop laughing at and forwarding gender-specific jokes
3) Speak up: When you see or hear someone engaging in gender-based discrimination

Detailed Report

In the workshop, participants were oriented on Equity. what equity is? How is it can be used in the class and most importantly why there is a need of it. The facilitator gave profound reason to implement equity in the classroom setting. It was also discussed that equity can help to maintain fairness among the students. With the help of the activity like, the privilege walk facilitator made all the participants understood about their current way of dealing and interacting with the students.

All the participants discussed about how they work or deal with situation if anything is coming up. On that, facilitator gave them insights what more can be added or modify for the better working of the classroom and keeping a fair ground for all the students who belongs from different diversities. Also, she mentioned about the appropriate vocabulary which can be used while doing interaction in the classes. All over the whole session was super engaging and full of amazing insights by the facilitator.

	Team Sangeet and a lecture from the chief guest. The chief guest's lecture was followed by a Q and A session • The teachers were honoured with personal testimonials from the students that were handed out to them during the session. • The event was emceed by Mr Sohail Sanjay Moideen and the guest speaker introduced by Ms Adithi J Mehta of the department.
Key Takeaways	• Through the event, the department was successfully able to honour and empower the female faculty. • The session by Dr Gaana Sreenivas provided fruitful insights and the faculty queries were address during the Q and A session. • The testimonials provided by the students highlighted the positive impact all the faculty has had on the students.
Summary of the Activity	Shakthi- The International women's day celebration was indeed one of its kind organised by the Department of Commerce. A personal invitation was sent to all the female faculty and more than 25 of the department attended the session. The session began with the emcee welcome and was followed by a soothing musical performance by team Sangeet, the official music club of the department. Post that performance, we had the guest session on Women's Hygiene and Wellbeing by Dr Gaana Sreenivas. A wonderful speaker and domain expert, Dr Gaana's session was refreshing one where the faculty had the opportunity to address their concerns and queries. After the session, testimonials collected from the students were handed out in the form of a printed card to each of the faculty present. This was a personalised letter to the respective faculty from students who have been taught by them. The event was

The highlight of the Activity	● Treatment of Trans Women by the Police. ● Representation of the trans community in mainstream media. ● The sexual liberation of the middle class. ● Culture of Cultism in India ● Pornographic industry in South India
Key Takeaways	● The film focuses on the middle-class and lower-class population's outlooks on gender and other intersectional topics like caste and sex work. ● Mostly The creators of these kinds of media are very vague/ confused about sex and gender and a person's sexuality, but the film's director is well-informed and executes the film. ● The viewership and audience of Kollywood media have improved the perception of the LGBTQ community to a large extent, and they are seen in a positive light. ● There is also misrepresentation because cishet males play all the Trans woman roles, and other roles are played by mainstream media actors, who are popular and well-paid but do not participate in conversations on gender in the public forum. ● Views of various religions are showcased in the film.

Summary of the activity	● The topic of this session is the screening and discussion of the film "Super Deluxe" from a queer studies perspective. ● Super Deluxe is a 2019 Tamil language film showcasing four plots intersecting on one fateful day. ● The presenters chose this series based on their project title, ' Queer Ecologies.' ● The film was screened for two sessions on the 27th of February and the 28th of February. ● Discussions were made in class about how nuanced the characters were portrayed in the film and how this film differs from other mainstream cinema. ● The film deals with the Tamil language terms and phrases that are coined to address the queer community. ● Mainstream films are often used as a tool for socialization and education. Finally, discussing mainstream films can lead to a deeper understanding of film as an art form. ● The director in the film displayed a conceptual framework for understanding the excess prevalence of the disorder in terms of minority stress—explaining that stigma, prejudice, and discrimination create a hostile and stressful social environment that causes mental health problems. ● Trans-parent redresses not only the invisibility of their struggle with these LGBTQ persons but also question heteronormative, linear understandings of life courses.
Follow-up plan, if any	The participants wrote film reviews and posted them on the Live Journal forum. There were also subsequent discussions that were held among the students of 4MAECS.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. PRAYAS 2023, an International Inter-Collegiate Management fest, the flagship event of the Department of Commerce organized by Christ University-Commerce Association (CUCA) provided participants with an immensely educational and networking opportunity over a period of three days. 2. The inauguration of the event was termed the rise of the Phoenix as it happened offline after 2 years and business enthusiasts from 12 colleges participated in contingent events and quizzers from 15 colleges challenged themselves and others in business quizzes. 3. The event witnessed the greatest trophy reveal which was followed by lightening the lamp along with a prayer song to bring a sense of peace, comfort and hope to the audience.

	Entertainment and cultural representation by Team Sangeet, Team Taal and Team Chuvadu and the Introductory video by the Department of Commerce's Media Team portrayed the inner essence of Prayas 2023. 4. The valedictory ceremony for the event was held on Thursday, March 2nd 2023 from 12:00 Noon to 1:00 PM, in the presence of all dignitaries and the entire CUCA team. The ceremony was attended by the Chief Guest, Mrs. Meenakshi Iyer, Managing Director of Standard Chartered. 5. Subsequently, the winners of Prayas 2023 were announced based on the total scores achieved by the participants. The contingent event, Pareekshana, was won by Team Wine Street from the School of Business and Management Association, (Christ University, Bangalore Central Campus) and the runners up were Team Fleet Street from Loyola College, Chennai. Additionally, Pravritti was won by Team Hotel Hustlers from Christ University, Lavasa Campus. 6. In the case of the Business Quiz event, Prashnottari, Team Trafalgar from the Department of Professional Studies secured the first position followed by Team Euston from the Economics, Mathematics, and Statistics Department (Christ University, Bangalore Central Campus). 7. Both the opening and valedictory ceremonies were graced by magnificent performances by Team Taal from the Department of Commerce. 8. Prayas 2023, as addressed as Rise of Phoenix aptly carry the message delivered by Dr Karthigai Prakasam C, Head, Department of Commerce, that failure is an important milestone of success and fests provide an opportunity to learn from the mistakes which classrooms lack in.

Key Takeaways	1. The events organized under Prayas 2023 served as an excellent platform for students all over the world to showcase their talents and skills in various fields. 2. The various rounds designed under Prayas gave the students an idea about how things worked in a practical dimension. 3. The competition rounds were mostly submission-based rounds, presentation rounds, and on-the-spot rounds that tested the participants' abilities and skills while also fostering their interpersonal, social, and societal capabilities. 4. The participants developed a comprehensive understanding of the difficult and complex corporate environment. They were prepared with the knowledge and experience needed to handle any problem with ease. 5. Participants undoubtedly gained knowledge of critical thinking, mental clarity, and confidence through this event. 6. Ultimately, Prayas 2023 leaves behind a competitive and driven environment. The participants were quite enthusiastic and enjoyed themselves.
Summary of the Activity	Inauguration Ceremony : PRAYAS: A word that demonstrates an effort and an attempt to achieve. The inaugural ceremony began by honouring guests and transpiring the trophy with a gigantic mix of suspense and surprise and the prize amount. Following the custom of Christ (Deemed to be University), the Lightening the Lamp ceremony by the core committee and dignitaries along with the mesmerizing prayer song by Team Sangeet. This was followed by the speech by Dr

	Karthigai Prakasam C, Head, Department of Commerce who focussed on the immense learning opportunities that these fests posed. He also emphasized the importance of critical thinking and failures which was also prioritized by Mr Sunil Logo, the chief guest of the event who addressed the gathering later. The focal point of his address was the development of leadership/behavioural skills and functional skills. Following this, Ms Rashmi Vikram, the Guest of honour presented on digital transformation which revolved around innovation and changes. This was followed by PRAYAS' introductory video by the CUCA Media Team that gave a glimpse of various committees that made the event successful and the pre-PRAYAS preparations. The end of the event was marked by a dance performance by Team Chuvadu, PRAYAS' introduction by the core committee and a band performance by Team Sangeet. At the end, a vote of thanks was delivered by the cultural coordinator, Mr Akash A. Many promotional events took place before PRAYAS, to spread awareness and make it much more prominent on campus. They were: Blood donation drive This was an essential and impactful initiative by the Department of Commerce to arrange a blood donation campaign. To spread awareness of the critical aspect of blood availability, which can help save lives, in many cases of bleeding disorders, and heart, liver and lung disorders too. 1 unit of blood donated would help to save 3 lives. This was done on the 23rd of February 2023 from 11 AM to 5 PM in the Audi block. Everyone from the campus was allowed to donate blood, provided they were healthy and they had to take certain check-ups to make sure their blood can be donated. It was executed smoothly with the help of the Rotary Neo,

	Bengaluru. Refreshments and Certificates were also provided to the students who took part in the drive. Monopoly The main theme of PRAYAS was based on Monopoly, there was an activity conducted related to this to further promote the event. This happened on the 22nd of February, 2023. A monopoly "playground" was set up with 5-6 Monopoly game boards. It was a place for enthusiastic students to play and have a good time. There was a playful, competitive yet friendly atmosphere. This was conducted with a time constraint and the winners were given goodies and also had their names put up on the leader board. Treasure Hunt To make it more interactive, the CUCA team also organized a treasure hunt for the students. This was done on the 14th of February, 2023. The clues were sent to all classes through a WhatsApp message. The first clue was "Climb away the climb that leads nowhere." An image of how the clue would look was also sent. Each clue had one letter of the word "PRAYAS". The second clue was an image of the scientific name of a Fig tree on campus. Thus, it was a test to know how well the students knew the campus. Carnival Street A Carnival Street was set up, this was the most impactful promotional event as it was in the middle of the campus and all students passing by saw the stalls. These stalls mainly consisted of the sponsors of the PRAYAS Fest. They were present on the 3 days of the event, that is the 28th of February, the 1st and 2nd of March. Around 20 stalls were set up. There were clothing companies, fashion, gaming and many more. Some of the companies included Lashika Skincare, IDare and Fastrack. Some stalls were even set up by the students to make it more entertaining by conducting games. Prayatna (Contingent Event): Chapter 1: 19th CENTURY Enthusiastic and excited participants from different colleges, across the country, divided into teams, started Day 1 of the flagship event of the Department of Commerce, Christ (Deemed to be University) – PRAYAS 2023. The round was based on the theme and situations prevalent in the 19th century, where the participants had to go back to the timeline and align their thinking and ideas accordingly. There were a total of 13 teams, and the participants of various teams had to plan and decide on which events the various teammates would go in for. This chapter consisted of 6 rounds testing participants' knowledge of different aspects of the business world. Participants' knowledge, critical thinking and problem-solving skills, imagination, and creativity were put to a test in these rounds. ROUND 1: DON'T GO CHASING NIAGARA The first round went back to the time when Alternate current was discovered by Nikola Tesla as against Edison's already discovered Direct current. Morgan, the protagonist of the case, was already in partnership with Edison. The round involved the participants wearing the shoes of Morgan's advisor and helping him overcome the burden of not having access to Nikola Tesla's alternating current technology, which was crucial for the Niagara Falls project. The participants were required to ideate strategies to gain Tesla's trust and build a partnership with him, launch a smear campaign against Westinghouse, provide a comprehensive production budget and pricing model for the first 5 years, and financials for the first 5 years once the plant is functional, draft employee protectionary policies and labor laws, and provide an employee payroll structure. In case collaboration with Tesla is not possible, the participants were to provide a backup plan. This was a presentation and submission-based round, which aimed to judge the participants on their problem-solving and critical thinking skills, along with putting their creativity to the test. The rounds were judged by Mr Jayesh Sharma and Mr Rohan Varghese. Round 1 started at noon in Room 911, Central Block. ROUND 2: CREDIT WORTHY? Round 2 involved a case of the Credit Mobilier Scandal of 1872, in which Union Pacific executives formed a shell company to act as the principal contractor for the construction of the transcontinental railroad. Credit Mobilier presented Union Pacific with inflated construction costs, which Union Pacific presented to Congress. By the end of the scheme, the railroad cost around $50 million, but Credit Mobilier billed Union Pacific around $94 million, with the rest going into the pockets of politicians, officials, and executives. Thomas Durant, VP of Union Pacific, has been named the prime accused. The participants as the defense attorney were required to build a case so that all charges were dropped and the accused were acquitted. It was a really interesting and engaging round where the participants had to present and fight for their case, the venue of Moot Court made this round more realistic. The Round started at 12:00 pm. ROUND 3: LEI DO RIO BRANCO In this round, the participants had to travel back to the time when the Brazilian slave trade was flourishing. The Grão Pará and Maranhão Company were one of the most flourishing Brazilian slave trade companies that operated through the acquisition, transportation, and sale of enslaved people, primarily in Africa and the Americas during the height of the transatlantic slave trade. Despite the brutal and inhumane conditions faced by the enslaved people, the other slave trade companies were able to generate significant profits and wield significant influence in the economies and politics of the time until the anti-slavery sentiments of agitation widely spread across the masses in the 1860s. The participant as Mr Sebastião José de Carvalho, the third generation to the founder of the Grão Pará and Maranhão Company in the year 1888, had to plan on assisting the remaining slave trade companies who are afraid of carrying out the slave trade in the fear of being prosecuted by the law. To make a comeback, the participants need to propose a detailed business plan comprising appropriate strategies and a plan of action to appease the situation, which includes convincing the slave trade owners to be a party to your plan, creating a plan of recruitment and networking channels for the supply of slaves, and methods and arrangements to carry out the plan. It was a presentation-based round. The round was judged by Mr Arjun and was conducted in the Council Room, Central Block starting from noon onwards. ROUND 4: STOLEN MUSE The round revolved around the theme of the smuggling of cuneiform tablets from Baghdad during the late 19th and early 20th centuries, which were labeled as 'Ancient Near East' artifacts in European and American museums. The Ottoman Law of 1884 aimed to protect archaeological material and establish national ownership over all artifacts within the Ottoman Empire, but it was difficult to enforce. Foreign archaeological missions continued to smuggle artifacts through neighboring countries. In this context, the participants as heads of the Department of Egyptian and Assyrian Antiquities of the British Museum had to plan to set up an internal supply chain to move the tablets from Iraq to Britain without detection by the Ottoman authorities. You also plan to establish a surrogate in Baghdad and develop a marketing campaign for your surrogate product. Additionally, you need to develop a manpower requirement plan for local and logistical operations, a crisis communication plan, and methods of transfer of funds between Baghdad and London for the movement of artifacts. It was a submission and presentation-based round which was judged by Mr Sarvesh Iyer. The round started at 12:30 P.M. in the Conference Hall, Central Block, ROUND 5: THE AMERICAN DREAM This round was in the background of the time of the rising of two business tycoons in America - Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller, who dominated their respective industries. Carnegie's success in the steel industry was threatened by Rockefeller's entry into the same business, prompting Rockefeller to build his own steel company to rival Carnegie's. The various factors of competitive rivalry, supplier power, and buyer power, which are key in the steel industry were to be analyzed by the participants before formulating a plan, being Rockefeller's Chief advisor. The participants were to successfully establish a new steel company, provide a detailed budget, supply chain planning, recruitment, and marketing strategies which would be required. An ambush marketing campaign was to be planned against Carnegie's company by emphasizing the unique features of the new company. The projected revenue for the next five years along with a break-even analysis to determine the profitability of the new company were some of the other deliverables. This round put the entrepreneurial mind of the participants to the test and was judged by Mr Hitesh Bhansali. It was a presentation and submission-based round which started at 2:45 P.M

Department of Commerce
Signer ID: PYOJEEZ610...

	ROUND 6: SINK OR SAIL This Round put participants to contribute to world economic history by putting plans to revive the loss-making Suez Canal project. Suez Canal – the engineering marvel of its time connecting the Mediterranean Sea to the Red Sea was opened in 1869 and had an immediate and dramatic impact on world trade, playing a significant role in increasing European penetration and colonization of Africa. However, following the financial crisis of 1875, the Suez Canal Company faced a sharp decrease in shipping traffic, a drop in revenue, and competition from other shipping routes, leading to bankruptcy. The British government became keen on taking control of the canal to ensure a secure key trade route and exert greater political influence over the region. The participants as top executives of the company had to formulate plans to revive the business without any political intervention. The participants had to devise strategies including working on financial restructuring, marketing strategies, public campaigns, employee satisfaction, risk management analysis, and operations analysis to help the company achieve its goals of ensuring stability to international investors, increasing shipping traffic through the canal, building public trust, improving working conditions for employees, and combating competition. It was a submission and presentation-based round which was judged by Mr Vinyas. ROUND 7: TERROR TRIO This round majorly focuses on the influence of money in politics and how the participants could devise ways or strategies to win this. It was in the background of a battle between the Democrats nominated William Jennings Bryan and the Republicans nominated William McKinley for the presidential election. McKinley's campaign had invented a new form of campaign financing by seeking the support of wealthy businessmen such as

Signer ID: PYOJEEZ610...

	Rockefeller and J.P. Morgan. Meanwhile, Bryan's campaign focused on equality for all and breaking down monopolies. In response, the wealthy trio of JP Morgan, Rockefeller, and Carnegie come together and donate a combined $60 million to McKinley's campaign, which was known as the "Terror Trio," and their actions raise concerns about the influence of money in politics. The participants, William Jennings Bryans, had to develop a new model for the presidential campaign, devise strategies to raise finances for their campaign, formulate new policies, and prepare a PR Statement to expose the wrongdoings. CHAPTER 2: 20th CENTURY Chapter 2 '20TH CENTURY' had a large number of participants who had completed the previous chapter in which they had to tackle various facets of the business world. This chapter was divided into 8 rounds, each focusing on a prominent 20th-century event. The contestants were given time constraints and they had time constraints and they had to overcome various obstacles and make rapid decisions. Round 1: BLOOD ON THE ROCKS Round 1 focused on the Coal Wars and the Ludlow Massacre between 1200 striking miners in Colorado and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company (CF&I). In the early 20th century many coal miners in Colorado went on strike several times to protest low wages, dangerous working conditions and the use of company-controlled unions. They were continuously met with violent resistance from the coal mining companies. On one such occasion, a group of striking miners and their families were attacked by CF&I's hired guards while camping at a tent colony. The guards set fire to the tents, killing around 21 people. The incident completely tarnished the company's reputation and they were met with widespread criticism. The round required participants to act as the CEO of CF&I and address the American government and the workers through a PR campaign, HR plan and marketing strategies to repair the company's ruined public image. Round 2: TWO MINUTES WITH VENUS, TWO YEARS WITH MERCURY This round focused on a relatively unknown problem of Colonial India. In Colonial India, the spread of venereal diseases such as syphilis and gonorrhea was high, particularly among the soldiers in the army. The average annual admission of British troops to hospitals for venereal infections was over 200 per 1000 and by 1895, this had reached a startling rate of over 500 per 1000. The common cure for STD syphilis was mercury. It had been a popular cure since the 1400s and ever since then, mercurial injections and pills have been widely used to combat syphilis. However, mercury causes several alarming side effects such as tooth loss, stomatitis, proteinuria, weight loss, gastroenteritis etc. Therefore, when Nobel Prize winner Paul Ehrlich developed Salvarsan, a less toxic cure for syphilis, it was met with high levels of excitement. The participants' role in this round consisted of playing the 'Devil's Advocate' by promoting the use of mercury pills and creams. Round 3: THE FALLEN KING In this round, the participants were given the difficult task of reviving a failed airline company and devising strategies for its survival. Pan An was the largest international airline in the US during the 1970s. IN 1970 alone, it carried 11 million passengers to 86 countries worldwide dubbing it “America’s unofficial flag carrier”. However, the following years saw the company facing tremendous problems including loss of monopoly due to the Airline Deregulation Act 1978, unstrategic purchases, rise in fuel prices and terrorism attacks. Therefore, by the early 1990s, Pan Am had completely vanished and was not even a shell of what it had once been. The teams' task at hand comprised creating a comprehensive turnaround strategy, a financial plan, an HR plan and a multi-phased branding plan to restore public faith in the company. Round 4: LACTUM (IN)TOLERANCE Round 4 revolved around the startling failure of Germany to develop Penicillin which was a major contributory factor in the defeat of Nazi Germany in World War 2. Penicillin, discovered by Alexander Fleming, was a miracle drug that saved the lives of thousands of Allied soldiers in WW2. It reduced deaths caused by Gangrene by approximately 50% and increased the longevity of the army. The Germans meanwhile did not have access to the miracle drug and frequently relied on sulfa drugs. Compared to penicillin, sulfa drugs were much less effective due to resistant strains developed through overuse. Furthermore, it was a commonly used drug that did not give the Germans any competitive advantage. While the rest of the world was researching the use of penicillin, German pharmaceutical firms did not take any action. As a result, they failed to develop penicillin. The participants’ task at hand for this round focused on creating a centralized medical body in Germany to propagate the research and use of this miracle drug. Round 5: A COSTLY SACRIFICE

Signer ID: PYOJEEZ610...

	This round was an on-spot round designed to test the participants' quick thinking, decision-making skills, and knowledge. In this, the teams had to take accountability for the failure of USS Grunion (SS-216), an American wartime submarine that killed 70 of its soldiers due to poorly designed torpedoes. The participants had to take on the role of the head of the Electric Boat Company and address the issue and the potential threat posed by other submarines during wartime to US officials. Round 6: NOT SO HIGH YIELD In this round, the participants were given the task of formulating a plan of action to service the bad debts. The round involved The Lincoln Savings and Loan Association which was a savings and loan institution that was founded in Irvine, California in 1963. During the mid-1980s, the institution was considered one of the fastest-growing savings and loan associations in the United States. In 1985, Lincoln Savings and Loan Association had become heavily invested in junk bonds, which were high-yield and high-risk bonds that were issued by companies with poor credit ratings. Despite warnings from regulators, Lincoln continued to invest heavily in junk bonds, which accounted for nearly 70% of its assets. The investments proved to be highly risky and many of the real estate projects failed, leading to significant losses for investors. Additionally, Lincoln Savings Was also engaging in several high-risk lending practices, such as making loans to developers and investors without adequate collateral or creditworthiness. The participants were tasked to formulate a 5-fold plan of action, a detailed budget and a marketing pitch. Round 7: G2G In this round, between 1948 and 1951, the United States undertook what many consider to be one of its more successful foreign policy initiatives and most effective foreign aid programs. In planning for the third year of Marshall Aid to Greece, the Greek Government and American planners continued their efforts towards the reduction of the budget and balance of payments deficits to facilitate reconstruction and enable the economy to function without foreign aid after the end of Marshall aid. On 25 July 1950 the new budget for the fiscal year 1950-51, was belatedly introduced by the Minister of Finance Kartalis because of the unsuccessful pressure exerted on him by the Greek General Staff. Another significant problem with the German market was the strong Nazi anti-tobacco campaigns. This was combined with intense competition from brands from America and Turkey. The participants were given the responsibility to restructure and rebrand. And deliver a ppt and two creatives. Round 8: ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE In this round, Packard Motors Limited was at the peak of its production and supply chain another company Studebaker was one of its biggest competitors. In 1954 Studebaker was facing a number of challenges that were threatening the company's long-term viability. One major issue is its declining sales. In the years following World War II, Studebaker struggled to keep up with other automakers in terms of innovation and design. Additionally, their manufacturing facilities were aging and becoming inefficient. The participants as the CEO of Studebaker were given the task to propose an alternative Synergy Model of Studebaker as a competing bid to the shareholders, propose methods to increase cash flow and a 5-fold plan of action to improve bottom-line growth and recover profitability. Chapter 3: 21st CENTURY Round 1: BAD BLOOD MONEY

	Round 1 revolved around Elizabeth Holmes, a Silicon Valley icon who founded Theranos, a company that claimed to have developed a revolutionary technology that could test for hundreds of diseases using just a few drops of blood. In 2015, the Wall Street Journal published a series of investigative articles that exposed the many problems with Theranos' technology and practices which eroded public trust in the healthcare system and raised concerns about the regulatory oversight of medical technology companies. The participants were asked to come up with strategies to justify the fraudulent activities undertaken by founder Elizabeth Holmes and her partner along with required financials and an appropriate PR Campaign. The deliverables included a PPT along with the required financials. Round 2: BLASTS FROM SPACE Round 2 was based on environmental degradation and natural resource depletion, leading scientists to search for new methods of resource extraction, such as fracking and asteroid mining. The South African National Space Agency (SANSA) came into being in December 2010, SANSA was created to promote the use of space and strengthen cooperation in space-related activities while fostering research in space science, advancing scientific engineering through developing human capital, and supporting industrial development in space technologies. The participants, as advisors to SANSA and the Government of South Africa, see the effects of mining on the environment and the future of asteroid mining. They were also supposed to devise a plan to venture into the industry of asteroid mining. The deliverables include a PPT, an Excel sheet to estimate the cost associated with every mission of asteroid mining along with a video and posters.

Round 3: BLINK AND YOU MISS

Round 3 is based on Blinkit, founded in 2018 by two entrepreneurs who saw an opportunity in the growing demand for online grocery shopping. The company relies heavily on gig workers who use their own vehicles to make deliveries. Despite promises of better working conditions, increased pay, and access to insurance coverage, the business model has been a source of tension between Blinkit and its workers. Employees have complained about poor working conditions, long working hours, and low pay.The recent withdrawal of petrol allowance due to the financial instability of the company has also led to several accidents, some of which have resulted in serious injuries and even death. The participants, as the CHRO of the company were expected to address the concerns of the employees who organized a protest against the company's management.

Round 4: DETHRONED

The Nord Stream pipeline is an underwater natural gas pipeline system that runs from Russia to Germany under the Baltic Sea. It was established in 2005 in partnership with Gazprom, a publicly traded Russian company producing enormous profits for shareholders. After the success of Nord Stream 1, Gazprom and five other European firms announced plans to build Nord Stream 2 in 2015, but the project was scrapped in 2022 after Germany's energy regulators suspended their approval for the project. Russia has lost its position as a prominent energy supplier, and Nord Stream AG is under pressure to meet the Russian government's expectations and retain its former partners. As the CEO of Nord Stream AG, the participants were supposed to come up with a detailed plan to initiate the repair of the pipeline Strategies to strengthen security measures to ensure that such an incident never occurs in the future. The deliverables include a PPT, necessary financials along with an appropriate Press Release Statement. Round 5: FIGHT OR FLIGHT This round is based on The Anglophone Crisis, a conflict that began in 2016 in the country's English-speaking regions, also known as the Southern Cameroons region. The round was designed to test the participants' quick thinking, decision-making skills and knowledge. Cameroon has declared Ambazonia to be a separate, independent nation. As Samuel Ikome Sako, the current president of the internationally unrecognized proto-state of the Federal Republic of Ambazonia, addressed the United Nations Security Council and the Ambazonian public, the participants were required to justify their position as the President of the country and address the international community, on the grounds of the allegations and opposition of Ayuk Tabe and also come up with strategies to reduce and subsequently erase the internal turmoil within the region. The deliverables included a PPT, an Excel file containing all the necessary financials and a map of the new nation. Round 6: HITTING "ROCK BOTTOM" This round revolved around Joshimath, a city in Uttarakhand that was formed due to a landslide, but rampant construction has caused the city to sink, with over 700 buildings now having dangerous cracks. The Tapovan-Vishnugad Hydro Electric Project initiated by NTPC has hallowed the area near Joshimath, and the vibrations and weight of military vehicles and tourists' and pilgrims' vehicles have posed a challenge to the city's carrying capacity. The State and Central governments are trying their best to protect NTPC, but the plan of action to deal with the crisis and to regain public confidence is unclear. As NTPC Officials, the participants were supposed to address the media regarding this issue. Round 7: HOWZZAT! This round revolved around the Afghanistan national cricket team which made its international debut in 2009 and was granted full member status by the International Cricket Council (ICC) in 2013. Cricket in war-torn Afghanistan became a source of national pride, but due to Taliban interventions, the ACB was unable to access funds due to trade restrictions and the Afghan cricket team went into exile due to oppressive Taliban rule and lack of funding from the ICC. As Mirwais Ashraf, the chairman of ACB, the participants were asked to come up with strategies to prevent any future conflicts in conducting matches and to restore the cricketing culture in Afghanistan. The deliverables included a PPT, a press release statement along with necessary financials. Round 8: IMPOSTER INGREDIENT Refresco is a multinational conglomerate that produces beverages, food items, snacks, and juices, with a focus on sustainability and ethical business practices. However, a shocking allegation of using fetal tissue was found as its chief ingredient. A research article,

Department of Commerce

	"Flesh and Food", published by Dr Bernard Thacher, revealed the use of HEK-293, a fetus cell, as a flavor enhancer.This led to widespread public concern and negative media coverage, and the company was involved in the commercial trade of fetuses with an illegal cartel. As the senior executive of Refresco, the participants were supposed to come up with steps to deal with the FDA regarding these allegations, along with a contingency plan. The deliverables included a video advertisement, PPT along with necessary financials. Round 9: NIKOLA'S DILEMMA The round was based on the Nikola Corporation, an American electric vehicle (EV) and hydrogen fuel cell company valued at over $20 billion in 2020. In September 2020, a report by the short-seller Hindenburg Research accused Nikola of making false claims about its technology, products, and partnerships. The scandal also led to an 85% drop in Nikola's stock price and the resignation of Milton as chairman. The Nikola scandal raised questions about the broader trend of "greenwashing" in the EV industry. The participants were expected to convince the SEC to allow Nikola to reorganize itself instead of liquidation and winding up and come up with strategies to regain the trust of the public. Round 10: THE RATE RACE The last round focused on LIBOR, which is calculated for 5 currencies and is available for seven periods. The apprehension with LIBOR stems from the fact that a select few banks have a significant influence on the reference rate which forms the base for all other financial instruments and contracts. To transition from LIBOR to another reference rate, the Federal Reserve formed the Alternative Reference Rate Committee (SOFR). SOFR is based on transactions in the treasury repurchase markets and is not an estimated rate. Financial institutions were asked to phase out LIBOR-based contracts by 2021. As an advisor to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), the participants were called upon to elucidate on the transition of the Indian financial system from LIBOR to SOFR. The deliverables included a PPT along with the required financials. PRASHNOTTARI (Business Quiz Event): Prashnottari is a business quiz event hosted by the Department of Commerce and is a part of PRAYAS. Prashnotarri has active participation from students throughout the country. Mr. Vinay Mudaliar was the quiz master and also judged the event. The quiz required participants' competitiveness and active participation. PRELIMS (DAY 1) On Day 1 of PRAYAS, there were 14 teams. All the teams went through 4 rounds of prelims without any elimination on day 1. All were pen and paper rounds. The business quiz organizing committee would show the question on slides and the reams would note down their answers on a sheet of paper and later submit it to the event heads. ROUND 1: DRY ROUND In this round, participants were given 20 seconds to answer each question. There were 30 questions in this round. Participants had to write their answers down on paper. Which would be later collected by the Subheads of the Business Quiz. 10 points would be rewarded for each correct answer. There was no negative marking for wrong answers. On participants' request, hints will be provided to them. Other participants can also object to the same.

Department of Commerce
Signer ID: PYOJEEZ610...

	If the organizers receive more than 2 objections, the subheads shall not share the hint with the participants. ROUND 2: DRY ROUND WITH NEGATIVES In this round, there were a total of 25 questions, and the rules remained the same as in round 1. But the twist was this round included a negative marking of 5 points for every wrong answer. It removed the idea of luck for participants. ROUND 3: STREAKS In this round, there were 20 questions. Participants had to answer 3 questions right to form a streak, Every streak would earn them 10 points. 10 points will be awarded for every right answer besides base points. There were no negative markings in this round. ROUND 4: WAGER ROUND In this round, the participants had to assign weights of +5 or +10 points. They will get the points added based on the weights they have allocated for their answers. For wrong answers, their points would be deducted by the same number of weights assigned by the teams. This round tests the participants' knowledge as well as risk analysis. There were a total of 20 questions and participants had to answer at least 10 questions. Otherwise, the team would be penalized. After counting all the points, 10 teams were shortlisted for DAY 2 - Semi Finals SEMI FINALS (DAY 2) Round 1 - DRY ROUND WITH NEGATIVES

Department of Commerce

	This round consisted of 20 questions. For every correct answer, the teams were awarded +10 points and - 5 for every wrong answer. If the team had partially answered the question right they were awarded +5 points. ROUND 2: FINITE BOUNCE & POUNCE This round consisted of 20 questions. For every correct answer, the team was awarded +20 points and + 10 points for every bounced question answered correctly. +20 for every correct pounce while - 10 for every incorrect pounce. No part points for pounce were awarded. Pounce is a questioning sequence that is more suited to elicit deep thinking. The participants were filled with enthusiasm as the semi-final was fiercely competitive. ROUND 3: OPEN POUNCE This round consisted of 20 questions, each similar to round 2. For every correct answer, the team would be awarded + 10 points and - 5 for every incorrect pounce. No part points were awarded. ROUND 4: AUCTION This round had 20 questions. Each team would be given a budget – of 4000. Each question would be assigned a base price. 50, 100 & 200 (prices according to the difficulty). The base price is only for bidding purposes. Each question would be worth 10, 20 & 30 points which would be fixed and would be awarded if answered correctly. A straight negative (-) 5 for an incorrect answer. The team would lose the bid amount irrespective of their answer being correct or wrong. Once a team wins a bid, they would lose the bid value from the budget and have to attempt the question.

Department of Commerce

There were two sub-rounds, namely -

The 1st set of 10 questions would be a normal auction round and the 2nd set of 10 questions would be a secret bidding round. Teams were asked to submit secret bids to the auctioneer. The team with the highest unique bid got the chance to answer.

FINALS

The Finals round was designed by the Quizmaster - Mr Vinay Mudaliar from MINDCOGS. Vinay Mudaliar is known for his high energy, high-quality content and his connection with students. The finals were fun-filled and gave a tough competition to all the participants. Mr Vinay Mudaliar also engaged the audience. It was the most interactive round of PRAYAS 2023. The live rounds were intensive and had all the participant's as well as the viewer's attention. After an intensive final round, first place was secured by (Team Trafalgar) Dhruv H Jain and Shreyas Satyajit from the Department of Professional Studies and Second place was secured by (Team Euston) Rahul Preman and Srikanth Rajkumar.

VALEDICTORY CEREMONY:

The valedictory ceremony took place on Thursday, March 2, 2023, and was held in person during the second and third-year students' CUCA activity hour. The occasion was kicked off with a refreshing greeting from the student emcees – Mr. Sohail Sanjay and Ms. Shreya Prem. Then, the following dignitaries took their places on the stage.

	Following some moving speeches by Dr. Karthigai Prakasam C and Dr. Fr Abraham Vettiyankal Mani, the chief guest delivered her address. Mrs. Meenakshi Iyer, Managing Director of Standard Chartered, highlighted the importance of exploring different avenues in college - be it, fests, clubs, or positions of responsibility. She was reminiscent of her student experience and spoke about how the greatest challenges in her academic life were the best growth and learning moments of her illustrious career. The students were thoroughly impressed by her motivating anecdotes, zeal, and corporate success. This was followed by a scintillating dance performance by Team Taal and the audience was thoroughly engaged! Then, on a closing note, members of the CUCA Core Committee delivered their final words of appreciation for the event. Subsequently, an insightful video engulfing 'PRAYAS 2023' highlights (made by the DOC media works for the team) was played. Finally, the winners of Pareekshana, Prashnottari, and Pravritti were declared by the student emcees and the awards were distributed to the winners by the dignitaries. Pareekshana: ➢ Winner: Team Wine Street from the School of Business and Management Association, (Christ University, Bangalore Central Campus). ➢ Runner Up: Team Fleet Street from Loyola College, Chennai. Pravritti:

Brief Summary:

PRAYAS inaugural ceremony and the entire 3-day event were organized by Christ University-Commerce Association (CUCA) from 28th February to 2nd March 2023. The inauguration gave insightful life lessons to various dignitaries and witnessed various dance and song performances. The introductory video by CUCA Media Works and PRAYAS' introduction by core committee members portrayed the hard work and struggle put forth by various committees to make the event successful. The ultimate essence of the event was to serve as a platform for students to think out of the box and come up with creative strategies and solutions rather than keeping themselves confined to measures in the textbook. The participants had the opportunity to learn key elements like critical thinking, money management, and problem-solving skills which are essential to survive in this modern corporate world. Three days with Three parts-

Written feedback and Suggestions:

The participants in general found the fest to be informative and value-adding in nature. The participants were satisfied with the rounds presented to them and was happy about the fact that the rounds were associated with real world problems which provided them with better exposure. The participants also appreciated the organizing committee for making sure that the technical difficulties were sorted quickly and effectively. They were also appreciated for the efficiency and time management of the entire organizing committee.

However, some of the participants had complaints regarding the repetitive and monotonous nature of the rounds. They raised the concern that most of the rounds were based on elaborate presentations with strict deadlines. They suggested that the fest would have been better if it had quality rounds that challenged the participants on multiple grounds.

Some of the participants also raised complaints regarding the non-availability of proper itinerary and information regarding the structure of events. Participants also suggested the conduct of event offline as it would provide them better opportunities to communicate with their peers from colleges around the country. One of the responses that was received is given below:

"It would have really helpful if you could have let us know the structure of the rounds before hand, like there would be 3 chapters with 5-6 rounds each. Also, I believe the experience would have more intense and realistic if the event was held offline (that to considering that it's the flagship event). Other than these things our experience was completely worth the while. Thank you all so much!!"

Response to feedback:

As a response to the feedback, the events in the future would be conducted in such a way that the participants are well informed about the structure of events so that they can prepare effectively. The organizing committee will also look into the quality of rounds to make sure that the fest would be much better in the coming year.

Title of the Presentation:	Lecture Presentation/Guest Talk on “Queer Subject in Hindi Cinema and Beyond”

Participants Profile:

Type of Participants:	2MAECS and 4MAECS
No. of participants:	14 in total (including the faculty)

Highlight of the Activity:	● Understanding and raising consciousness while discussing the rights of sexual minorities. The lecture specifically focused on Gay-lesbian activism on the grounds of the presumed naturalness of heterosexuality. ● Discussion on Foucault's work around the existing literature concerning the construction of Homosexuality while challenging the binaries of Heterosexuality and how the last three decades have witnessed a significant transformation in queer cultures ● Token representation of sexual minorities and popular cinema and its association with queer desires ● Understanding the family structure makes this cinematic genre available for queer viewing strategies with the influx of art films and LGBTQIA issues.
Key Takeaways:	● A full-fledged discussion on the politics of third gender/transgender communities; In 2009, The Delhi High Court dismissed the high court ruling vindicating the order of the Delhi high court in politics and law; Protests around 'Fire' was released in 1998, massive and violent protests from the Hindu Right Wing; Anthology of Lesbian Writings, facing the mirror, Yaarana by Hoshang Merchant. ● Introduction to movies that evoked protests and interpretative practices of queer readings in academic discourses, sometimes Queering Bollywood, Homoeroticism in movies. ● From the 90s onwards, the AIDS epidemic became prominent in the context of sexual health, and the aspect of public health has shed light on sexual health and gay men dealing with health crises, HIV and AIDS. ● Understanding what kind of agency the queer subject acquires through the process of representation, the politics of agency, how the camera is structured, to interpret the gaze. Mapping the shift, for a 'marginal subject'; the idea of being Indian and lesbian, 'the household will collapse'. ● Mehta's depiction of Ismat chugtai's short story Lihaaf, obscenity, a lonely wife, without any objection of film reviews of the film fire; the invisibility of lesbian subject is the result of the hegemonic heterosexual community. ● Adrienne Rich writes in her text, 'Compulsory Heterosexuality', Token allusions to lesbians, the pathologization of the lesbian subject, lesbian identity is a matter of choice, 'bad marriage, therefore, lesbianism is one entry point'. ● 'Third gender' in Hindi Cinema: token representation; Hijra and crossdresser concepts, culturally normalized, western and alien. ● Sadak 1991, Murder II released in 2004; Queer subjectivities have emerged from the Indian Diaspora; the privatization of the Indian economy, the expansion of Khush cultural networks, in 1991. This shift led to a form of new liberalism, deregulation of markets, increase in foreign direct statements. The khush groups were virtual and transnational communities in India, linking various minority sexual groups like ‘Sati’. Increase in the visibility of minority sex ● ‘Tehelka’, there is an endless list on popular drag performances, standard comedy clock devices, an unconventional gender representation who do not embody heterosexual masculine Summary of the activity:	● Testing the limits of public discourse, and treating non-normative sexualities became prominent. ● Circulation of foreign films across metropolitan centers, generation of queer film culture, discussion on an active gay movement, and human and civil rights of sexual minorities enabled queer cinema in India, increasing the scope of Gay and Lesbian queer desire in India. ● In the 90s, the publishing industry started booming. India’s first LGBTQIA publication arrived like a beacon of hope for a generation of gays and lesbians. ● Document to demand the decriminalization of homosexuality through section 377 IPC, conducted a public demonstration on conducting a public demonstration of organizing 1st international seminar; Hijras should be given an electoral standpoint; ● The proliferation of pride marches, people’s union for civil liberties, and acceptance of the 3rd gender as the ‘other binary. ● Amendment of income tax groups, and application forms for PAN cards, materialized after recognizing the mismatch between Aadhaar and PAN card, the core of contention, sexual preferences and practices, public morality of constitutional morality, and consensual same-sex between adults. ● Queer readings of mainstream cinema, understanding the lesbian subject in the song and dance sequences; New scholarly interest in marginal discourses was beginning to emerge. Heteropatriarchy, lesbian desire were encoded in the song and dance sequence under the Hindi cinema context; predominant themes of male bonding and dosti, representation of gay men, representation of the 3rd gender. Deepa Mehta's 'Fire' was a major contribution. ● Comic relief shunned in the form of a Hijra, Dramatic moments of revelation of sexuality, this facilitates the drag performance, not only negating the possibility of one identity, also negating the complexities.

Follow-up plan, if any:	The core of the argument: Biological essentialism, challenges the binariness of heterosexuality, while the same coincides with the idea of performativity, mannerisms, performative idea of gender and sexual identity, the materiality of the body may or may not coincide with the mannerisms of demeanor, gender identity cannot be the basis of sexual discrimination.

Detailed Report

The Gender Cell, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Delhi-NCR Campus organized a training workshop on Gender Sensitisation and POSH Act for the Workplace on 19th April 2023, from 01:30 - 04:00 PM. The workshop had a total of 2 resource persons and was attended by 51 participants from various departments of CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Delhi NCR. The idea of this training workshop was conceptualized by Dr Surekha C and executed by Dr Sanchita Srivastava taking into consideration the need and relevance of creating gender-sensitive behaviour in the workplace.

This training workshop was designed with the broad objective of raising awareness and educating participants on gender sensitivity and to provide them with the necessary tools to prevent and address sexual harassment in the workplace. The workshop was facilitated by experienced trainers (Dr Manasi Mishra and Adv Gayatri Sharma) who provided an interactive and engaging learning experience for the participants. The sessions covered topics such as the basics of gender, gender stereotypes, sexual harassment, and the legal framework around it. Additionally, participants were given practical exercises in the form of worksheets and case studies to enhance their understanding of the concepts and to help them develop the skills necessary to create a safe and inclusive work environment.

In the first segment of the workshop, Dr Manasi Mishra (Head of Research & Knowledge Management Division, Centre for Social Research) took the lead by conducting a pre-test activity that assessed the knowledge levels of the attendees regarding sexual harassment, gender roles and gender inequality. The results indicated that most attendees were of the opinion that sexual harassment may happen at home, members of the same gender sexually harass each other and that sexual harassment can be prevented. Followed by this, she highlighted the differences between gender and sex, gender roles, gendered division of labour and gender stereotypes. She enhanced her talk by showing videos related to the same and ended her talk by presenting recent data on gender representation in the country, which indicated the need for gender equality.

The second segment of the training workshop was led by Adv Gayatri Sharma (Lawyer and Programme Director, Women Power Connect) who drew our attention towards the Protection of Women from Sexual Harassment Act (2013) and its legal framework. She then provided elaborate information on sexual harassment, behaviour patterns that can be used to recognize it and its existence in the workplace. She concluded her session by throwing light upon the Internal Complaints Committee established in a workplace and its responsibilities to help an employee in cases of sexual harassment.

The feedback regarding this training session revealed that the videos, interactions, and discussions initiated by the resource persons were the most beneficial components; and the training session could be beneficial to students as well. Attendees reported that they have become more aware about gender sensitivity and the laws related sexual harassment in the workplace, after the training. Overall, the Gender Sensitization and POSH training workshop was successful in achieving its objectives and a valuable learning experience for all involved. The knowledge and skills gained from this workshop will help the institution create a safe and inclusive work environment for all employees.

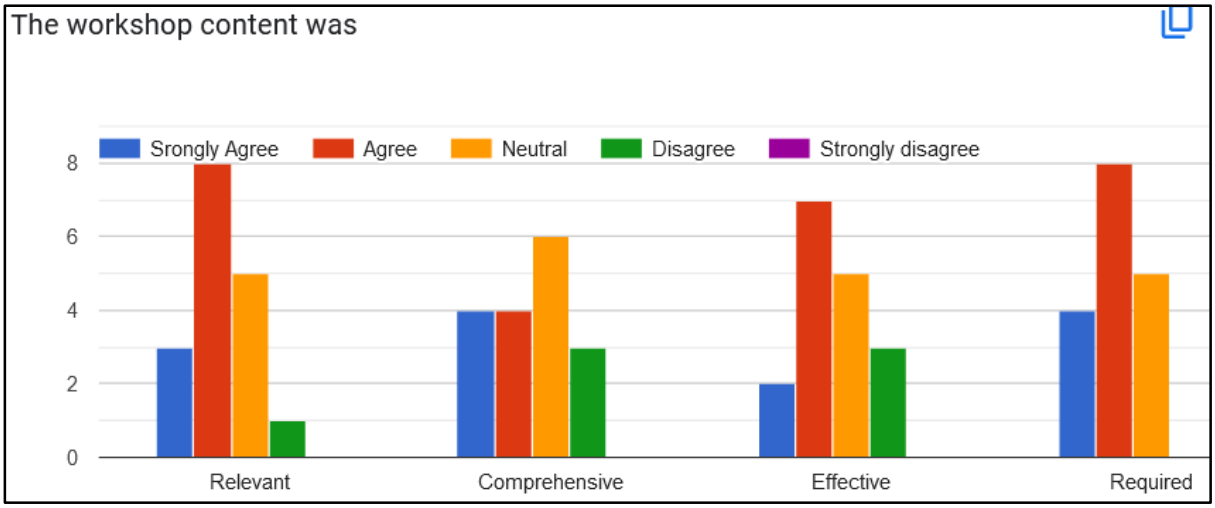
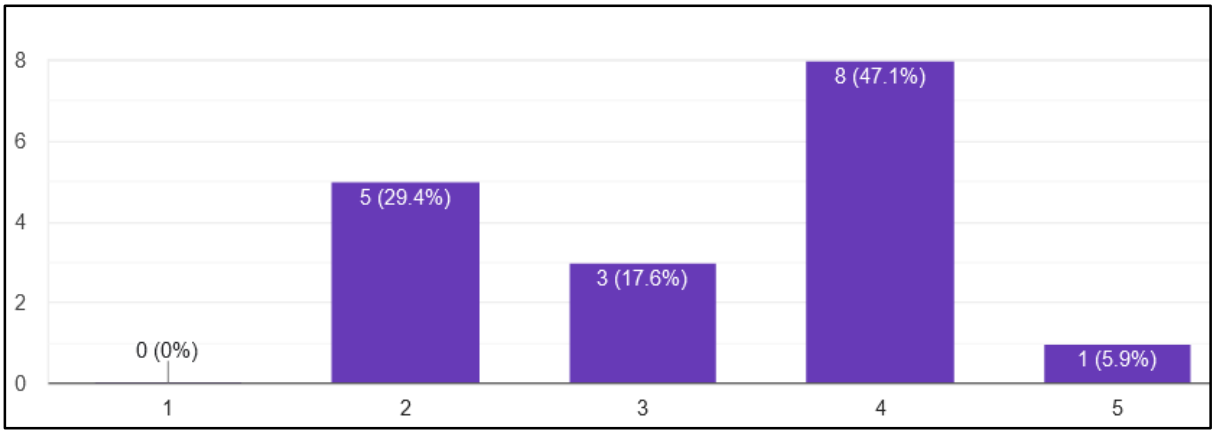
Feedback analysis

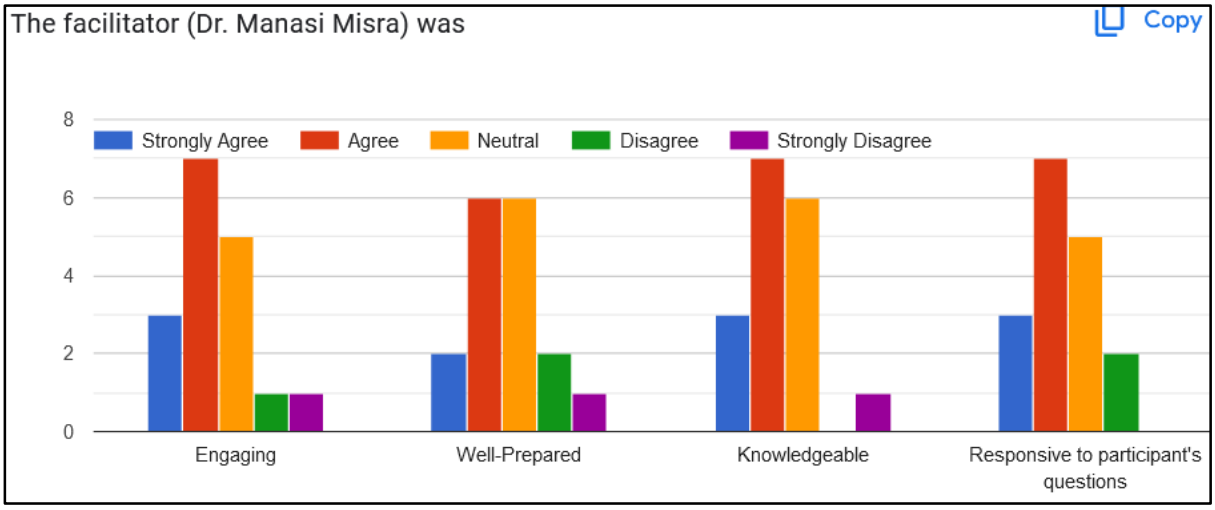
This training session was conducted for the faculties of School of Arts & Humanities and School of Social Sciences.



The training content was assessed on its relevancy, how comprehensive and effective it was, and how much required it was. The majority of the respondents found the content was relevant (65%), comprehensive (50%), and effective (53%). 71% of respondents found that the content was required.

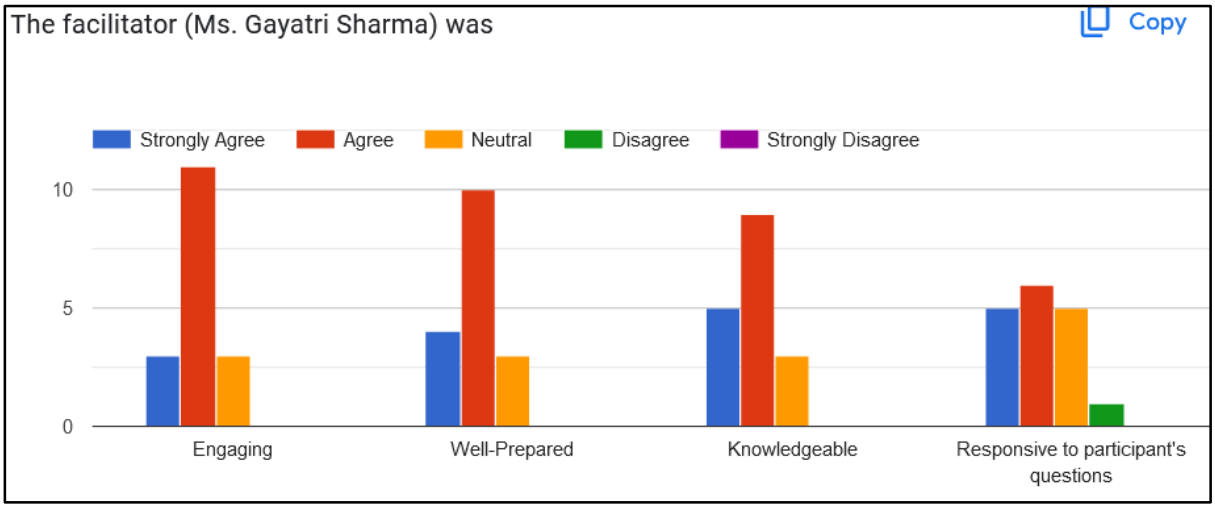


This graph represents the ease with which participants could understand the event. The scale ranged from 1-5, where 1 indicate least ease of understand and 5 depicts the most ease of understanding. 53% respondents reported ease of understanding.



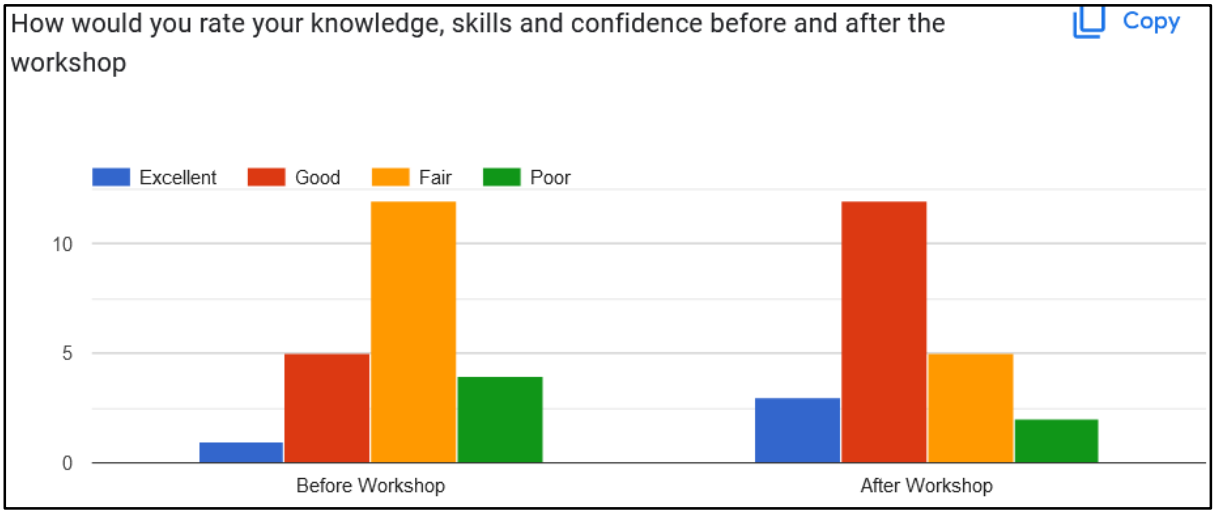
The resource persons' sessions were also assessed on the number of criteria, which were how engaging the resource persons were, whether they were well-prepared or not, and how knowledgeable they were. It was also measured that the resource persons were responding to the participants' questions.

Around 59% found that the first resource person (Dr Manasi) was very engaging, well-prepared, and responded to participants' questions.



82% of respondent found that second resource person (Ms Gayatri) was very engaging, well-prepared, knowledgeable and responded to the participants's questions.

Impact analysis



This graph represents knowledge, skills and confidence (KSC) about the topic ‘gender sensitisation & POSH training for the workplace’ before and after event. 53% respondents found that their KSC was good while 82% respondents showed it has enhanced after event. 53% respondents mentioned that their KSC was good before the event but this number increased after the event and it was 29%.

Respondents also found that the event was required and it was the space where everyone came together, discussed the gender issues and it encouraged everyone to engage in the discussion. They found that this event gave them opportunity to learn more how they can deal with gender issues.

Report:

On 13th January 2023, Christites Association of Sciences and Humanities (CASH) organised an invited talk on “Gender Equity and Gender Sensitisation”. The event was coordinated by Dr. Nisha Mary Thomas, Associate Professor, Department of Sciences and Humanities and supervised by Dr. Benson K Money, CASH Coordinator, Assistant Professor, Department of Sciences and Humanities. The distinguished guest for the event, Ms. Nandini Sanjeev is the Former Associate Vice President, Wipro Ltd. Ma’am has also worked as Director of Operations at Fidelity Business Services, Strategy Operations Consultant at BFSI consultant, as Principal Consultant at Tata Consultancy Services and many more. Currently, she is supporting an NGO with the objective of empowering orphans and grooming them to become responsible citizens of tomorrow.

The session provided insight into how gender is socially constructed and the stereotypes around gender roles. Ma’am also highlighted the importance of gender sensitization and emphasized the need for creating a more inclusive and equitable society. The speaker also shared statistics on the discrimination faced by women in India, and the importance of women's empowerment. She emphasized that it is crucial for society to shift towards a more gender-neutral and inclusive mindset, to create a more equitable and just society for all. She also shared several real-life examples of how women have been discriminated against in various fields and how they have overcome these obstacles through determination and hard work.

The attendees were left with a better understanding of the importance of gender neutrality and gender sensitization. The event was a great opportunity for the students from the department of Sciences and Humanities to learn and reflect on the issue, and to make a commitment to work towards a more inclusive and equitable society. Overall, the event was a success and helped to raise awareness.

Feminism and Gender Equality

SDG 5: Gender Equality

CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bangalore
Special Group Discussion

General Information

Type of Activity	Group Discussion on Women's Day
Title of the Activity	Feminism and Gender Equality
Date/s	8th March, 2023
Time	11:00 AM to 12:00 PM
Venue	1JPE classroom (room number 001)

Participants profile

Type of Participants	UG students and faculty
No. of Participants	65

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	The discussion explored themes like feminism, pseudo-feminism, gender-based pay gap, gender roles and their reversal as well as meaning of womanhood in 2023
Key Takeaways	• The sex assigned at birth does not define womanhood. Gender identity should be taken seriously. • Every individual should be given a choice to have or not a career that helps earn bread and butter. • Being a housewife does not mean that a woman has no job. Her housework goes unpaid and unnoticed. Men can choose to not have a financial career as well.
Summary of the Activity	A group discussion on the topic 'Feminism and Gender Equality' by the students of 1st year JPE, took place in CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Central Campus, on 8th March 2023 in the presence of Dr. Suparna Naresh (faculty, Department of Media Studies). The discussion was moderated by Aryan Bhatt and Snehal Srivastava, and took place amid first year UG students of the Department of Media Studies.

About Seminar

The School of Commerce Finance and Accountancy organized a seminar on establishing a gender inclusive environment on March 31, 2023. The keynote speaker was a transgender woman who shared her own personal experience and hardships being a transgender woman. To make her feel more welcome and honored Miss.Joshi was felicitated by a sapling by DR.Yashmita awasthi school of commerce finance and accountancy .

The speaker introduced herself and gave some background information about her beginnings in life. She described how she had been aware of her gender identification since a young age but had found it difficult to accept because of social and cultural expectations. She discussed the challenges she encountered in finding her own voice and how she was forced to adhere to the gender norms of her assigned sex at birth.

The speaker also highlighted the many difficulties transgender women encounter in society, such as stigma, abuse, and harassment and how they are stereotyped into jobs such as sex work , clapping and begging on signals. She discussed the frequent verbal and physical assault that transgender women experience, which can cause serious emotional trauma and psychological discomfort. She also spoke on how the transgender community has barriers to healthcare, education, and work possibilities, making it challenging to lead a regular life.

The speaker underlined the need for societal transformation in order to create an atmosphere that is more welcoming and inclusive of the transgender population. She said that changing perceptions about the transgender population may be accomplished in large part through education and awareness campaigns. She also emphasized the significance of establishing safe places where not only transgender people and the whole LGBTQ+ community may express themselves without fear of discrimination, violence or any judgment .

Miss. Joshi also presented a documentary showcasing other transgenders people in the community which was shot in 2015 which showcased that there is so much beyond gender . The documentary highlighted Miss. Padmini Prakash who was only 13 when she was thrown from her house and today she is a successful news anchor on Lotus TV.

The seminar ended with a question and answer session followed by a short panel discussion. The audience had the chance to ask their questions to the speaker and she showed great interest in clarifying the questions .

In conclusion, the seminar showcased the hardships and struggles of transgender women in the society . It was an eye-opening and thought-provoking experience. The keynote speaker's personal experiences and challenges provided a firsthand account of the difficulties that transgender individuals face daily. The seminar highlighted the importance of empathy and acceptance towards the transgender community and emphasized the need for societal change to create a more inclusive environment.

Highlight of the Activity	● Engaged with the significance of research. ● Poetry analysis of a piece from Sandra Cisneros' 'The House on Mango Street' (1984). ● Discussed forms of prejudice and intersectionality. ● Looked at Indian mythological elements of queerness. ● Engaged with statistics relating to gender and discrimination. ● Looked at Activism and empowerment organisations.
Key Takeaways	● Study into marginalisations, especially from the literature sphere is integral for better understanding of marginalisation. ● Various areas of study and their merits are understood. ● Problems arise when areas of study are over-researched or the research is "helicopter research" -purely descriptive. ● Multiple different forms of prejudice exist leading to intersectional discrimination. ● An interdisciplinary approach is needed for the proper understanding in this field. ● There are numerous mythological elements that correspond to marginalised identities. ● Contemporary marginalised identities were afforded different social areas in the past.

	• Colonial powers engaged in further marginalisation that has carried on to this day. • Casteism plays a role in the marginalisation of trans individuals.
Summary of the activity	• Engaged with the significance of research -scientific research from a literary field. • Poetry analysis of a piece from Sandra Cisneros' 'The House on Mango Street' (1984) -understanding the feeling of rootlessness and unbelonging. • Discussed forms of prejudice and intersectionality -POC. LGBTQ+, Religious minorities, Immigrants and refugees, Women and girls, Disability aligned marginalisation, Indigenous peoples, Homeless and low income populations, People living with HIV/AIDS, Elderly populations. • Engaged with colonial and pre colonial forms of marginalisation. • Engaged with examples of colonial era marginalisations -regarding 'hijra' people being custodians of prophets' tomb (kaaba). • Ground work with trans individuals revealing an urge for social mobility. • Studied the Criminal Tribes Act and its results for the marginalised communities. • Looked at intersectional areas such as casteism further marginalising trans individuals. • Looked at Indian mythological elements of queerness and examples. • Engaged with statistics relating to gender and discrimination. • Looked at Activism and empowerment organisations -Kinnar Maa Trust (Mumbai), Hijra Habba (Bangalore), etc.
Follow-up plan, if any	Due to time constraints, questions and comments from the audience would be collected later in the day and sent to the speaker for clarification.

Title of Presentation	Exploring VISIBLE/INVISIBLE through the lens of gender and intersectionality.

Participants profile

Type of Participants	4MAECS and 6ENGH
No. of Participants	46

Highlight of the Activity	● Exhibition: VISIBLE/INVISIBLE- explored the visual representation of gender and performativity through art and photographs. ● Exhibition: MINDSCAPES- discussed spaces in which spoken languages can take the shape of thoughts, actions and gestures. ● Exhibition: TIME AND TIME AGAIN- explored the display of Jyoti Bhatt's photographic works.
Key Takeaways	● Art transcends cultural and societal boundaries, bringing people from diverse backgrounds together in shared appreciation. ● The exhibition at the Museum of Art and Photography focuses on central themes such as sacrifice, nourishment, aggression, abandonment, desire, success, struggle, and power dynamics in the context of women's stories. ● The exhibition raises questions about absence in queer perspectives and challenges traditional notions of visibility and invisibility in the representation of queer identities. ● The portrayal of fluid identity and ambiguous interpretations in the exhibition prompts students to confront the tension of being visible yet invisible, which queer identities often experience in their everyday lives.
Summary of the activity	● The day started at 9:30 am with 46

	students assembling at the main audi block for a visit to the Museum of Art and Photography. ● The students were divided into two teams led by Assistant curators of the exhibitions, Ms Vaishnavi and Mr Arzaan. ● The walkthrough started with the exhibition "VISIBLE/INVISIBLE" featuring approximately 130 artworks ranging from the tenth century to contemporary, including sculptures, textiles, posters, paintings, and photographs by diverse artists and makers. ● "VISIBLE/INVISIBLE" is divided into four key sections based on narratives and counter-narratives: Goddess and Mortal, Sexuality and Desire, Power and Violence, and Struggle and Resistance, exploring women's portrayal, spaces, and challenges in the Indian subcontinent. ● The second exhibition, "MINDSCAPES," focuses on Antony's work, raising questions about identity, play, rest, and the location of the self, showcasing jointly produced works between Antony and women in Lingarajapuram and Namma Katte. ● The third exhibition, "TIME AND TIME AGAIN," features Bhatt's work challenging labels and boundaries in artforms, including studies of rural and folk art forms and communities, and experimental photographs. ● The visit concluded with a group photograph for documentation, and the students returned to the campus by 2:30 PM.
Follow-up plan, if any	The students engaged in subsequent discussions while navigating the museum space with a focus on inclusivity and intersectionality.

	The students will be sharing their experiences in the LIVE JOURNAL.

Highlight of the Activity	● History and origins of the BL Genre ● Representation of the trans community in mainstream media ● Discussion of the disparity between acceptance of the LGBTQ community on screen vs real life. ● Thai laws around trans lives ● Questions of sexual assault directed towards male-presenting people
Key Takeaways	● BL is a genre primarily created by straight cis women for a similar audience, about male characters- the feminist aspect in this media ● Though South East Asian countries are one of the largest producers and consumers of BL media, their laws are are often discriminatory or don't help the people of the LGBTQ community ● In Thailand, homosexuality was considered a mental illness until 2002, and the Gender Equaltiy Law was only passed in 2015. ● The creators of this media are very vague/ confused about sex and gender, and a person's sexuality. ● But thankfully the viewership and audience of BL media has improved the perception of the LGBTQ community to a large extent, and they are seen in a positive light. ● But there is also misrepresentation happening, because most often BL roles are played by cis-het males, and they usually don't talk about topics like their own sexuality or coming out of the closet. ● Religion does not always have to be intolerant of the Trans community, most of the religions teach acceptance of all kinds of people

Summary of the activity	● The topic of this session is the screening and discussion of the Thai series 'Grey Rainbow' from a queer studies perspective. ● Grey Rainbow is a 2016 series consisting of four episodes that follow the story of two friends, Nuer and Porsche, and their transition from friends to lovers. ● The presenters chose this series based on their project title, ' Queer Ecologies'. ● One episode was screened to an audience of 75 participants. ● Discussions were raised based on homosexuality, same-sex marriage, sexual assault, trans rights, family acceptance, the concept of space within the LGBTQ community, and queering nature. ● Though the discussion was around the film and Thai culture, participants were encouraged to make individual observations and speak their opinions about the topic as not just constricting to Thai culture but also about the worldwide opinion on LGBTQ rights. ● The activity also touched upon words that are lost in translation when it comes to streaming films of languages other than English. ● The discussion also brought forward observation of words that were once used, but now changed to be more inclusive to the queer community. ● The introduction for the activity conducted was to familiarise the audience, most of whom are not aware of the Thai BL genre, with the history of how Thai BL dramas started and became popular, and also about the socio-political climate of Thailand and their semi-acceptance towards this genre. ● Many dramas talk about homosexuality, same-sex marriage, transgender lives etc, within Thai culture, but how much of it is genuine belief to influence its audience to be more accepting, or to be a tool of commercialization with its marketing towards cis; mostly female readers. ● The introduction talks about the pros and cons of Thai BL dramas, while also touching upon the main topic of highlighting the queer community of Thailand and the problems they go through, using films and series.

Follow-up plan, if any	The rest of the episodes would be screened for the class of Queer Ecologies (4MAECS) from Monday (12th Feb onwards) due to time constraints

About Workshop

The Service Learning Project was organised as the Insurance workshop on Financial Inclusion for Women Empowerment whose foremost aim was to provide assistance for various governmental Insurance schemes and this was done in collaboration with Centre for Social Action (CSA). This workshop was held at Seminar Hall, 3rd Floor, A Block , Christ University , Delhi NCR. The meeting started at 11:00 am where ladies from Nayi Basti around 25 and the housekeeping staff of the university (37) came . SBI agent Mr. Manish Kumar came and briefed all of us about the importance ,advantages of Insurance and various schemes of the government in order to uplift and help the weaker section of society.

They told about the Pradham Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Beema which has a premium of Rs. 20/- and gives Rs.2 Lakh.They can claim this amount in case of any injury they might face.

Pradhan Mantri Suksha Beema : which has a premium of Rs.432/- yearly and can get an amount of Rs. 2 Lakh .They can transfer this Beema to their nominee.

Atal Pension Yojana: one has to pay a premium for a certain period of time as per their age .They have to pay Rs.150/- on yearly basis.They get pension after the age of 60 of Rs.1000 - 2000. Their pension can be transferred to their nominee as well.

Life Insurance : They have different premium and schemes .For eg. on paying a premium of Rs.1 Lakh and they get an insurance of 3,00,000 - 3,50,000. The amount of premium depends on their age i.e lower the age ,lower will be the premium and vice versa.

After this the data was collected about the ladies i.e whether their account was opened in SBI or not if yes then their Insurance was done

Feedback of the Workshop:

The workshop consisted of various challenges related to the collection of data as many of them didn't know whether their bank account is open or not and if yes the in which bank . Also some of them only have all the documents like both Adhar card and Pan Card . But overall this workshop was a great learning experience for all as all of us came to know about the ground reality.Overall feedback of People about the workshop was favourable.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. The discussion began with a joyful celebration of begin a woman and a brief welcome by the Head of the Mathematics Department - Dr Mayamma Joseph. 2. The discussion then began in an orderly fashion, moderated by the host. 3. Each of the panellists had ample time to put their thoughts across and there were very insightful discussions that concluded the entire event on a positive note

Key Takeaways	1. Students got a better insight on what the real world was like with stark differences against women through personal examples of the panellists who offered a variety of perspectives 2. There were very curious questions from the audience that received a wonderful response from the panellists and there was an overwhelming sense of positivity
Summary of the Activity	The discussion was very interactive on the dais and the time was just right. The concluding remarks exceeded the time limit by 10 minutes and therefore only 3 questions from the audience were entertained in full. The event was finally concluded on a grateful note with the Vote of Thanks by Shaine Susan Mathews – a final year student from EMS. Overall, the event was a massive success for a panel discussion and will be first of many according to the department.
Follow-up plan	A new roster of guests will be made and conscious interaction with them will be maintained. Ease in the planning of future events by planning well ahead of time.

Do include more time for audience discussion. A panel is only a panel if they can defend questions posed by an audience.

I feel that these sessions should cover a wider variety of topics in the same format

It was excellent.

I want to recommend a panel discussion about Economics and how it will affect the nation in the next ten years, which will be relevant to the current scenario rather than pumping so-called feminism into the mathematical minds.

My suggestion is to always have a moderator like Trisha so that the audience and the panel both are beautifully managed and synchronized

We like to have more panel discussion like this.

We'll organised talk

Nice work

The session was informative

The discussion was thought provoking.

The views of the panel members could have been less biased, as to the comments they made pertaining to one particular culture. Few instances picked (from scriptures) as references or examples were quite controversial.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	• The event was organized to encourage women's participation in the tech industry and provide opportunities for networking, skill development, and mentoring.

	• Women Techies events are important because women are underrepresented in the tech industry. • Women face challenges such as gender bias, a lack of role models, and a lack of networking opportunities when pursuing careers in tech. By creating events that specifically target women in tech, organizers can help women overcome these challenges and advance in their careers.
Key Takeaways	Mrs. Godha Narayana spoke about her life journey, her experience in the US. Regarding open source technology. The implementation of 2D in 3D. The VR and unreal technology used in 3 D imaging. The importance of diversity and inclusion in the technology industry, and the need to create a more welcoming and supportive environment for women and other underrepresented groups. The need for greater transparency and accountability in hiring and promotion practices in the tech industry, as well as efforts to address issues of gender bias and discrimination.
Summary of the Activity	Women in tech is a growing movement to increase the representation of women in the technology industry, which has traditionally been male-dominated. There is a recognition of the importance of diversity and inclusion in the tech industry to promote innovation and drive economic growth. Efforts are also being made to address issues of gender bias and discrimination within the tech industry, such as greater transparency and accountability in hiring and promotion practices. Question and answer session conducted where the faculty as well as students asked a few questions related to industry and how to face everyday challenges with a positive attitude.

Follow-up plan	Continued efforts to increase the representation of women in the tech industry, including promoting diversity and inclusion, addressing gender bias and discrimination, and creating opportunities for women to enter and advance in the field. Developing mentorship and networking programs, advocacy groups, and diversity and inclusion initiatives to support women in the tech industry. Encouraging companies and organizations to commit to greater transparency and accountability in their hiring and promotion practices to create a more welcoming and supportive environment for women in tech.

Introduction

Self-help groups are informal groups of people who come together to address their everyday problems. While self-help might imply a focus on the individual, a critical characteristic of self-help groups is the idea of mutual support – people helping each other. Self-help groups can serve many purposes depending on the situation and the need. For example, self-help groups have been used in the development sector as an effective strategy for poverty alleviation, human development, and social empowerment.

Objectives

To build the functional capacity of the poor and the marginalized in employment and income-generating activities.

To resolve conflicts through collective leadership and mutual discussion.

Social issues faced by the SHG Women

- Lack of social mobility because of restrictions in the family

  SHG women will not have proper social mobility. They will not be able to move quickly from one place to another as they will have too many rules and restrictions in their respective families.

- Conflicts among the group members in decision making

  Conflicts are a common occurrence in any group. Every woman in the group will have their ideas and viewpoints on different things. One woman might conflict with the perspective of the other woman. This will affect the decision-making as a whole.

- Lack of leadership

  SHGs help develop the internal behavior of members in terms of creating assets on a personal level but fail to take a leadership role in mobilizing group behavior in the community and developmental issues.

- Lack of non-communication skills

  SHGs belong to a particular region, and it will become an issue for women to communicate in languages other than their mother tongue. Language barrier will be the main issue. This was something that I faced during my training. I was unable to communicate with them because I didn't know Kannada.

- Non-co-operation from groups

  Many situations will arise where the group members don't coordinate with each other to do a specific thing successfully or effectively. This might lead to conflicts between the women in the group.

Ethical issues faced by women while running businesses.

- Economic Problems

  Money is a significant factor for any entrepreneur to run a business. Although no company is started with sufficient capital, a reliable and viable source of credit is lacking. They might find it challenging to arrange a means of a considerable amount.

- Competition

  Tough competition from a similar group of people is a significant factor. There is a high chance of women starting the same or similar kinds of businesses in and around the area they live in.

- Discrimination

  Any discrimination within the group might arise, which cannot be accepted.

- Health and Safety

  Health and safety are two main vital things for them. The working conditions should be favorable to work. When it comes to health and safety, it doesn't only mean physical wounds or work-related diseases. It can also be work-related stress and mental health concerns.

- Unrealistic and conflicting goals

  As all of them will have different understandings of different topics, their goals of them as a group will start conflicting. How they reach a particular purpose they set as a group might raise an ethical issue.

Compare ethical practices in SHG Cooperative Society and different companies in the same industry (milk products/garments).

Ethical practices in SHG Co-operative society	Ethical practices in a company of the same industry (Company – Outland denim)
• Helping each other when in a problem.	• All the company employees will always be ready to help each other, professionally or personally.

• All the materials used will be naturally processed or will be handmade.	• They can trace their entire denim supply chain from seed to garment; they know how many farms and people are involved in producing their cotton to the wages of the workers who sew their sustainable garments.
• The products/garments should be made sustainably and responsibly.	• All the products made are produced sustainably.
• As the products/garments are naturally produced, they won't harm the environment.	• It is also an environmentally friendly company.

Analyze how social issues are affecting various stakeholders of the SHG Cooperatives

Different organizations have promoted or supported SHGs from different perspectives and agendas. The outlook of SHGs largely depends on how the promoters see them in the long run, whether they were intended to be temporary or permanent organizations. Looking across the prevalent perspectives on SHGs, it could be said that they are loaded with a wide range of expectations from different stakeholders.

The activities of a business will affect all stakeholders, but some might be more affected than others.

- The stakeholders also might face all the social issues mentioned above, like the inability to communicate appropriately. Miscommunication will lead to so many problems among the SHG.
- lack of leadership skills – as they would want the business to run correctly, they will fail due to lack of leadership skills.
- Conflicts among the group can cause massive damage to the stakeholders.

Evaluate ethical perspectives of business actions. What are the initiatives or actions taken by the SHG Women?

Business ethics/ethical perspectives of business refer to implementing appropriate business policies and practices about arguably controversial subjects. Some issues in a discussion of ethics include corporate governance, insider trading, bribery, discrimination, social responsibility, and fiduciary responsibilities.

The idea is to:

- help them to organize themselves,
- assist them financially,
- provide them with work, and
- help them in other matters, including domestic issues.
- Creates social integrity and gender equity
- It is a voice for the marginalized section
- Provides financial inclusion
- Banking literacy

The government and its policies help such groups.

Propose initiatives at the individual (ISR) and organizational level (CSR) to address social issues of the SHG women.

ISR - Individual Social Responsibility (ISR) is a moral belief in which we, as individuals, have a responsibility toward society. Being "socially responsible" is about all individuals behaving ethically and sensitively towards social, economic, and environmental issues.

ISR initiatives:

- An individual should explain the benefits of the SHGs to everyone.
- Help initiate them in the first few meetings of the SHGs
- Encourage the group and its leader
- Provide innovative ideas and solve the problems of SHGs
- Resolve the issues between them
- Shape their communication skills

CSR - Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is the idea that a company should play a positive role in the community and consider the environmental and social impact of business decisions.

- A company taking care of a particular SHG would benefit them greatly.
- Financial-based companies can teach women about financial inclusion, which will help them improve their business. Just like the SHG women who stayed in our college for two days, a company can take charge of it and start doing it regularly.
- Toto avoid mismanagement of funds, companies can come up with excellent and easy strategies to make them understand, and the companies should be able to execute the same.
- They can also provide security to the members of the SHG group by maintaining track of their savings. They run based on the trust between the members. Hence, the savings made by them may not be safe.

Conclusion

It is worth mentioning here that SHGs emerge as an essential strategy for empowering women & masses and alleviating poverty. They are an effective strategy for poverty alleviation, women's development, and social empowerment. The women SHGs have enhanced the status of women as participant decision makers and beneficiaries in the democratic, economic, social, and cultural spheres of life and sensitized the women members to take an active part in the socio-economic progress of rural India.

Highlights of the Activity	1. The SHG women gained exposure and enhanced their skills for the future. 2. The volunteers and faculty had an opportunity to impart their skills and knowledge to the women.
Key Takeaways	1. How can the self-help group women set up their own business using machinery such as that in Dairy Day. 2. How exposure to different industrial processes and equipment can inculcate the feeling of belongingness to the women. 3. How the student and faculty of Christ university can be involved in the upliftment of the women. 4. Taking the first step towards the development and growth of sustainable solutions to the challenges faced by the self-help group women.
Summary of the Activity	The first day began with the arrival of the self-help group women following which the volunteers and faculty took them to an industrial visit at Dairy Day to view the different equipment, storage facilities, processes and raw materials used. The visit was a unique experience for the women and few of them asked questions regarding the number of women they have employed at the company etc. As the day went on the women had a hearty lunch followed by an interaction with the CSA director, Mr Victor Paul. The second day entailed a plethora of knowledgeable sessions which helped increase the theoretical knowledge of the women. The first session on financial literacy taken by Dr Surekha included discussions related to budgeting and personal finance, loans from banks, government schemes and subsidies etc. This was followed by a session by the hotel management students where they explained the processes of making milk products which was accompanies with networking and group discussions. The day continued with a session by Goonj, a non-government organization undertaking community development projects across India. This session posed a viable business opportunity for the women in the form of cloth pad stitching, bags and pillows stitching etc. Ms Akansha from Goonj displayed the different sustainable products made by goonj and described the processes for creating the same. To conclude the events for the day a session on meditation and mindfulness was conducted by Prof. Bhavna. The women were asked to think about the people they value most during the meditation which brought back memories to each of them and fulfilled the purpose of the session.

Follow-up plan	The school of business and management in collaboration with CSA yearns to take this venture forward and continue to help the women develop and grow in all aspects of life.

Learning Outcome

I would like to thank and extend my sincere gratitude to Prof. Phinn Mary Jose for giving me the opportunity to interact with SHG women and organise their 2 days stay in CHRIST (Deemed to be University).

It was informative to talk to the twenty women who came from a village, Bagalkot. It was enlightening to listen to their hardships and how they overcame it with utmost grit and determination.

The event also enhanced my management and organising skills. Right from figuring out and managing their stay to ensuring their meals on time, the team worked together for their convinience. I also learnt how to effectively allocate the given budget based on necessities and requirements. This was followed by a lesson on team work and time management.

Even if I didn't know Kannada and faced slight difficulty in interacting with the SHG women, my fellow volunteers guided me through and I even

Learning Outcome of SHG Training Visit

In modern day management studies, we have repeatedly emphasised that the essentiality of the price is far outpaced by the factors associated with standards of living. And that is precisely what this project helped me experience practically.

To begin with, understanding their mode of transport through several different unconventional routes truly brought a sense of respect to not only the challenges they face but the challenges they accept and conquer. We as students look for several elements while doing the same and claim that only that which is comforting is what is 'serviceable'.

To further add, I predominantly was responsible for coordinating their breakfast, lunch, and dinner. After having spoken to the owner of the 'Uttar karnataka' restaurant, it was informed that there must be a formal printed bill alongside a GST number, both of which the hotel was not addressing to. A great learning from this was "do not panic!", i.e, one needn't coordinate with all the parties (restlessly) to keep them informed, instead, stay calm and think of solutions first and once that is accomplished, the parties involved can be informed. This will save a reduce a great deal of confusion.

The dairy day visit brought about a question in my mind, which is, "where do companies get the machinery and the automated equipment from?" since it needs to be customized as per that specific companies' requirements. That said, the manager answered the question saying "outside" which I assumed was from some other company in India, but he clarified saying they are mostly only produced in either Japan or Germany. At least, their automated machineries from there as per his knowledge.

I, Sheetal. B. Kulkarni, was informed a months before about the Rise Club and the information about the visit of all the women from Bagalkot. I was extremely excited to help with all the works throughout. We were informed about their visit on 8th and 9th November. We arranged the breakfast and their accomodation. We also visited Dairy Day on 8th November. We learnt the preparation of Icecreams and we returned back for lunch.
The next day we conducted question and answer [Q/A] session to all the women. We also took feedbacks from them. Overall, these 2 days have been a very important days of my Christ life. I have thoroughly understood the importance and the motive of bringing them here and teaching them useful things. We have learnt to manage the budget, planning and proposing, looking

1. What are the social issues you see the SHG women are surrounded by?

   A social issue is a problem that has a broad impact on a society. It is a set of issues that affect society today often and that many people work to resolve. The social issues faced by these women are:

   - Lack of exposure
     Women from such backgrounds are often mistreated and are deprived from basic facilities. They are kept away from education, trainings or independency. They do not have the facilities or opportunities to gain knowledge due to the oppression on them.

   - Gender discrimination
     The most common issue faced by the SHG women is the gender discrimination. They are deprived of education, social status, jobs and financial independency. They do not have the privilege to have the freedom of taking decisions and or manage their finances which is objected by the male members of the family, specifically husband.

   - Financial resources:
     These women are not given loans or any such financial support due to their background. Although they approached people regarding the loans, they were denied any kind of financial support or contacts for the same. They are unable to start their businesses due to the lack of financial resources and financial literacy.

   - Lack of cooperation from family members:
     These women face hindrances from their own family. Most of the women do not get support from family in managing few households' works. The men of the family oppose them from networking and interacting with outsiders.

   - Inadequate support from governmental for empowerment activities:
     There are very less efforts from the government's side in terms of educating them regarding the policies and subsidies they can avail. They majorly face issues due to the lack of knowledge regarding the ways they can sell in marketplace and middlemen problem.

2. Identify ethical issues that these women would face while running businesses?

   A moral problem that needs to be resolved might occur in a business is ethics issues. In other words, it's a situation where a moral principle is put into doubt. The ethical issues faced by the women are:

- Suppression in market:
  They are not given the value for the products they sell. For example, they sell ghee to the middlemen for less than Rs. 200 per liter whereas in market it is sold for not less than Rs. 600 per liter. This is clearly an ethical issue which they go through a lot due to unethical pricing.

- Wage differences due to caste discrimination:
  One major ethical issues business in rural areas face is caste discrimination. The women talked about how they do not divide the earnings equally due to the difference castes. This ultimately leads to the break of SHGs.

3. Compare ethical practices in SHG Cooperative Society and different companies in the same industry (milk products/garments).

   The ethical issues in other companies in dairy industry are:
   - Animal Cruelty
   - Fraudulent marketing in the name of Organic Products
   - Suppression of smaller competitors

   The ethical practices followed in the SHG were:

   - The try to maintain transparency as much as possible.
   - They make and sell dairy products only to a limit without harming the animals.
   - They try to involve as many women as possible to rehabilitate how many ever families they can.

4. Analyze how social issues are affecting various stakeholders of the SHG Cooperatives.
   The goal of analyzing how social issues affect different stakeholders is to help businesses have a positive impact on everyone involved. Stakeholder involvement is directly tied to an organization's ability to create and promote positive effects, making it the most important component of the business mission.
   The stakeholders would have financed the business will face losses when the business fails. The customers or buyers of their products for further processing will be affected when they do not meet the requirements on time. For example, when we visited the dairy day manufacturing unit, they talked about how they need fixed quantity every time and will not compromise on that. They can thus affect the stakeholders when they fail to meet their objectives. All these inabilities to meet the requirements are caused by the social issues. Support, finance and knowledge is required to understand the ways they can work better by utilizing resources effectively and also mitigating risks.

5. Evaluate ethical perspectives of business actions. What are the initiatives or actions taken by the SHG Women?

    - The main initiative taken by the women is to get increase knowledge on how to conduct ethical business and protect themselves from any malpractices or unethical business actions.
    - Extending the initiatives to many more locations including urban areas like Bangalore to gain more exposure.
    - Approach organizations like NABARD and other such government institutions for better financial support.
    - Having more people who are knowledgeable in the business field to monitor and assess their practices to prevent such practices.
    - Learning about the equipment required and financing for the same through thr best and most cost effective way possible.

6. Propose initiatives at individual (ISR) and organizational level (CSR) to address social issues of the SHG women.

    CSR:

    - Evaluate and understand their requirements
    - Conduct frequent trainings and seminars according to their requirements
    - Stay connected with them and provide them necessary information and contacts
    - Follow up often to check progress and help them if required

    ISR:

    - Participate in such training programs and give one's maximum towards it.
    - Study about the various schemes and policies proposed by the government beneficial to such SHGs and ensure it delivered effectively to them.
    - Work on projects alongside them to understand the feasibility of their business ideas and how they can make it better.

Participants' Profile

Type of Participants	II B. Ed Students, School of Education
No. of Participants	100, II Semester B.Ed. Students

Highlights of the Activity	1. Pre-test questionnaire on the students for testing the prior knowledge on the topic. 2. Talk on issues concerning body image, self-esteem, child abuse and protection. 3. Study conducted by the Government of India in 2007 on incidents and prevalence on child sexual abuse which showed that boys were more sexually harassed than girls. 4. Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act for reporting and addressing sexual assault on children, child pornography and other instances of child sexual abuses.
Key Takeaways	1. The session helped to debunk the myths surrounding commonly accepted ideologies, traditions and practices followed by the society since ages. 2. Children must be taught to identify safe adults and be appraised about safe touch from a young age. 3. As prospective teachers, we were made aware to avoid the use of ambiguous words while interacting with students on gender identities, biological processes and human reproduction and use scientific language and biological names. 4. It is our responsibility to notify the police of any instance of child sexual abuse which comes to our notice. 5. We gained a better understanding about the responses and immediate actions, we can take to identify, help and support victims of child sexual abuse.
Summary of the Activity	Dr. Sangeeta shared valuable insights on the issues that the society is facing such as gender bias, gender discrimination and child sexual abuse. She narrated real life incidents of child sexual abuse to highlight the seriousness and gravity of the issue which we are facing currently. She offered us a better understanding about the responses and immediate actions that we can do as an individual to identify, help, and support victims of sexual abuse.

Title of the Activity	Community Living Camp
Date/s	10 and 11 March 2023
Time	8 Am to 8 Pm
Venue	CFCD Pragathi, CSA, Veldur, Srinivaspura Taluk, Kolar Dist Karnataka563138
Collaboration/Sponsor (if any)	CSA, CHRIST (Deemed to be University)

Participants' Profile

Type of Participants	Students
No. of Participants	93

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Gender-related Objectives and plan of the Activity	1. Create awareness about water conservation and women empowerment among the villagers of the Yeldur region in Karnataka. 2. Develop sensitivity towards issues faced in the village by women and children.
Summary of the Activity conducted during the CLC	Awareness programmes on Water Conservation andWomen Empowerment - Street play All the groups performed a street play in the villages thatthey went to on the common topic of water conservation and women empowerment. The play was in Kannada and I participated in an advertisement segment in the interval between two scenes. The people of the village and the children watched the play with great interest and were ableto understand because it was in their language. Rally The 4th sem B.Ed students had prepared slogans on Water Conservation and Women Empowerment in Kannada andEnglish and they had written it on placards. We all walkedto the village of Lakshmisagar and shouted out the different slogans we had written on the placards while holding them high up in the air for the villagers to see.

Gender-related Key Takeaways of thecamp	1) Interacting with the women in the Bachupally village and seeing how most of them were employed and contributing to the household expenses and savings. 2) Giving back to the community via the Cleanliness Drive: Picking up plastic waste and making the village streets clean and plastic-free. 3) Enlightening to learn how the Christ University's Centre for Social Action (CSA) and thegovernment have initiated various programmes like self-help groups to empower the women of the village.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Students told about deeply rooted practices that have had a major role in society for ages. They engage in an interactive discussion with the speaker about gender and the gaze and objectification through the gaze. 2. The speaker introduces the children to the works of different personalities such as Stuart Hall, Silvia Bovenschen, J Lacan, Michael Foucault and many more. 3. The speaker ends the session by emphasising on the importance of sensitivity while discussing people who belong outside of the normative binary and the difference in gazing of a man and a woman and its reference with Objectification.
Key Takeaways	1. The topics raised by the guest made students think and understand the psychoanalytical analysis of representations of different genders. 2. Speaker mentioned and elaborated on terms like Culture and Visual Culture as well as the importance of Subject, Object, and Binary. 3. Learning about the fluidity in the concept of gender, Performativity vs Pornography. 4. Understanding What is Libidinal Economy and Feminism through different narratives.
Summary of the Activity	MESTA, the Student Association of the Department of Media Studies, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bannerghatta Road Campus, conducted an informative session, which was presided over by Dr. Sushma V. Murthy on the theme, 'Subject to the Gaze: Mediating popular representations of gender' April 11, 2023. Dr. Sushma is an associate professor at CHRIST, Central Campus. Students from the second year of BA. Journalism Honors (4 JOUH) attended the session and learned about different narratives and structures revolving around the topic. In the session, Dr. Murthy mentioned Culture and Visual Culture as well as the importance of Subject, Object, and Binary. This was further elaborated into several stages of Gender and Identity, Women being objectified by the male gaze the inversion of the gaze, and the difference between both. Students were told about a lot of Theorists and their perspectives on the same, such as Pornography, Male Violence, and other deeply rooted practices that have had a major role in society for ages. Toward the end of the Session, a Question-Answer round between the audience and Dr. Sushma, and feedback was also given by the students.

1. Speaker Profile

Dr Sushma V. Murthy is an Associate Professor at the Department of English, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), and teaches Gender Studies, Postcolonial and World Literature, Cultural Studies, and British Literature. She was affiliated with the University of Montreal under the Shastri Doctoral Research Fellowship in 2007-08 and secured a doctoral degree in 2014 for her dissertation “The Burnished Phoenix: Lesbian Aesthetics in the Works of Nicole Brossard”, from the University of Mysore. Her research interests include queer theory and literature, feminist translation studies, psychoanalytical feminism, and trauma narratives by women. Her publications include research articles on feminist translation, transgender aesthetics, and queer theory. Currently, Dr Murthy is completing a Major Research Project on select popular fiction of Triveni, a prominent psychoanalytical feminist writer in Kannada. The project examines psycho-cultural aspects of women’s mental health disorders with a heightened focus on the gendered narrativization of trauma in cases of hysteria.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Students learn about gender discrimination and misogyny prevalent in the male-dominated media industry. 2. Students learn about the Speaker's own experiences and imbibe her knowledge for their future careers. 3. Interaction between Guest and students in Question and Answer session.
Key Takeaways	1. Anecdotes and experiences shared by the guest gave students an opportunity to understand the real-life choices a female journalist has to mak. 2. Understanding the present and past conditions of women working in regional media. 3. Learning about the concerns and hurdles women journalists face, their solutions and the contributions of these women to the field.
Summary of the Activity	The Department of Media Studies, Bannerghatta Campus, organized an Industry-Academia Interface Guest Lecture on 'Women in Contemporary Media: Concerns and Contributions.' Invited as the guest was Mrs. Sreeja Shayam, Coordinating Editor of the news portal, The Fourth, who has a cumulative experience of 15 years in reporting and editing. The participants of the lecture were students from first year BA EMP program.

	In an engaging session with the students, Mrs. Sreeja talked about her personal experiences and shared anecdotes about the workplace disbalance and sexism women journalists face daily. She shared about the persisting concerns that need to be addressed and gave examples of contributions that women have made to this field. The lecture was followed by an interactive question and answer round where students asked questions about representation of women and solutions to the concerns. Mrs. Sreeja's extensive experience gave valuable insights and answers to their questions.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Students identified how the marketing of a product differs with respect to the gender they are catered to. 2. Students engage in an interactive discussion with the speaker about gender in a South Asian context

	3. The speaker introduces the children to the works of the American sexologist, Anne Fausto-Sterling 4. The speaker ends the session by emphasising on the importance of sensitivity while discussing people who belong outside of the normative binary
Key Takeaways	1. The topics raised by the guest gave students an opportunity to understand the existing misconceptions around gender and sex. 2. Learning about the fluidity in the concept of gender in South Asian cultures. 3. Understanding intersex bodies along with variant and invariant sexes. 4. Learning about the neuro-psychological feeling of Gender Dysphoria and how to be sensitive about it.
Summary of the Activity	The Department of Media Studies, Bannerghatta Campus, organised a session on 'Understanding Gender: Concepts and Concerns' with Dr. Abhiruchi Ranjan, Assistant Professor, Department of History and Political Science in CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bannerghatta Road Campus. The participants of the lecture were students from the second year Journalism Honours. In an engaging session with the students, Dr. Ranjan started the session by talking about gender stereotypes hidden in our everyday language. This was followed by a discussion on the representation of trans people in sports. She later talks about the physiological differences in the different sexes and later brings up Anne Fausto-Sterling's seminal work 'The Five Sexes' which was very enlightening. In the second hour of the session a lot of myths around gender were broken. We talked about the fluidity of gender in South Asian cultures like Sufi culture, Sikh culture, Buddhist culture, Bengali culture, etc. Finally, she concluded the session with the importance of dealing with Gender Dysphoria more sensitively. The session gave the students valuable insights and answers to their questions.

1. Speaker Profile

Dr Sushma V. Murthy is an Associate Professor at the Department of English, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), and teaches Gender Studies, Postcolonial and World Literature, Cultural Studies, and British Literature. She was affiliated with the University of Montreal under the Shastri Doctoral Research Fellowship in 2007-08 and secured a doctoral degree in 2014 for her dissertation "The Burnished Phoenix: Lesbian Aesthetics in the Works of Nicole Brossard", from the University of Mysore. Her research interests include queer theory and literature, feminist translation studies, psychoanalytical feminism, and trauma narratives by women. Her publications include research articles on feminist translation, transgender aesthetics, and queer theory. Currently, Dr Murthy is completing a Major Research Project on select popular fiction of Triveni, a prominent psychoanalytical feminist writer in Kannada. The project examines psycho-cultural aspects of women's mental health disorders with a heightened focus on the gendered narrativization of trauma in cases of hysteria.

The HeForShe club at School of Business and Management organized the activity of awareness regarding ‘Gender Equality’ for all the MBA students of Central campus.

The activity involved creation of a poster depicting the core theme of the club. Poster creation was done by the HeforShe club members. Apart from this the club organized a very interesting discussion among the students with the help of small post-it cards. The students were encouraged to come forward and write down their views on the topic of Gender equality.

The activity was conducted during the lunch break which attracted a large crowd in the second-floor foyer area. Not only the first year MBA students but the senior batch also took active participation in the activity. The engagement creation was a massive success. The club received interesting view points from students across specializations.

All the notes are pasted along with the poster and kept in the foyer area itself. This was an initial event for the club. The responses have been overwhelming. The agenda for the event was to start a conversation which clearly was achieved.

The faculty coordinator of the Club, Prof. Sonia Mathew in her closing remarks provided clarity on the purpose behind celebrating the international women’s day and our responsibility towards #breakingthebias in the society.

Some of the takeaways from the seminar: -

- Need for sensitizing people
- Bring about meaningful change
- The pandemic has disproportionately affected women’s career growth but now it’s the time to bounce back.
- Managing perceptions, stereotypes & biases
- Actions required for better tomorrow
- The need for equal opportunities and representation of women in workplace.

The faculty members present in the session were Dr. Georgy Kurien Associate Dean, Prof. Sonia Mathew, all HR faculty members and faculty from SBM from various specializations making the discussion all the more valuable and insightful. The session finally concluded with a vote of thanks to one and all by Prof. Sonia Mathew.

Overall, the seminar and panel discussion organized by HeForShe students club was successful as we got overwhelming responses from students in Q&A session.

The HeForShe club at School of Business and Management organized the activity of awareness in form of a JAM Session to engage more and more participants including the new joinees to be vocal about the burning gender related issues and take part in the session which was organized for all the MBA students of Central campus.

The event was basically held to spread awareness and start a conversation among the students about few recent topics which were pre decided by the team.

A Jam session basically is based on having a platform where anybody can come up and speak for 30 seconds to 1 minute on a given situation or a particular topic. In this case the topics were based on real life issues, regarding gender norms.

The topics set by the team and approved by the faculty coordinator Ms. Sonia Mathew are given as follow-

1. This house believes that there are “jobs for men” and “jobs for women”.
2. This house believes that gender equality will never be obtained.
3. Male ally engagement is important in organisation!
4. I'm A Man, So I Can't Be A Feminist
5. Are gender roles useful in society?
6. Will feminism help achieve equality?
7. Has feminism failed women?
8. Are we raising sexist sons and men?
9. Should the housewives and mothers be paid for housework?
10. Gender bias in education
11. Men don't cry" - does it still exist in 2022?

The main participants for the event was first year MBA students. Their active participation and strong point of views made the event a great success. The event not only saw the morale and strong participation from the students but also was a light screening for future warrior for our club.

All the participants were felicitated with chocolates for their contribution at the end from the club’s end.

The Jam session was not a competition to win or lose. It was a stage to create a safe space for starting the conversation on sensitive issues regarding gender. At the end positive ethical views from our young participants won the entire agenda of this event and made it a success.

The HeForShe club at School of Business and Management organized a skit performance - "She is what She is" organized to challenge people's thinking regarding the unrealistic and fake beauty standards placed on us by society on the Women's Day. The event was held to spread awareness and urged the viewers to join this thought-provoking experience in celebrating the spirit of true internal beauty. A skit performance took place for 15 mins

The topics set by the team and approved by the faculty coordinator Ms. Sonia Mathew are given as follow-

1. I am what I am : Treat everyone with respect and dignity regardless of their appearance.
2. Skin Sin: It is not appropriate or ethical to judge someone based on their skin color. White or Black or Brown, equality says they are equal.
3. Be the brand: We are not meant to fit into clothes, clothes are meant to fit us. Let's dress to impress ourselves.
4. You are enough: Let us not categorize bodies and let's not sacrifice our beauty for other eyes. Everybody is unique.
5. Talent over beauty: Beauty and talent both have their own merits, prioritizing talent over beauty can lead to a more fulfilling and equitable life. Talent is also one kind of beauty.

The main participants for the event were the first-year MBA students. Their active participation, strong points of view, and guidance by senior students made the event a success. The event saw the morale and strong participation from the students and was a light screening for future warriors for our club.

The skit educated the audiences about the unrealistic and often unattainable beauty standards that are promoted by the media and society. It encouraged viewers to broaden their definition of beauty and to recognize the value of inner qualities such as kindness, intelligence, and creativity. The skit promoted self-acceptance and body positivity by encouraging viewers to embrace their own unique features and reject the pressure to conform to unrealistic beauty standards. It inspired viewers to take action to promote a more inclusive and accepting society. This can include challenging harmful beauty standards, advocating for media representation that is more diverse and inclusive, and supporting organizations that promote positive body image and self-esteem.

Ultimately, the act that highlighted blinding beauty standards is a potent vehicle for raising consciousness, reshaping perceptions, encouraging self-acceptance, and motivating action to build a more welcoming and inclusive society.

EVENT 4: AWARENESS PROGRAM

Type of Activity	Awareness program
Date	13th March 2023
Time	12:15 pm
Venue	Bangalore, School of Business and Management, Central block,2nd floor, Foyer.

Highlights of the Activity	He for She club along with happy feet and DS Squad had driven an awareness program with the flashmob activity. It is mainly held to spread awareness among people about beauty standards and their inner beauty.
Key Takeaways	The main key takeaway of the program is executed through the songs as those depict self-love and inner self beauty. Moreover, the blindfold concept built the view that outer beauty looks like nothing in front of inner beauty which shows the confidence to face the world.
Summary of the Activity	He for She club coordinated with the happy feet team for the flash mob. The songs they danced for consisted of songs that promoted self-love and inner beauty. The flashmob was held to spread awareness about the harmful beauty standards set by society that we as individuals are forced to adhere to and how these standards shouldn't define who we are as individuals. Through this event, happy feet blindfolded their eyes to represent how many of us are blinded by these beauty standards and often feel insecure about our natural features. The main intention of the event was to spread awareness of how beauty standards are harmful to society and that we should be happy with all the natural features that we are born with. We shouldn't have to change anything about ourselves just to please someone else. The event was witnessed by MBA students and faculty.

HEFORSHE - ACTIVITY REPORT

General Information

Type of Activity	Social Experiment
Date	March 9 and March 10 2023
Time	2:45pm-6:00pm
Venue	Bangalore Central Campus

Highlights of the Activity	HeforShe club along with other team members conducted a Social Experiment where we asked questions to set of members about their perception on blinding beauty standards.
Key Takeaways	The main key takeaway of the program is that we wanted to know the opinion of the students on the different perceptions of beauty and how each one of them views it. Questions related to makeup, dressing and qualities such as (size, looks, shape) etc. A lot of different perspectives and opinions where given which made us to think how people are changing their views towards the beauty standards that are set by the society.

Summary of the Activity	He for She club conducted a Social experiment within the premises of the central campus where we asked questions to the students from different departments. We asked the students about their idea of beauty, what pressures they have faced personally to conform to beauty standards, did they compare themselves with others and on a scale of 1-5 how much they would rate themselves etc. Through this experiment, we created a video which gives the opinion of the students of the various questions that we asked. Few of them shared their own experiences about the pressures they felt and how society always defined the beauty standards. Many people even mentioned that beauty is not just about how good they look its all about what personality that person has and how they behave. From the above experiment, we as a team understood that they were few students who still face these issues in the society and they continue fighting these issues and few of them do not go against the beauty standards that has been set. A video of the same has been created with the responses of the students which gave a better understanding of the beauty standards from the students viewpoint.

EVENT 6: WOMAN'S DAY

HeForShe - Activity Report

General Information

Type of Activity	Woman's day
Date	March 14th 2023
Time	2:45pm-4:00pm
Venue	Bangalore Central Campus

Highlights of the Activity	HeforShe club and other team members celebrated Woman's Day by picking the theme BLINDING BEAUTY, which talks about the societal norms set for beauty standards.
Key Takeaways	The main key takeaway of the program is that we wanted to gain awareness of the standards of beauty which society expects each individual to have and that it is fine if the person focuses on being just themselves. A lot of different perspectives and opinions were given which made us think about how people are changing their views towards the beauty standards that are set by the society.
Summary of the Activity	The event started at 2:45 pm with the introduction of "BLINDING BEAUTY" by Anirudhan and Siri, the MCs of today's event. This was followed by a prayer song by Stelin. A short video about the HeForShe club was shown, highlighting the club's work done so far for the event and the purpose of the club.

	Shiva addressed the welcome speech inviting the chief guest, Dr.Sapna, HOD of the School of Law, Prof. Sirish CV, HOD of SBM, and the faculty and the audience. Dr. Sapna addressed a very influential speech regarding the gender norms, gender equality, disparity, patriarchy, and normalizations prevailing in our society. She was presented with a memento by Prof. Sirish CV. The team conducted a social experiment where a few questions were asked regarding the beauty standards set in our society and in people's minds. This was a 7-minute video where several students participated and gave honest answers, powerful enough to put in the audience's minds. This was followed by a panel discussion of four people and one moderator, which took place for 30 minutes. Krishna, Nilani, Sanjay, and Monika were the panel members, and Nayana was the moderator. This was a fantastic session where the panel members spoke about the fake beauty standards set and how to tackle them, stating their experiences. We had a student interaction where the audience could express their views and opinions about the session and the beauty standards. Three audience members came up with their views which were well received. The dhwani team sang their melody with four beautiful songs. The event was wrapped up with a vote of thanks given by Tinat, thanking the guest, faculty and nonfaculty, technicians, and the audience for their support of the event.

Need of Gender Equality
"We've begun to raise daughters more like sons... but few have the courage to raise our sons more like our daughters."
— Gloria Steinem
Fifty years ago, women had, on average, less than half the legal rights of men.
Across India gender inequality results in unequal opportunities, and while it impacts on the lives of both genders, statistically it is girls that are the most disadvantaged.
India will not fully develop unless both girls and boys are equally supported to reach their full potential.
Treating all equally is inequality.
Treat equal equally and unequal unequally is the right way.

Women's rights should be maintained and followed in order to maintain gender equality in the society.

Rights, exploitation, no equality

Gender equality is not only a fundamental human right, but a necessary foundation for a peaceful, prosperous and sustainable world.

learned something new

all should be treated equally

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Students learn about gender discrimination and misogyny prevalent in the male-dominated media industry. 2. Students learn about the Speaker's own experiences and imbibe her knowledge for their future careers. 3. Interaction between Guest and students in Question and Answer session.
Key Takeaways	1. Anecdotes and experiences shared by the guest gave students an opportunity to understand the real-life choices

	a female journalist has to mak. 2. Understanding the present and past conditions of women working in regional media. 3. Learning about the concerns and hurdles women journalists face, their solutions and the contributions of these women to the field.
Summary of the Activity	The Department of Media Studies, Bannerghatta Campus, organized an Industry-Academia Interface Guest Lecture on 'Women in Contemporary Media: Concerns and Contributions.' Invited as the guest was Mrs. Sreeja Shayam, Coordinating Editor of the news portal, The Fourth, who has a cumulative experience of 15 years in reporting and editing. The participants of the lecture were students from first year BA EMP program. In an engaging session with the students, Mrs. Sreeja talked about her personal experiences and shared anecdotes about the workplace disbalance and sexism women journalists face daily. She shared about the persisting concerns that need to be addressed and gave examples of contributions that women have made to this field. The lecture was followed by an interactive question and answer round where students asked questions about representation of women and solutions to the concerns. Mrs. Sreeja's extensive experience gave valuable insights and answers to their questions.
Follow-up plan	NA.

PURNA- Session on Gender Equity

Descriptive Report

"PURNA" A session on Gender Equity was organised by the School of Sciences on the occasion of National Girl Child Day which is celebrated on 24th January every year. It was a one hour online event conducted on WebEx. The event was coordinated by the students Shreya (4B.Sc EMS), Upal Chaudhary (4B.Sc EMS), Suchismita (4B.Sc CMS), Meemansa (4B.Sc EMS) , Harsh Raj (4B.Sc EMS), Arinjay (4B.Sc EMS).

The event started with a brief on why 24th January is celebrated as the National Girl Child Day. The session also included videos related to Gender Equity. To make the session interactive, many questions were asked throughout the session. The students actively participated in the session by sharing their valuable thoughts on gender equality. The session concluded with a Sanskrit quote shared by the student Harsh Raj.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Information dissemination on financial and legal schemes 2.Ensuring accessibility of policies and schemes
Key Takeaways	1. The problem of social security measures is not shortage of schemes, rather it is lack of awareness and accessibility 2. Empowering people with information ensures there is transparency and accountability
Summary of the Activity	Nimagaagi Mahiti translates to Information for you. This program was launched with the idea of empowering individuals about schemes and policies launched by the government especially from poor socio-economic backgrounds with the belief in the motto "knowledge is power". The program was launched on a pilot basis in CHRIST University central campus. Later it was delivered for BBMP Powrakarmikas (Bommanahalli and Adugodi)
Follow-up plan	The team is on talks with Hasiru Dala and aiming to expand the target group

SDG 5: Gender Equality

Department of English and Cultural Studies

REPORT ON GUEST LECTURE
“ Gender violence and resistance in the partition narratives”

On 24-09-2022
Guest Speaker: Professor Bodh Prakash

The Inclusivity Cell of the Department of English and Culture Studies organized a guest lecture on Gender violence and resistance in partition narratives by Professor Bodh Prakash on 24 September 2022. Professor Bodh Prakash specializes in English and is a faculty at the Zakir Husain Delhi College of Delhi University. Prof. Prakash has also been a visiting professor at the University of Strasbourg in France. He received his Ph.D. from Jawaharlal Nehru University for English Studies. His best works to date stand in the sphere of Partition, Writing Partition: Ideology and Aesthetics in Urdu and Hindi Literature.

Partition led to large-scale displacement, 1000s of women were displaced, abducted, and raped. Professor Prakash started by addressing the 1800s violence against women, honor killings, and other deep-rooted socially accepted and institutionalized forms of violence against women. He pointed out that although the stories of women in partition are disheartening in themselves, the literature pertaining to and originating from women show the narrative of the subtleties of oppression suffered by women.

The talk emphasized the horrors of their lives after the abduction and assault. Addressing the fact that violence was conceptualized and internalized by the victims. Professor Prakash also expressed that while talking about violence against women and gender differences, the topic has to be talked about more and more of its manifestations of it beyond physical domains.

Due to the dimensions of oppression and internalization, we turned to the women-centric narrative as the central literature sphere to understand gender politics. Feminism is necessary but there has to be equal value to the context and background of the problems to highlight the various pretexts for gender-based violence. He also talked in depth about the ideas of erasure and remembrance in their battle for realization.

The lecture was received with overwhelming participation and an interactive response session from the final year students across departments and courses.

	Center for Counselling &Health Services Christ University organised a Guest Talk on "Embrace Equity" by Ms Parvathy Sankar, Managing Director of Mindset, on 08th March 2023 , at Christ Deemed To Be University. The emcees for the gathering were Ms Jennifer and Ms Thirusha. Dr Suganthi S, Professor, Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering, welcomed the group and delivered the presidential address. IEEE WIE Student Chair, Ms. Nivedha, gave a brief introduction to the speaker of the day, Ms. Parvathy Sankar. She is the Managing Director at Mindset Consulting. A strategic leader with an MBA from IMD International Switzerland and international experience of 24+ years leading business transformation programs, enterprise software product strategy and go-to-market innovations leveraging technology and cloud transformation. She has held several leadership roles in SAP in Germany and in UCB Pharma in Belgium, where she established efficiency-related programs that drove a strong culture of effectiveness. This has shaped her love for driving organizational effectiveness strategies. With these experiences, she helps clients set strategies to drive value out of technology for business innovations and effectiveness. As Managing Director for Mindset, Parvathy incorporated Mindset in India two years ago and grew the company to around 65 employees, well known for its activities in the User Experience and Technology areas of SAP. Additionally, she shapes Mindset Consulting's overall product strategy globally to ensure our clients get the best experience and value out of the technology transformation. Her passion involves photography, travel and spreading the love of Indian culture. The chief guest of the day, Ms Parvathy Sankar, Managing Director, Mindset, briefed us on how to convert innovative ideas into worthwhile projects. She started by talking about the company's Mindset. The topic was Embracing Equity. She then gave a small activity to discuss a picture and asked a couple of teams to explain it. She talked about leadership. She then spoke about the diversity in India. She mentioned that the higher the graph, the representation of women decreases. She spoke about why diversity is essential and how each person has a different target, experience, perspectives, skills, and communication. She then explained what equity means. She encouraged the attendees to grab opportunities and discussed equality in a workspace. She explained uniqueness, sensitivity towards each other, belongingness and psychological safety. She mentioned different women leaders and the impact they made. She ended with a video of unequal pay and being treated fairly. Further, there was a Q & A session which helped the students to have a direct interaction with the speaker. IEEE WIE Secretary, Ms Adithi, delivered the vote of thanks.

Equity

Women empowering.. Hygine

Should not fear to speak up and grab the opportunities.

Women and men both are equal part of the society

Women should never burn themselves out by trying not to communicate

Women should not be afraid of raising their voices where they need to

Equity

Women can do all things if she has the right support

Importance to Equity than equality.

Importance of health and hygiene

Women can achieve the same thing as men can if they put their mind to it. Being confident.

Women should stand for themselves and they should raise their voice.

Everyone can have varying thoughts.

We as Women should support other Women in all aspects

The Women's Day talk was inspiring and empowering, highlighting the challenges women face and the progress that has been made in achieving gender equality. The speaker shared personal stories and examples to illustrate the importance of women's voices and perspectives in all aspects of society. The talk emphasized the need for continued advocacy and action to address issues like pay equity, representation in leadership positions, and access to healthcare and education. Overall, it was a thought-provoking and motivating presentation that left a lasting impact on the audience.

I really understood what is equity and equality and men and all women are equal and it all depends on the state of mind

Women's achievement, recognised challenges and equality for women is required.

Women can fit in any role nd should be treated equally

If we are determined to achieve something then nothing can stop us. Women must pursue their dreams.

It was good and engaging session

1) Women are in various professions and not just homemakers. They have views and ideas to give to the world which can improve different fields and areas and provide development.
2) Women should have enough self worth and confidence to ask questions. And not be scared to ask why.
3) Mental and emotional cleaning is important.

Be independent and stand on your two feet

Women and men should be given the same opportunities.

Equity and equality

Old people can also be mysandrists but some of them are sane

As a women knowing important things to carry forward and to bring in practice of those things

Being a female is like switching between two sides of a coin in a split second

What girl should take care about

Enhance your skills by hard-working

The session was very insightful and helped me understand women in technology.

NIL

How corporate world works

Women should step in front and avail all opportunity out in the world

To live an independent life and not be dependent on anyone.

Women should stand up for themselves

To do what I do with confidence and rise above with a louder voice.

Self importance, health importance

Empowerment by supporting eachother,establishing equity instead of equality

Being unique doesn't mean that we are wrong

Women can do anything

The talk was so insightful, my key take away message is how to not miss opportunities and go forward despite having minor issues and Also to fight for my rights.

Women's growth in the society

Thanks mam for taking this sessions

to never shy away from giving yourself the best that you can give

It was Informative and interactive

Knowledge on women's day

my key takeaway message would be that embracing equity on Women's Day is an essential step towards creating a more inclusive and diverse society. This means actively working to eliminate gender-based discrimination and creating opportunities for women to thrive in all areas of life. By embracing equity, we can promote gender equality and empower women to realize their full potential.

Women power

Women empowerment,health and hygiene.

Very informative session

World is nothing without equality

About how girls are actively participating in every thing

Nothing

Ideas

To embrace the challenges that will come my way. To never stay silent and speak up to get something that i deserve.

Self confidence and women empowerment

Woman empowerment

Don't bother about what others might say. If you want to do something, just go for it, If u feel like you deserve something , speak up. Be strong.

Women should be strong

Word hard and be independent

Women empowerment, importance of health and hygiene

Be kind

Equality

Women are capable of everything men are capable of and more

It was informative

Women should always help other women in times of need

Women don't need to gain a voice, we already have one. We just need to use it.

How to take right choice and health

Enlightening

In the STEM world ,women need to come up more and put equity on the table

How to be a better women and face the struggles

Women empowerment is important in the society.

We should not fear down because of what people will say and aim higher goals in life.

Stop dominating urself saying that u r a woman , woman is capable of doing great things which even men couldn't do.

Women have to raise voice whenever needed irrespective of other people's opinions

I've learnt the importance of being a strong independent woman.

We should be confident on what we want to speak out

Women must learn to voice their opinions regardless of the field and be confident enough to lead a team or a community.

Be strong

To utilize every chance in life ,and to be a strong women

women's equity in work field.

Nothing

Women are strong

Importance of women's equality to make a beautiful world

Confidence

How to work in team
How to work effectively
How to be healthy

Women should be equally going with the society.

Identify the uniqueness of ourselves

Respect ourselves and others

Every single person in this world are unique and has their own abilities and skills irrespective of whoever you identify as

Both men and women should be respected

We get a confident

Never to be afraid and to be confident always !

Don't lose self respect

I feel that women's day is celebrated across world why not men's day . If celebrated both should be equal not overexxagerating one gender.

Boys should also be included as it's important for them to understand why these sessions are being held. Only if they know what women are facing all around the world will they be able to help and make a change in the society.

Do more of these to empowerment all young minds

Waiting for it

I think we should bring in the boys also for such talks because the issues faced by women should be understood by them too. We all know this is a male dominant world and we need them to understand where they have to change Or where all they can help for women to grow. We all have to work together to bring a change not just women. When such session are kept only for the girls, it feels like equity is a battle only we have to fight for. Men have to understand the importance of all these and lend their support.

It was informative

Maybe include more males so that they can gain more knowledge too

Could we have people from the industry who are entrepreneurs come talk about how they reached there?

It was good

Men should have been a part of the session too. These days there are guys who treat women poorly as a privilege just cause they can due to the societal norms. So its not girls that had to listen to the session but the guys.

It should be more interactive

If possible the speaker of the event can walk in between us like occasionally. (where we are seated)

Technologies and girls with tricks to shine better

Please make this session compulsory for everyone

I would like to suggest to organise shorter sessions

Subject attendance should not be taken for both boys and girls, while the session is going on. It should be made sure that all girls are strictly attending, unlike this time where half of the girls went to subject class and got subject attendance there, while we got absent for that same hour

Women employment

would like to be member of ieee

Keep going

Should conduct for all not only girls whether it is women's day or not, men should also hear the class

Sessions on mind control

Boys and girls should have a same seminar

Career opportunities

Boys should also be included as they should also know the importance of helping women grow in this society.

Males could also be included because they also have to understand and learn to accept and respect women.At the same time women should be thought that feminism shouldn't mean supressing men but trying to get what they deserve.

No comments

The audience should not be compromised of only women. If we ever are to progress, men should also be aware of our rights and beliefs. We as women already have a strong sense of

Description of the event (maximum 400 words)

The International Women's day seminar was conducted by the HeForShe Student Club lead by Dr. Sonia Mathew under the School of Business and Management umbrella. The seminar was conducted in the year-specific universal theme of #BreakTheBias. The itinerary of the event consisted of a key note speaker, which was adorned by Dr. Jyothikumar, Dean of BGR campus, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), followed by a panel discussion, moderated by Prof. Aparna Hawaldar, faculty of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) along with a team of four panelists that consisted of two second year MBA students from HR and Finance specializations along with two first year MBA students from the Marketing and Business Analytics specializations respectively. The event was attended by the first year MBA student along with our respected dignitaries which included Dr. Georgy Kurien sir, Dr. Arti Arun Kumar, Dr. Mareena Mathew and Dr. Barkathunissa A. The event was a big success as the audience actively took part in the discussions led by the panelists and the feedbacks received were also overwhelming.

Event 2:

AN OPEN BULLETIN BOARD REPRESENTING GENDER EQUALITY

CONDUCTED ON: APRIL 21, 2022

Location	SBM central campus, Second floor Foyer
Pan SBM activity (Select any one)	Central campus
SPECIALISATION (if not pan SBM activity)	All specializations
Name of the Activity	An Open Bulletin Board Representing Gender Equality
Topic	Gender Equality
DATE (When the activity was held)	April 21, 2022

Place Visited (If away from the campus)	NA
Name of the faculty in charge	Prof. Sonia Mathew
Date of submission (For this report)	April 24, 2022

The HeForShe club at School of Business and Management organized the activity of awareness regarding 'Gender Equality' for all the MBA students of Central campus.

The activity involved creation of a poster depicting the core theme of the club. Poster creation was done by the HeforShe club members. Apart from this the club organized a very interesting discussion among the students with the help of small post-it cards. The students were encouraged to come forward and write down their views on the topic of Gender equality.

The activity was conducted during the lunch break which attracted a large crowd in the second- floor foyer area. Not only the first year MBA students but the senior batch also took active participation in the activity. The engagement creation was a massive success. The club received interesting view points from students across specializations.

All the notes are pasted along with the poster and kept in the foyer area itself. This was an initial event for the club. The responses have been overwhelming. The agenda for the event was to start a conversation which clearly was achieved.

The faculty coordinator of the Club, Prof. Sonia Mathew in her closing remarks provided clarity on the purpose behind celebrating the international women's day and our responsibility towards #breakingthebias in the society.

Some of the takeaways from the seminar: -

- Need for sensitizing people
- Bring about meaningful change
- The pandemic has disproportionately affected women's career growth but now it's the time to bounce back.
- Managing perceptions, stereotypes & biases
- Actions required for better tomorrow
- The need for equal opportunities and representation of women in workplace.

The faculty members present in the session were Dr. Georgy Kurien Associate Dean, Prof. Sonia Mathew, all HR faculty members and faculty from SBM from various specializations making the discussion all the more valuable and insightful. The session finally concluded with a vote of thanks to one and all by Prof. Sonia Mathew.

Overall, the seminar and panel discussion organized by HeForShe students club was successful as we got overwhelming responses from students in Q&A session.

Please find below attached poster invitation and activity photographs.

CONDUCTED ON: (JULY 25, 2022)

Location	SBM central campus, Second floor Foyer
Pan SBM activity (Select any one)	Central campus
SPECIALISATION (if not pan SBM activity)	All specializations
Name of the Activity	Jam Session- A Candid Introspection
Topic	Gender Equality
DATE (When the activity was held)	July 25, 2022
Guest Name & Brief Details (If Any)	NA
Place Visited (If away from the campus)	NA
Name of the faculty in charge	Prof. Sonia Mathew
Date of submission (For this report)	July 26, 2022

The HeForShe club at School of Business and Management organized the activity of awareness in form of a JAM Session to engage more and more participants including the new joinees to be vocal about the burning gender related issues and take part in the session which was organized for all the MBA students of Central campus.

The event was basically held to spread awareness and start a conversation among the students about few recent topics which were pre decided by the team.

A Jam session basically is based on having a platform where anybody can come up and speak for 30 seconds to 1 minute on a given situation or a particular topic. In this case the topics were based on real life issues, regarding gender norms.

The topics set by the team and approved by the faculty coordinator Ms. Sonia Mathew are given as follow-

1. This house believes that there are “jobs for men” and “jobs for women”.
2. This house believes that gender equality will never be obtained.
3. Male ally engagement is important in organisation!
4. I'm A Man, So I Can't Be A Feminist
5. Are gender roles useful in society?
6. Will feminism help achieve equality?

7. Has feminism failed women?
8. Are we raising sexist sons and men?
9. Should the housewives and mothers be paid for housework?
10. Gender bias in education
11. Men don't cry" - does it still exist in 2022?

The main participants for the event was first year MBA students. Their active participation and strong point of views made the event a great success. The event not only saw the morale and strong participation from the students but also was a light screening for future warrior for our club.

All the participants were felicitated with chocolates for their contribution at the end from the club's end.

The Jam session was not a competition to win or lose. It was a stage to create a safe space for starting the conversation on sensitive issues regarding gender. At the end positive ethical views from our young participants won the entire agenda of this event and made it a success.

Movie Profile

Matrubhoomi (2005) is a thought-provoking and critically acclaimed movie which sheds light on significant societal issues, particularly gender imbalances and women's rights. Apart from offering a unique perspective, the movie encourages its viewers to reflect on the importance of gender equality. It also explains the implications of having a skewed gender ratio in a society. The film won a lot of critical acclaim and awards including winning the FIPRESCI Award in Parallel Section at the Venice Film Festival. It also won the Audience Award for Best Film at the Kozlin Film Festival and the Thessaloniki Film Festival in 2003.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Emphasis on promoting gender equity in daily life 2. Technologies are not gender neutral-Need to create technology which gives equal opportunities to men and women to access digital learning
Key Takeaways	1. Ensure affordable access to Information and Communication Technologies for Women 2.Develop gender responsive strategies and policies
Summary of the Activity	The programme started with Dr Rupali Patel, Department of Physics and Electronics, welcoming and introducing the Speaker, Prof. Madhavi Rangaswamy. In her talk, Prof. Madhavi highlighted the need to address gender gaps in access to technology with an urgent priority. She also emphasised on the urge to develop gender-responsive digital initiatives and policies. Gender stereotypes and cultural norms often hinder women's and girls' access to digital technologies and reduce their education and employment opportunities. There are multiple discrimination and education-related barriers that keep women from participating equally in STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) fields. The speaker asked everyone to stimulate women's participation in STEM fields and design gender-sensitive e-services which are key to advancing gender equality in all sectors. She also stressed on adoption of effective legal policies and strategies with deep understanding of the gendered nature of socio-economic challenges, which is the need of the present. The talk was well taken by our UG,

Synopsis of Activity (description):

Highlights of the Activity	- Two workshops held on the acts- Domestic Violence Act, 2005 and the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007. - Identified the advancements and drawbacks of the Acts and evaluated its impact on the society at large. - PROTECTION OF WOMEN FROM DOMESTIC VIOLENCE ACT, 2005: 1. Recognized the legislative intent of the Act, lacunae as well as the accomplishments of the Act by drawing a comparison between the current Act and the previous Bills. 2. Discussed the implementation and lack of awareness in the society regarding domestic violence along with the social stigmas and stereotypes. Also, drawing focus on the scenario during and post Covid-19. 3. Threw light upon the various precedents, landmark judgments as well as judicial interpretation of the Act including the scope and expansion of various definitions such as "domestic relationships," "verbal abuse," "economical abuse" and likewise. 4. Highlighted the diversity of the stakeholders of the Act and the negative as well as positive impacts the Act has on these stakeholders, essentially also focusing on the misuse of the Act. 5. Understood the working of the judicial as well as state machinery provided in the Act including protection officers, service providers, etc. 6. Analyzed the procedure of obtaining orders of relief which encompasses the negative as well as positive aspects of the complex process. - MAINTENANCE AND WELFARE OF PARENTS AND SENIOR CITIZENS ACT, 2007: 1. Understood obligations imposed by the Act on the appropriate government, and their adherence to the same- such as those set out under Sections 19 (establishment of old age homes) and Section 20 (Medical support for senior citizens) of the Act. 2. Critically analyzed various judicial interpretations of the Act such as judicial pronouncements on appeals under the Act, transfer of property under Section 23, and overlapping features of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act 2007 and the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act 2005. 3. Achieved a broader understanding of the working of Tribunals and other state and judicial machinery through an examination of Maintenance Tribunals. 4. Assessed the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Amendment bill 2019 and contrasted the same with the current Act in force.

Key Takeaways	- Participants were able to identify the advancements and drawbacks of the Acts. - Participants had an increased awareness of the stigma and stereotypes surrounding domestic violence and its victims, as well as the maintenance of senior citizens. - Participants had a comprehensive understanding of the role of judiciary in the application of the Acts, especially in certain cases where there is ambiguity in the provisions. - Participants have gained insight on the ways the Domestic Violence Act can be misused by way of false allegations and the recourse available in those cases and the gaps in implementation of the Senior Citizens Act. - Participants will have gained knowledge of the mechanisms that are in place to facilitate access to justice for victims of Domestic Violence Act and Senior Citizens Act. - Participants were able to expand their knowledge regarding the Act and its connection to the present circumstances through the panel discussion and various papers presented.
Summary of the Activity	- The Gender Studies Committee together with the Public Policy and Governance Committee hosted a Seminar on the 21st of September on the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 and the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007. - The seminar invited papers on the sub-issues:- 1. Domestic Violence Intervention in Healthcare 2. Covid 19 and its impacts on Domestic Violence 3. The Economics of Domestic Violence

	4. Rights of daughters-in-law versus Rights of Parents-in-laws 5. Intersectional and Cross-cultural Perspectives on Domestic Violence 6. The legislative intent of the Senior Citizens Act and evaluate its impact on relevant stakeholders and society at large. 11. Obligations imposed by the Senior Citizens Act on the appropriate government, and their adherence to the same-such as those set out under Sections 19 (establishment of old age homes) and Section 20 (Medical support for senior citizens) of the Act. 12. An analysis of various judicial interpretations of the Act, eg: judicial pronouncements on appeals under the Act, transfer of property under Section 23, and overlapping features of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act 2007 and the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act 2005. 13. Understanding the working of Tribunals and other state and judicial machinery through an examination of Maintenance Tribunals.

	14. Assessing the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Amendment bill 2019 and contrast the same with the current Act in force. - The winning papers were awarded.

Impact Analysis:

The student's response, on committee engagement was:

a) They understand the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 and the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007.

b) They are sensitised regarding the problems and concerns faced by women in the country with respect to safety in the household and at work.

c) They have a comprehensive understanding of the role of the judiciary in the application of the Acts, especially in cases with ambiguity.

d) They had the opportunity to deliberate on the mechanisms regarding the Acts and their connection to present circumstances through the Speakers' discussion and the opportunity to present papers.

a) They were introduced to judicial machinery including Protection Officers and Service Providers for domestic violence and Maintenance Tribunals for senior citizens.

b) They are now familiar with the real-life problems of stigma and stereotypes surrounding victims of domestic violence, and the hardships of maintenance of senior citizens.

Summary of the Activity (description)

Highlights of the Activity	The reading circle was organised by the Gender Studies committee to spark a dialogue regarding the inclusivity of #meToo movement in particular and feminism in general especially in university spaces.
Key Takeaways	- The articles 'Decolonizing Feminism in the #MeToo Era' by Ritty Lukose, New York University and 'The lesbian and gay studies reader' edited by Henry Abelove,Michele Aina Barale, David M. Halperin were circulated for the discussion. - A discussion based on these regarding intersectionality and feminism was carried out.

Summary of the Activity	Reading Circle was a pan-university event which attracted students and teachers alike. It was a constructive dialogue regarding the validity of #MeToo movement and what exactly does it try to achieve. We also discussed the relationship between legal recourse to sexual harassment and justice through #MeToo movement. The dissolution moved on to the friction between the modern day feminism and the traditional feminists. The problem of inclusivity within the #me too and changes in the sexual harassment redresssal mechanisms in Indian institutions was also discussed at great length.
Follow-up plan	Sensitization amongst the students of School of Law about various matters that are relevant in present times centred on the intersection of feminism and gender identity to various other aspects.

Summary of the Activity (description)

Highlights of the Activity	The screening aided to showcase a positive, healthy queer relationship with a happy ending. Movies about queer couples also unnecessarily fetishize the characters and draw them from the male gaze, whereas this movies does the opposite of that.
Key Takeaways	- It enabled development of the understanding of difficulties that a queer person faces to with a conservative family and the struggles to hide one's own identity in their own family. - It also portrays the process of coming out and the struggles associated with it.
Summary of the Activity	The movie was screened in a classroom to enable a disciplined, academically observant viewing experience.

Follow-up plan	Continue sensitization among the students of School of Law through mass media, by making movie suggestions and reviews through the Gender Studies Committee Instagram page from time to time and through the upcoming edition of the Gender Studies Committee bi-annual newsletter “FLUID”

Summary of the Activity (description)

Highlights of the Activity	The elocution competition was organised by the committee members to provide a platform for students to engage in discourse centred around feminism and gender theory.
Key Takeaways	- Participants were asked to provide an extempore speech on themes relating to feminism, sexuality and gender studies. - Participants were asked to speak for 5 minutes and were tested on their knowledge and speaking skills.
Summary of the Activity	The event was conducted for the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th years and LLM batches. The session was successful in inviting participants form the student body from law school to engage in a fruitful discourse on contemporary matters related to feminism and gender. There were two rounds in the elocution. In the first round, all the participants were given topics by a draw-of-lots and asked to speak on their topic for 5 minutes. 5 participants qualified to the second round where they were asked to provide an analysis of legal policies- to determine the status quo and what changes they would bring about. Both rounds were conducted successfully.

Summary of the Activity (description)

Highlights of the Activity	This orientation was organized by the Gender Studies Committee and to brief the fifth year students at school of law on the university policy with regards to sexual harassment.
Key Takeaways	- The student body was briefed on what could classify as sexual harassment at the workplace and the ways it can be addressed - They were also briefed on the procedure of filing a complaint to the ICC - They were also taken through the differences in the POSH Act and the University Policy with regards to the complaints redressal, with relevant sections being discussed.
Summary of the Activity	The fifth year students at school of law, Christ (Deemed to be University) assembled in 2 slots in room 911 for the orientation. The orientation was conducted by Shilpi Roy Chowdhury, faculty co-ordinator of the Gender Studies Committee. The Orientation primarily dealt with what can be classified as sexual harassment at the workplace and the features of the POSH Act. It also addressed the ways in which harassment at the workplace can be addressed (setting of boundaries, confrontation, consciousness raising) and the procedure to file a complaint to the ICC. In the final part of the orientation, the students were given an insight into the institutional policy with regards to sexual harassment and the ICC. The students were encouraged to ask questions on the policy and redressal mechanisms to prevent them from leaving with any ambiguities or confusion in their minds.
Follow-up plan	Further orientations are to be conducted for the fourth, third, second and first year LLB students and for the LLM students. Annual orientations are to be conducted for every incoming and final-year batch of the LLB Hons programmes and the LLM programme.

Summary of the Activity (description)

Highlights of the Activity	International Women's Day is celebrated on 8th March as a call to action to accelerate gender parity and achieve our goals of equality across all spectrums. On account of International Women's Day, The Gender Studies Committee conducted an event celebrating and recognizing challenges faced by women. The theme of the panel discussion was "Power, Perceptions and Gender" and concerns the wide ranging topic of women in the workforce, in power hierarchies and how media and other institutions perceive them.

Key Takeaways	- Prior to the panel, a small clip from the documentary titled 'Miss Representation' was screened, highlighting the role of women in leadership and politics, particularly focusing on the current situation in the USA. - This allowed the panel to focus on India and the South Asian diaspora more specifically, paving way for a healthy discussion.
Summary of the Activity	The Seminar was held for the 1st to 4th Year Law Students. It was a constructive dialogue regarding the discourse about the role of women in politics, following the aspects that were highlighted in the video. The speakers also highlighted the role of women in all occupational spheres, specifically in positions of power and leadership while exploring the connection between creating safe workplaces and the increase in the employment of women. Lastly the seminar also highlighted the role of women's representation in the media.
Follow-up plan	Sensitization amongst the students of School of Law about various matters that are relevant in present times centred on the intersection of feminism and gender identity to various other aspects.

Editorial.

The elucidation of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus's magazine 'Karwaan' can be best portrayed as a misconstrued persona found hiding along the verses of Urdu Poetry. The ever-so-sensitive Urdu poetry sympathises with the agonies of the misread word, affirming its reality by defining it as a 'vehicle that accompanied a harmonious group of individuals on their voyage'. Grasping the illusionistic spectacle offered by Urdu poetry, Christites shuffled into the pages of their first-ever magazine.

The first-years of our campus entered as half-dazed insomniacs fueled by caffeine and validation, roaming the halls desperately trying not to lose their marbles getting caught up in the symphonies of the Daedalian orchestra titled 'university'. Karwaan attempts to articulate and illustrate every orchestral interlude of our campus.

The Department of Media Studies, a bunch of equally befuddled first years' were entrusted with the curation of it all. Standing at the gates of our campus, they were asked to abridge the campus in all its glory, extracting its essence. We tirelessly scrounged every nook of our campus, attempting to narrate the tales of everyone that came under the mighty wing of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus.

In the midst of it all, we saw our department and its students fall into place much like a jigsaw puzzle waiting to be solved. The reporters went above and beyond in search of stories with flavour and characters with panache, the editors critiqued every word that made it to the pages with a sieve for perfection, the photographers aligned to capture the most palatable shots of the stories brewed and the designers delineated the enticing anecdotes onto the salver. Every slice of Karwaan was carefully picked to be the most delectable to serve the reader and its legacy shall remain unmatched for the years to come.

DR FR BENNY THOMAS

- By Ananya Goenka (BACP-B) and Yash Kashyap (BACP-B)

Dr Fr Benny Thomas has been a part of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University for almost 20 years. His constant support and expertise have been a pillar of strength, not only for the Yeshwanthpur campus but across other campuses as well. His knowledge of Computer Science and Technology has immensely contributed to the growth of the University. Owing to his major involvement with the process, he was able to brief us about the history of our campus. It is the second biggest campus of CHRIST University and is still growing. The land was brought from the St. Paul Society by the former Vice Chancellor Thomas C. Mathew and his team. The land and sale deed was registered on 24th April, 2017. The foundation stone of this campus was laid on 19th June 2020 in the presence of Chancellor Father George Edayadiyl. The inauguration of this campus was held on 15th August, 2022 by the esteemed Chancellor Father Paul Achandy.

On 18th August 2022, a new journey began and the campus was set in motion for its academic start.

It was inaugurated by former Vice Chancellor Thomas C. Mathew. This was a joyous occasion for all, filled with aspiration and hope.

Father Benny elaborated that this campus is formed to adhere to the New Education Policy and implement the dual-major programme. Establishing the campus near the industrial area also facilitates an academic and industrial connection giving students exposure through fieldwork and internships.

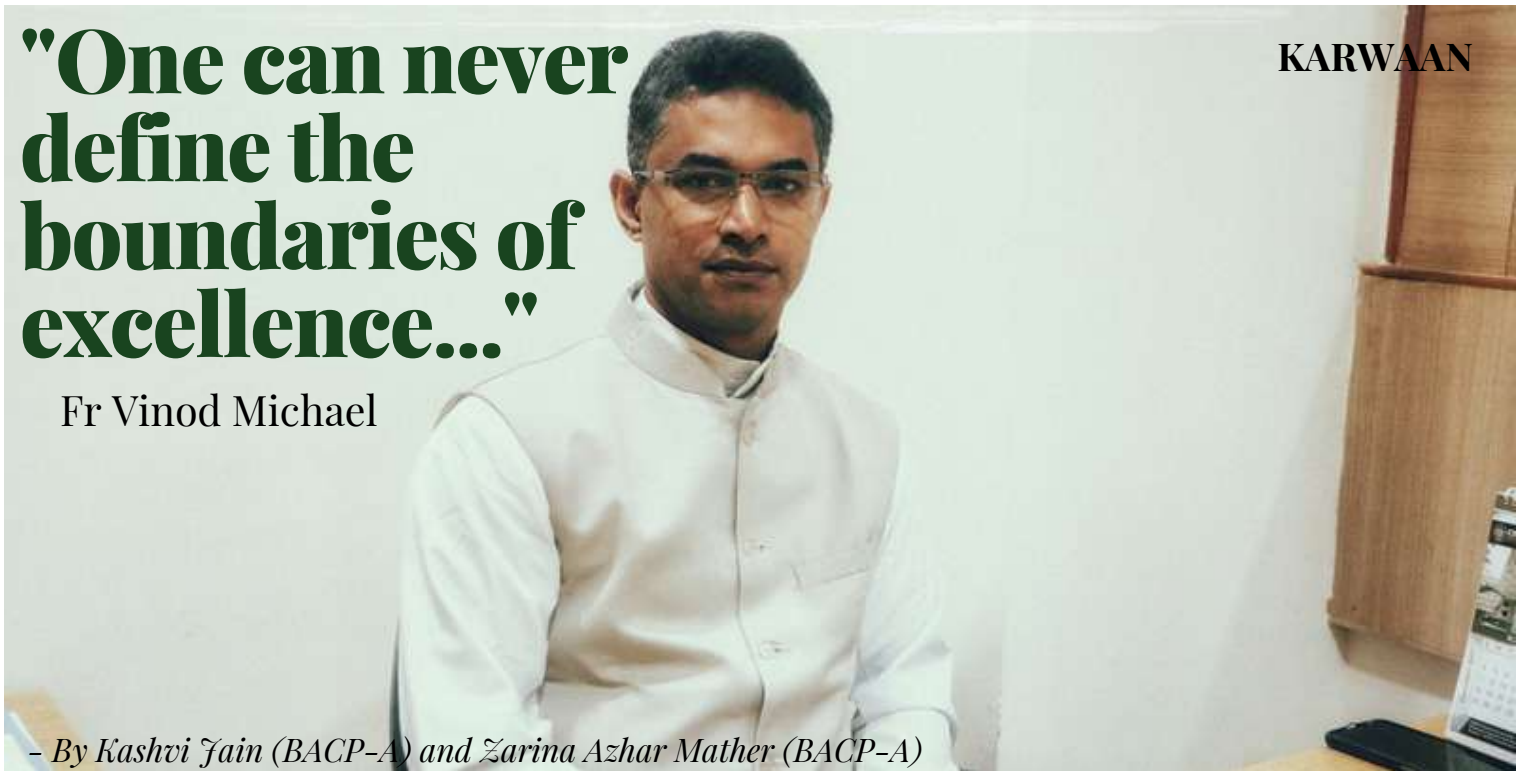
Every campus has a vision and a goal that they wish to achieve. The connivance of every faculty member and student gives this process of decision-making a sense of belongingness. Father Benny believes this goal is not something that is set in stone but is rather dynamic. As a result, the vision for the campus is still being formulated and nurtured through constant brainstorming.

Father Benny also shared with us his favourite part about the whole campus. It is the delightful smiles of the students that make his day. He also has a special place for the faculty who are willing to commute to the unconventional location of the campus and was delighted to mention how everything has been working in harmony and is coming together cohesively.

According to him, every Christite has a few qualities that make them distinct from others. He said, “I can recognize a Christite 100 metres away, just from the way they present and hold themselves in a crowd”. The values that make us unique and set us Christites apart are:- Faith in God, Moral Uprightness, Love of Fellow Beings, Social Responsibility, and Pursuit of Excellence. Father was also ecstatic while telling us about the constant inaugurations and celebrations on campus like “Magnificat”, a Christmas-themed event held in the month of December with the campus being decorated beautifully with lights and a crib. It was an uplifting and heart-warming conversation. Learning about our campus and what it holds for us in the future was illuminating.

"One can never define the boundaries of excellence..."

Fr Vinod Michael



- By Kashvi Jain (BACP-A) and Zarina Azhar Mather (BACP-A)

Back in the 14th century, there lived an emperor in Delhi whose actions accused him of being an "inhuman eccentric." He went by the name of Muhammad Bin Tughlaq and was indubitably, one of the most enigmatic characters in Indian history. Reverend Father Vinod Micheal, a man we know to be one with a solemn persona and narrow pensive eyes, had once upon a time played the mighty character on stage. The profound yet dynamic individual that he was seemed to remain a mystery at the start.

During his childhood, he indulged in sports and photography, and stumbled upon theatre as well. All of which moulded him into the man he is today. From his experience, it is evident that extracurriculars were synonymous with the role played by a deuteragonist in the convoluted play we call life. That being said, one cannot ignore the subtle verdicts given by their academic performances. Interestingly, we hold the power over those verdicts.

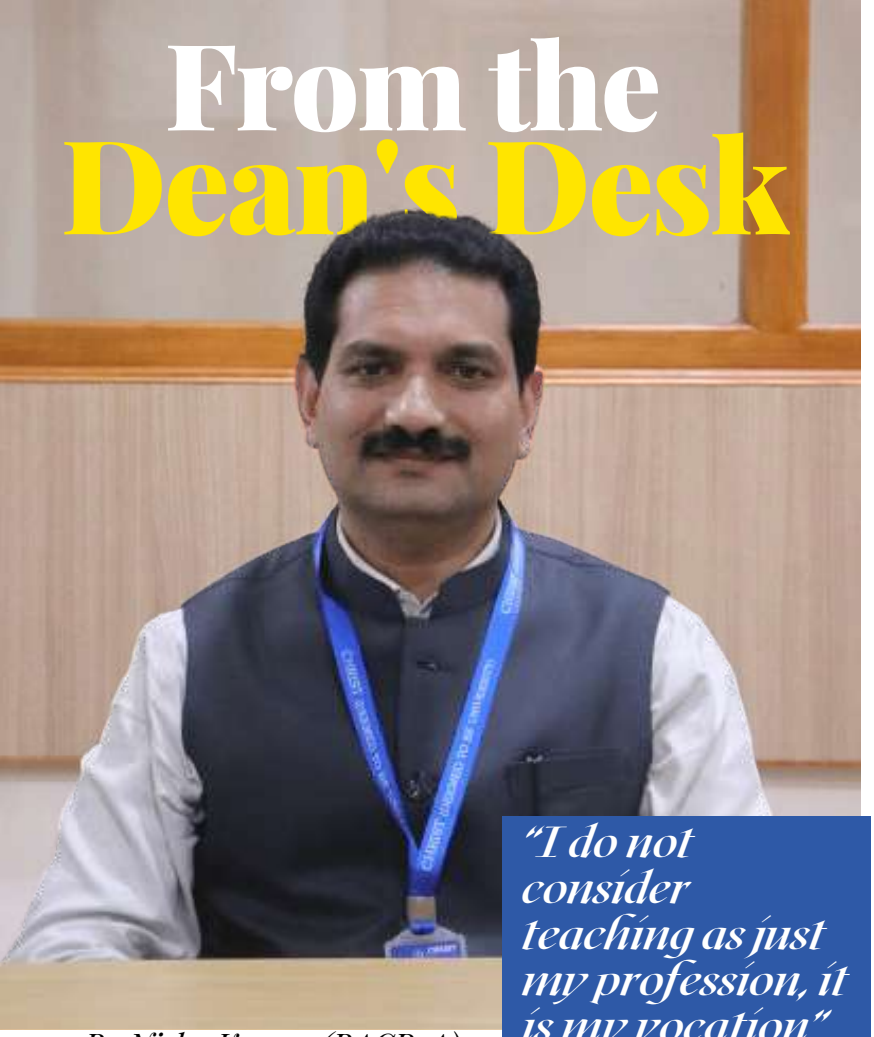
His childhood had directed him toward a degree in Communication, English and Psychology. While the first two subjects had resorted to the backseat, psychology thrived during then. But time interrupted his rhythm and led him toward the world of English and Literature. Somewhere along the way, he found himself educating children in Uttarakhand. Realizing that English was a subject without enough educators in the rural nooks of the country, he took it upon himself to become one, setting an example to all the students that would later come under his wing.

'Excellence and Service' wasn't just a time-old tale told by CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, its alumni and students have evidently adopted its doctrine into their legacy. To him, literature extended beyond the gates of spirituality, far and wide into eclecticism. He had arrived in front of the paperback door only to be greeted by the melodramatic yet grandiose 'Classics', and invited in to exchange pleasantries with the rest of the humble characters within the walls of literature. He met and pondered upon the meaning of life with the wide and wistful 'Philosophy', contemplated the subtle paradoxes of the human mind with 'Psychology' and made it his point to have a chat with everyone that walked those halls. Reading wasn't just a mindful activity, it was the art of building relationships with the theories and characters that resided within those pages.

When asked how he managed his stressful career, he took a long pause and replied with the word "Community", a time-old solution to share the weight of the world with others so one wouldn't fall into a state of despair. While individuals of different backgrounds and statuses roamed the halls of CHRIST, the question as to how we ought to bring everyone under the umbrella of the 'CHRIST community' remained unanswered. Confronting the unsettling diversity seemed to act as a hurdle in the process, but was simply articulated by Father Vinod as a tactic to build relationships if only one were to emerge confidently. With time, Christites would fall into place like the pieces of a puzzle, ever so slowly yet steadily. They would emerge as a community with nothing short of gumption.

While commenting on the vision of the campus, Father Vinod touched upon the volatile theory that everyone evolved with time. One can never define the boundaries of excellence because "What may be considered best today, may not be the best tomorrow". But one must make sure that he throws on his best performance regardless of the critic that sit across.

From the Dean's Desk



"I do not consider teaching as just my profession, it is my vocation"

-By Nisha Kumar (BACP-A) and Kashvi Jain (BACP-A)

"How could I be more relevant for the student community? is what I ask myself every day as I punch in to enter the University", says Dr Joby Thomas, Dean of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus, Bangalore. "I draw my relevance from the vision and mission statements of the University. I firmly believe that my presence should facilitate effective contributions to society." By making conscious efforts to connect with the students, he constantly tries to impart in them the values and skills unique to a Christite.

Dr Joby Thomas embarked on his teaching journey in 2001. "It was a dream come true when I got a job as an Assistant Professor at CHRIST", he says reminiscing the time he developed his fascination towards CHRIST when he accompanied students during his time as a guest lecturer at Mangalore University. Coordinating and executing placement activities, department and college level events, participating in the curriculum development committee, and being a holistic education trainer at CHRIST, aided not only the students but also him in amplifying his leadership qualities.

The new Yeshwanthpur campus too, he claims, would open up a wide arena of opportunities for the students. "It is true that the locality of our campus is not as developed compared to the other campuses. But that won't curb the development of our students in any way," he says. This wonderous rural-urban blend would, in fact, expand their knowledge and give the students a better understanding of the marginalized section of the society. The aim is to expedite the upliftment of the adjoining community through various academic activities.

His vision for this campus is to provide all the students equal opportunities and build an environment to practice excellence and contribute to the service of society despite the existing barriers.

"I was in the first batch too. We did not have seniors to guide us," he says recalling his undergraduate years at Pazhassi Raja College, Kerala. Along with his peers, he had then published a manuscript called "AYANAM, a travel magazine. They would hold regular meetings and devote time towards improving vocabulary by reading Reader's Digest and having intellectual discussions. With library books being limited in number, he resorted to CDs of Encarta, a digital encyclopedia. "Constructive utilization of technology is important for students," he remarks.

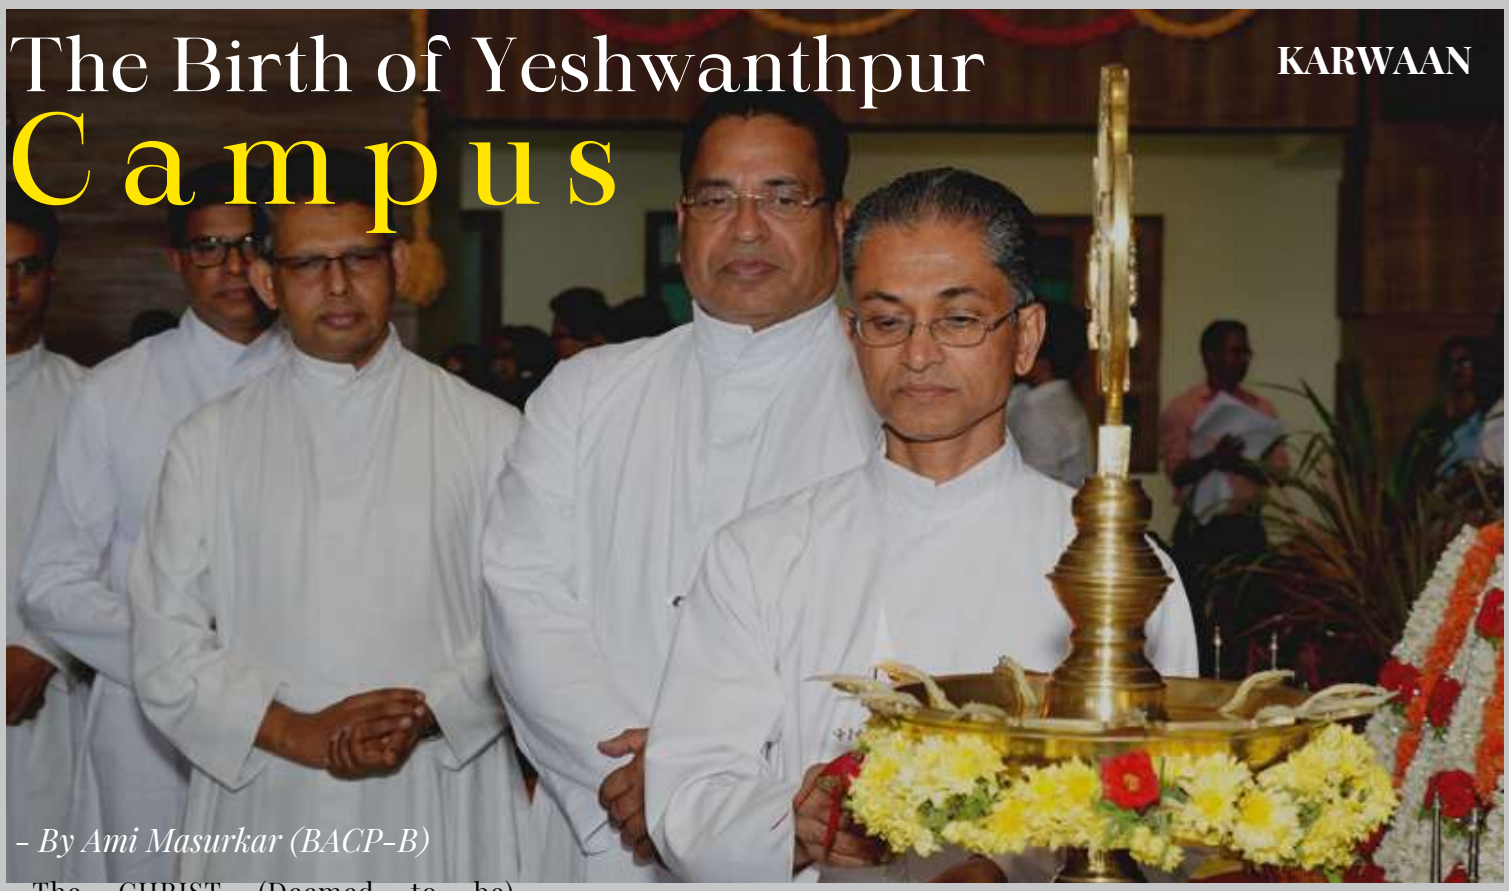
According to him, college life moves beyond the boundaries of a campus. Dr Thomas, an ardent travel enthusiast, toured various places during his college days and funded the same from cash prizes he won from quiz competitions. "I won the South Indian regional quiz competition held on the occasion of the 50th Independence Day," he says with a tinge of pride in his eyes.

Nostalgia washes over him, as he walks us through his student life. While pursuing his master's from Indore, Madhya Pradesh, the linguistic barrier was an eminent problem he faced, much similar to what students in Bangalore are currently facing. To overcome these hurdles, he suggests the students talk to local vendors and connect with the community. "The presence of this institute should be cherished by the locals here," Dr Joby Thomas says.

The campus undeniably lays out a list of challenges for both the students and the faculties. But overcoming those challenges, as the Dean suggests, will unlock the dormant creativity in the students and pave the way for improvement. "I firmly believe that the students from the first batch of the Yeshwanthpur campus will come out as confident and responsible individuals who are also considerate towards society and strive to constantly seek innovation in every field they go in," he states with utmost conviction.

Eighteen years in the University and his enthusiasm to come to college has never dampened. One can always find Dr Joby Thomas in the morning with a bag in his hand and a smile on his face, cheerfully walking toward his cabin, greeting everyone on the way.

The Birth of Yeshwanthpur Campus



- By Ami Masurkar (BACP-B)

The CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus, the latest addition to the CHRIST fraternity is situated in the quaint little townlet of Nagasandra, Bangalore. Though expeditious, the herculean task of creating the campus dealt with an enormous amount of groundwork. Yeshwanthpur, Nagasandra was chosen as the prime location for this campus, keeping in mind the industrial connections it would provide to the students.

In a conversation with Father Dr Benny Thomas, he walked us through the timeline of the creation of this university. The land on which the magnificent campus sits was bought from St. Paul Society by the former vice-chancellor Dr Thomas C. Mathew and his team. The sale deed was registered in the month of April 2017. With the foundation stone being laid on the 19th of June 2020; the inauguration ceremony of the campus was graced by Father George Edayadiyl, who was the Chancellor then. The reason for the creation of this campus can largely be attributed to the New Education Policy as per which, students are given the opportunity to opt for dual majors.

The Yeshwanthpur campus was solemnly inaugurated on the 15th of August by Chancellor Father Paul Achandy marking history in the lives of two thousand-odd students. This momentous occasion was observed by the enthusiastic students of the Yeshwanthpur Campus who were eagerly waiting to start classes and commence their college life. The days that followed the inauguration witnessed orientation sessions for all the new Christites, where they were briefed about their respective courses and classes.

On the 18th of August, the academic beginning of the campus was officially inaugurated by Prior General of CMI congregation and former Vice Chancellor Fr Dr Thomas C. Mathew. Ever since, the campus has been lit up with the smiles of the students who, as Father Benny rightly remarked, bring life to this campus. The rest is now upon us Christites, to create legacy as the first batch of this newly established campus.

Cele Fiesta

-By Yash Kashyap (BACP-B)

"As someone who attended the entire event and was witness to all the festivities, I can confidently say that after two challenging weeks of CIA, this was exactly the thing we needed. The positive and upbeat atmosphere that surrounded these events and the relief from a monotonous schedule with the bonus of tasty food and beverages was a great way to relax and have some fun."

An event that captured everyone's attention, Cele Fiesta was a sight to behold. Cele Fiesta was held on 20th October and was an expressive conduit for talent and a fun fest to cure CIA fatigue. SWO organized numerous dance and music performances to keep the energy levels high and have all eyes on them.

Ever wondered if you could find delicious cupcakes, fun games, yummy pani-puris and more in a single place? Cele Fiesta managed to do just that. The key factor in having a successful fest is the amount of participation. We saw students from all departments rallying up to participate in the event. It was fascinating to witness everyone interacting and becoming more at ease with one another.

Teachers' Day

- By Samriddhi Srivastava (BACP-A)

The years we spend at college will live on in our memories for the rest of our lives, and they are undoubtedly some of the best ones. When mornings evolve into evenings and friends become family, we remember the friends we make and the time we spend hanging out in the canteen discussing everything from class notes to gossip. Who do we turn to, though, when times go tough? Without a doubt, our teachers, yes. They do have a significant impact on how we navigate the emotional rollercoaster we call "college life." It's been said that professors can transform a student's life with the perfect combination of challenges and chalk.

The Yeshwanthpur campus students celebrated their maiden Teachers' Day with astounding dance performances, mind-blowing shows, and melodious musical medleys with songs from nearly every state. The basement was brimming with happiness when everyone joined in with the university music club's rendition of "Koi Mil Gaya". And that's not all, "picture abhi baaki hai mere dost". Our teachers added to the evening's entertainment by performing on stage with us, from Thirunarayana Murthi sir making the whole crowd tap their feet in glee with his groovy dance to Krishna ma'am mesmerizing everyone while singing "Mere Dholna". The event, to put it mildly, was a magnificent success. Christites radiated utmost respect and cheerful zeal that day.

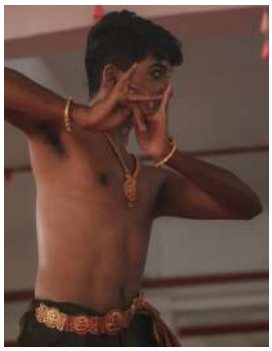
A PROFUSION OF TALENTS

- By Swati Bhatnagar (BACP-A)

DARPAN is the mirror that reflects the true potential of every Christite. An intra-university fest conducted by the Student Welfare Office (SWO) is a boiling pot of culture and an exceptional opportunity for all Christites to be well, in Harry Potter terms, the chosen one. It is a talent search where undiscovered student talents are sought for. The winners make up the cultural team of the university, with so many platforms where they can compete either individually or in groups. It is a fusion of several courses showcasing their talents. This year, CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus hosted its first-ever large-scale event, DARPAN 2022, comprising multiple memorable events that kickstarted on a scholastic note on 19th September with Debate and Photography being its inaugural events, while some events like Collage and Quiz took place on 20th September. The argumentative contestation during the debate competition supplemented the creative photography event that ran parallel. Collage making and quizzes added the much-needed zest to the day. Continuing with the scholastic theme, Creative Writing along with artistic events like Indian Classical Singing (Solo) and Mandala Art were organized on 21st September and were, as usual, an absolute hit among the students.

22nd September saw some more creative and colorful events like Painting and Mime. Subsequently, fun and thrilling events like Dumb Charades and Cartooning were organized on 23rd September, providing much-needed excitement among the not-so-fun CIA routine.

We all know there have been no fests in history that lacked dance as an event, and DARPAN was no exception. Indian Dance Solo (Classical and Folk/Film) took place on 24th September, accompanied by Sketching. With Navratri starting on the 26th of September, the Indian Duet Dance added more joy and festivity to the whole event while being complemented by Junk Art. Be it photography or quiz, Mandala Art or Debate, Dance or Mime, Painting or Dumb Charades, DARPAN had the best of all worlds. This 11-day fest was absolutely thrilling, extraordinary, and fantastical. Firsts always do matter; looking back to the very first DARPAN of Yeshwanthpur campus, it was unaruably a mega-hit.



Open mic

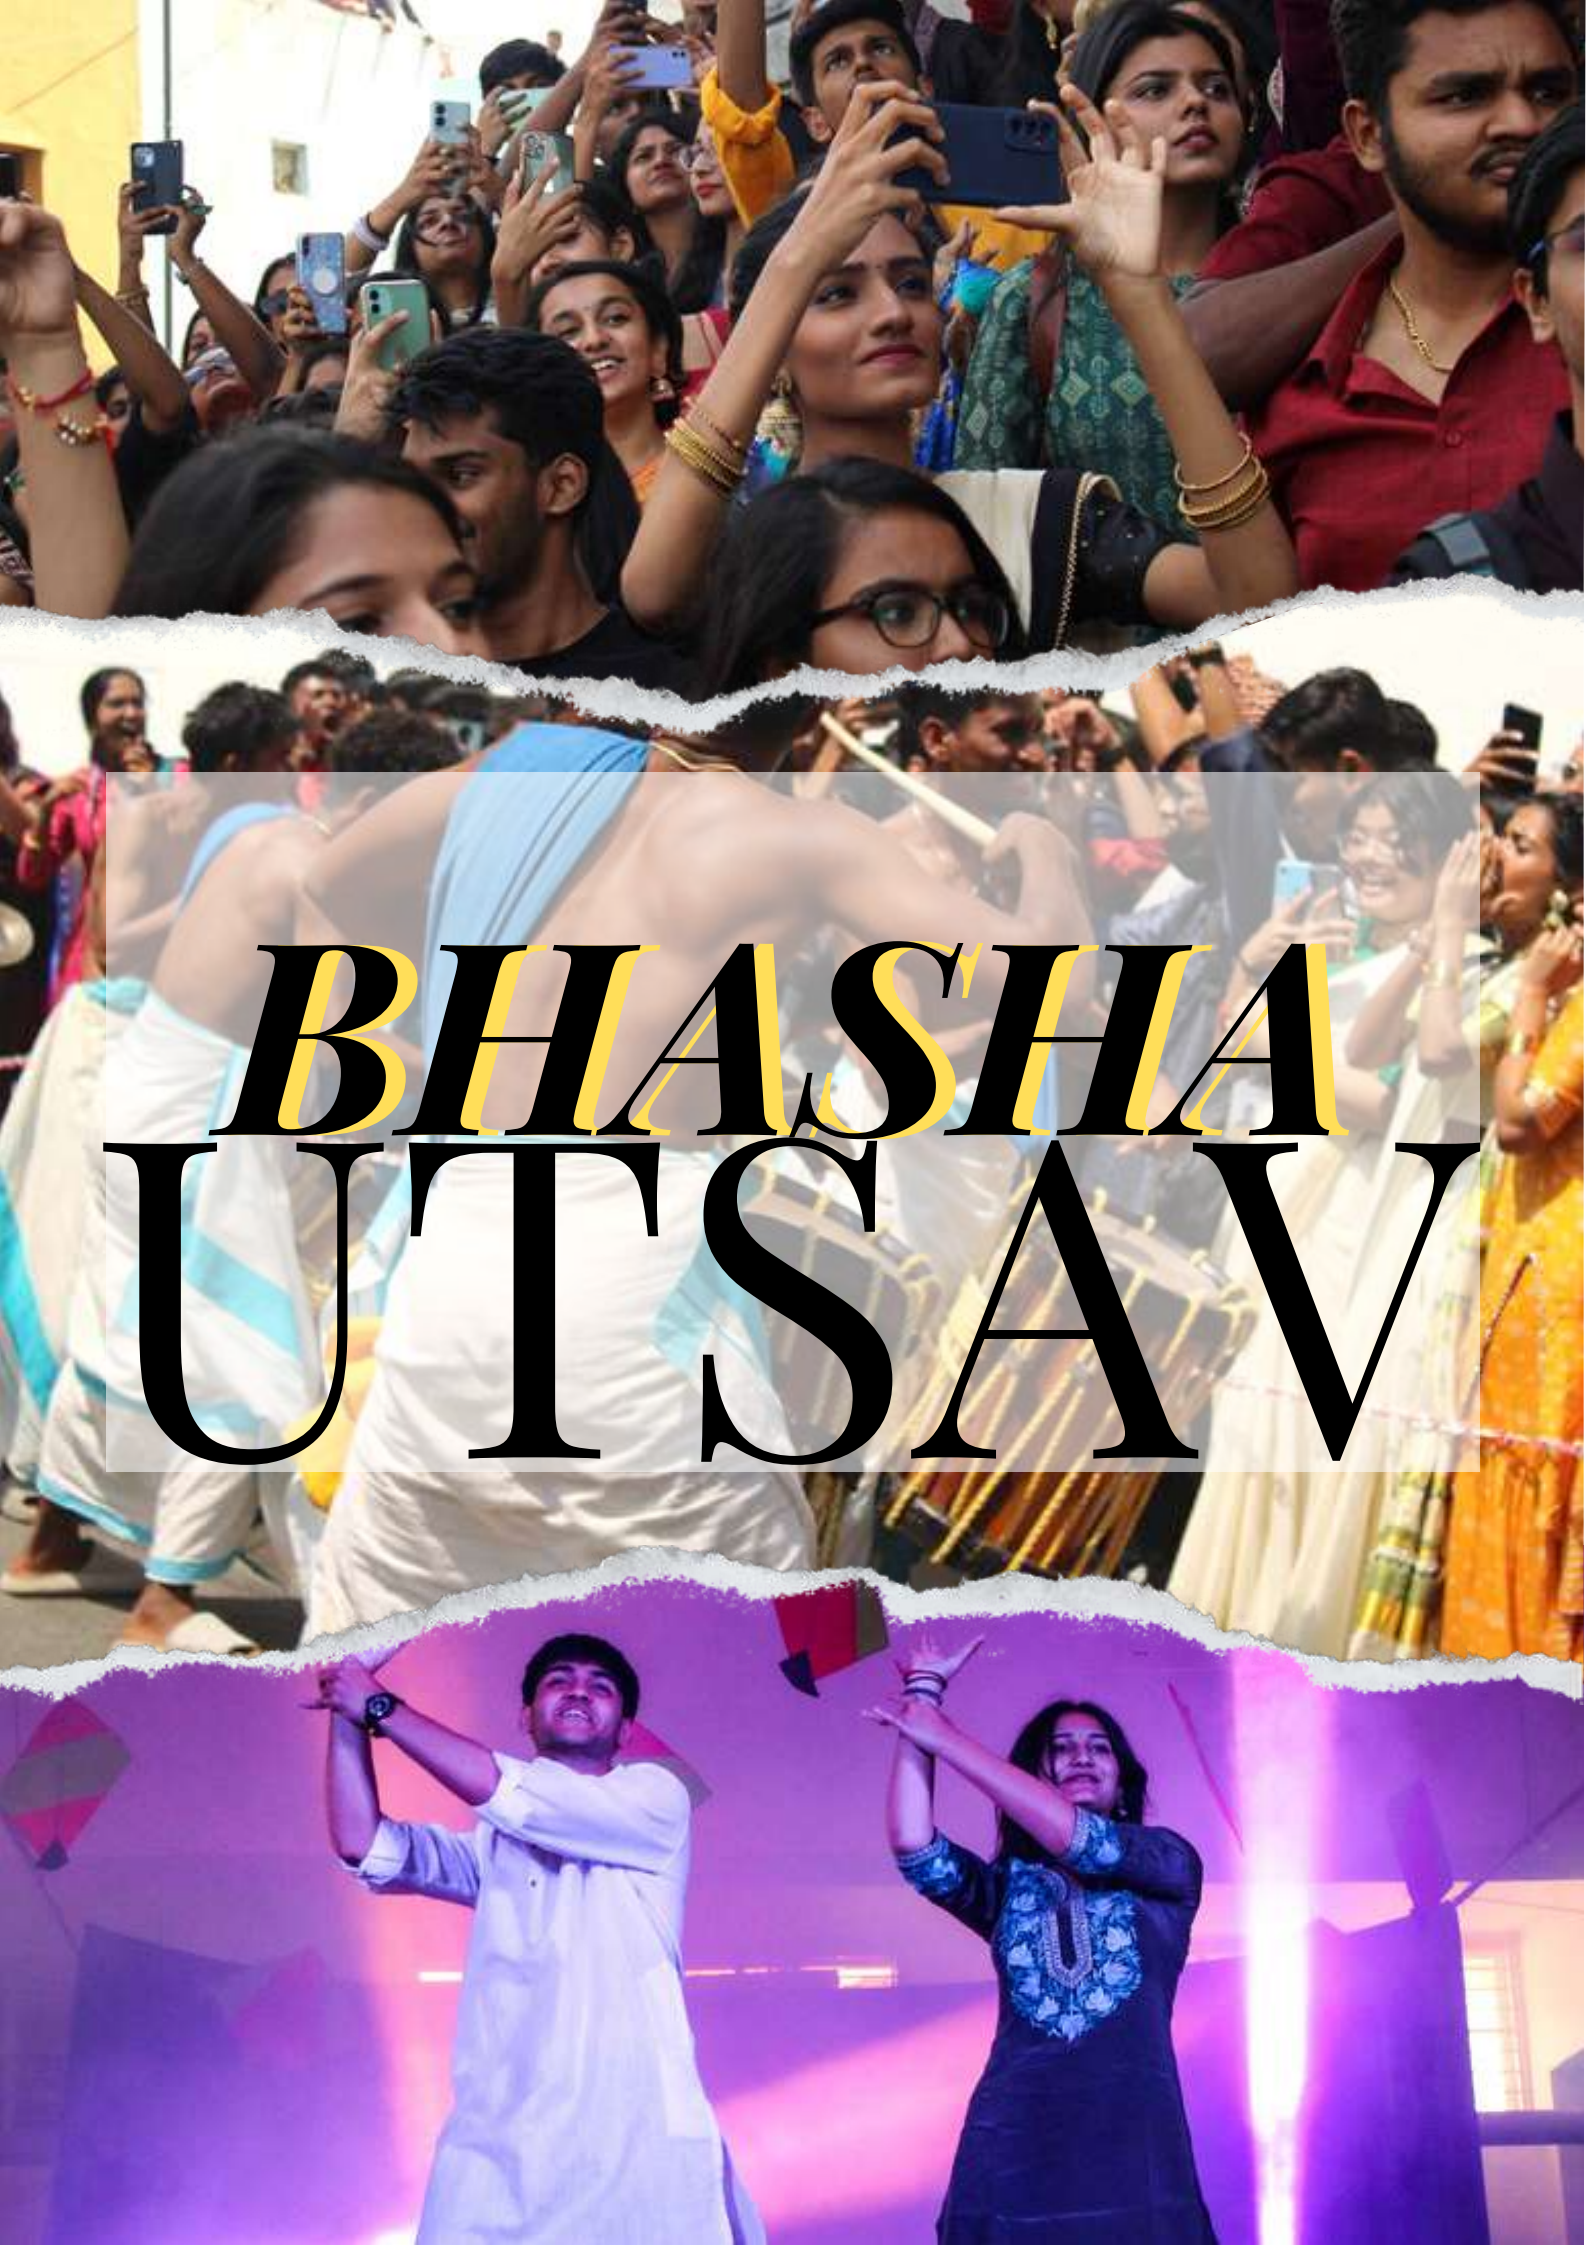
- By Diya Jain (BACP-B)

The first ever CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus's event was held on 3rd September, '22. 'Christites Got Talent' was an open mic event organized by the postgraduate students of the English Department. A variety of dance, musical, and slam poetry performances were presented at the event.

Students from various departments took part in the musical and dance performances.

The three primary dance performances: were one to the rhythm of a devotional song, one by the postgraduate students of the department of English and Cultural Studies, and one combining all departments to a Bollywood theme.

A speech by the English Department's Programme Coordinator, Arun Sir, and a note of gratitude from the MA English with CS Class Representative, Suravi Mishra, marked the event's conclusion.



BHASHA UTSAV

I wish for every student to become responsible global citizens by discovering the purpose of their lives

Dr Vineeth M

PROGRAMME COORDINATOR, DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

- By Simran Bhattarai (MA AE)

Dr Vineeth M, the Program Coordinator of the Department of Economics, was always interested in public policy and administration. When he was in school he had initally planned to pursue MBBS. But his concerns about social issues like poverty alleviation, his empathetic and generous nature, his exposure to the plight of common people, and the advice of his then District Collector, influenced him to take up economics in his higher studies with the ambition of becoming a civil service officer. However, life had other plans, and he took up academics after falling in love with economic research and econometrics. Economics is considered an important part of social science, and according to him, it has immense potential in every field due to the fact that a fundamental understanding of economics is required for civil services, public policy-making, market analysis, financial consultancy, banks, and even start-ups.

When asked about the Department of Economics, he remarked that it is one of the oldest departments of the university and has created a legacy of providing quality education, which is reflected in the students' achievements like getting admissions into the world's leading educational institutes, placements in leading MNCs, and winning numerous laurels, namely the Best Researcher Student Award, the Young Economist Award, and the Best Research Paper Award. The exceptional faculty, skill development classes, fests, and various co- and extracurricular events, along with opportunities to conduct their own independent research, help the student's holistic development. Dr Vineeth wants every student to become responsible global citizens by discovering the purpose of their lives, expanding their strengths, working on their weaknesses, and thereby transforming into better versions of themselves.

Cognoscere

- By Simran Bhattarai (MA AE), Aparna M (ECOH B) and Aastha Nair (ECOH A)

Upon the inception of the Yeshwanthpur campus, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bangalore, the students of the Economics department immediately went through a series of orientation programs that took place throughout August. On the 26th of August, the department conducted an alumnus meeting with Harshit Garg, who spoke about dissertations, research basics, and ethics. This was immediately followed by another alumnus meeting on August 27th with Shubham Anand, who gave valuable insights into placements, skill enhancement courses, and internships.

MA students attended an online expert talk on “Basics of Difference-in-Difference Approach with Two Time Periods,” delivered by renowned Econometrician Professor Jeffrey Wooldridge. A webinar on 'Climate Change Impacts and Vulnerability of Rainfed Farming System in South India,' was conducted by the Central Campus, delivered by Dr. S. Nedumaran (Principal Scientist, ICRISAT, Hyderabad) for M.A. Students. A webinar on ‘Research Process and Experiences,’ conducted by Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), and delivered by renowned professor and researcher Dr. Bisaliah, was executed for M.A. Students.

Another event worth mentioning, the 'Krishi Mela,’ occurred at the University of Agricultural Sciences, Bengaluru, Hebbal. The department witnessed the reality of dryland farming and the different types of crops that fall under it. The entire Mela (fair) was divided into various sections like Agricultural equipment, Agricultural start-ups, and Organic farming. It had multiple varieties of food stalls, followed by the distribution of several samples and pamphlets.

The Economics Association- COGNOSCERE was set up in the month of November with Dr. Yogeshwari S as the president and faculty in charge. Rituparna Kashyap was selected as the Association Secretary. Suzzane Heber Pulikkottil and Ishita Sharma were designated as the association’s Joint Secretaries. The Economics Association comprises students from the departments of BA Economics (Hons) and MA Applied Economics. The association was finally inaugurated on the 3rd of November, preceded by a flash mob on the 2nd of November. The inauguration ceremony was graced by our esteemed chief guest, Dr. M Govinda Rao (former director, NIPFP, New Delhi, member of the 14th Finance commission, currently the chief economic advisor, Brickwork ratings).

The Economic Association arranged for the invited lecture on “The Achilles heel of Indian Public Policy: Diagnosis and Prescription Sans Methodology” by Dr . M.H Suryanarayana (Retd. Professor of Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research Mumbai).

HEAD – DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

– By Harshitha Talasila (BBA F & A) and Diva Kaur (BBA F& A)

> The graduates of this department are sure to be successful as they are not only strong academically but also recognize the need to take an active role in giving back to society.

The Department of Professional Studies offers a unique set of integrated programmes with the focus on the comprehensive and holistic growth of each student. These programmes produce excellent professional profiles for students that prepare them for exceptional employment prospects. The department emphasizes not only on academics but also on co-curricular activities and other extracurricular pursuits that aid in the holistic growth of the students. The members of this department excel in every pursuit since they are made adept at balancing their academics with the many other opportunities that the university offers. The graduates from the programmes of DPS are encouraged to be both socially sensible and ethically responsible. Each programme under of the department have a mandatory course on ethics, so ensure the same.

Overall, the emphasis is on the all-inclusive development of individuals, who is exposed to a variety of opportunities including internships and organization studies, as early as the first semester, that provides an exposure to the corporate world and its functional areas. The graduates of this department are therefore very successful since they are not only strong academically but also recognize the need to take an active role in giving back to society. This department's mission is to encourage each and every person, offer them the tools they need to succeed, and help them discover who they are and what they are genuinely capable of.

Insurgence

- By Harshitha Talasila (BBA F & A)

Insurgence, an event, was conducted by the Department of Professional Studies (DPS), was conducted on 24 September 2022. The event commenced with a mesmerizing dance performance and euphonious singing performances. The students of DPS were all set to make the event a grand success. Conducted in the Audi block of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Yeshwanthpur campus, Insurgence marked the onset of many magnificent events which DPS aims to organize. Hosted by Kris Tanna and Juana Liz Anu, the event was inaugurated by Saswatha Balakumar announcing the various clubs under DPS· such as the Art, Debate, Theatre, FIC, etc. which were the results of months of unyielding efforts by the students of DPS.

Following this, Dr Kavitha, the Head of DPS, spoke of the various achievements and programs offered by the department. She talked about the history and principles behind the evolution of the department. The love and respect she has for DPS were evident, and she captured the audience and enthralled them with department's success stories.

There was also a traditional dance performance by the students of BBA F&A and BCOM F&A. The audience was awestruck by the energy and grace shown by the performers. Afterwards, there was a business quiz. A large number of students participated enthusiastically, turning it into a huge success.

The department's theatre club also presented a brilliant play. Their dedication towards putting on a fabulous performance was shown by their witty dialogues and colourful costumes. Dr Hridhya, Dr Bhagyalakshmi and Dr Kavitha congratulated the team special for their excellent coordination.

Their efforts and constructive criticisms were a huge reason for the success of the stellar event. The event was put together meticulously; every single nuance was taken care of by the students in a well-structured manner. It was a true representation of the magnificence of the Department of Professional Studies.

DR SHRINIVAS

Programme Coordinator, School of Business and Management

- By Teresa Kuruvila (BBA FIB B)

> Business is a field which anyone can pursue, regardless of their prior knowledge and background.

Dr Shrinivas wanted to pursue business, so he took his BBM and then his MBA. He went on to work in the corporate sector for a couple of years before discovering that teaching is what satisfied him the most. So, he switched career paths and has been teaching professionally for over a decade. He shared his personal story as a lesson to all those students joining the department who are not from a business background to persevere and work hard. "I'd encourage them to know that business is a field that anyone can pursue, regardless of their prior knowledge and background," he advised. He believes that one only needs interest, innovative thinking, and an entrepreneurial mindset to become successful in the management field. There is also a provision for bridge courses in integral subjects like math and accounting for students who are unfamiliar with them.

Business and Management is a highly-demanded course in the nation and one of the most reputed courses that the university offers. In addition to the successful flagship programmes of the Central Campus such as BBA, MBA, B. Com, BBA Honours, and B. Com Honours, this Campus also offers the BBA FIB course, a course which was initially started in the Central Campus and was transferred to the Bannerghatta Road Campus later on.

Despite the pandemic, there was a continuous demand for BBA and MBA courses, which proves the undeniable scope of the department. Along with professional training in the subject, there is also a major focus on the holistic development of an individual, which adds to their character-building and employability.

"It is important to note that it is students, not mere buildings, that make a difference," he responded when asked about his thoughts on the campus still being under development. The students are growing alongside the campus. He looks forward to teaching the students in the upcoming years.

BEHIND THE LENS -

The Directors

Department of Media Studies

- By Zarina Azhar Mather (BACP A)

Working in an academic setting is quite new to me. But in the Department of Media Studies, with faculties being very cooperative and students being considerate, I feel like I belong here.

- Dr Rajashekar D, Assistant Professor

Every day in this department is a learning experience for me. The students are already very perspicacious and media-savvy that they motivate me to brush up my own skills

- Anto P Cheerotha, Assistant Professor

The new-fashioned Department of Media Studies in CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanathpur Campus is nothing short of a humble atelier dedicated to tailoring the amateur candidates who would one day be the future of mass media. Having been acknowledged by India Today as the first among the "top emerging colleges of this century" in their 2020 survey, CHRIST has set its standards quite high. Under the tutelage of three adept couturiers, who are well-versed in their field right down to industrial experience, the students work to bring out their creative best to the catwalk. Led by a woman, Dr Nirmala M.N and her teammates Dr Rajashekar and Anto P. Cheerotha indoctrinate a group of young media professionals into nothing short of what can be metaphorically compared to 'Haute couture. With a bountiful background in research, print and digital journalism; they carry a whole slew of needles and threads in their pocket with the aim of sewing together individuals capable of journalistic perfection.

As the first dual major course in CHRIST (Deemed to be) University the curriculum is sculpted with armature built on the grounds of the NEP model. With an excellent media lab, up its sleeve, and a library which aims to accommodate resources illustrating the gusto and fervour of the media world; the Yeshwanthpur Campus's media course is adroit, to say the least.

With eclectic seminars and activities, they never failed to go the extra mile. In the very first week of the first semester, the students were accompanied by their teachers to the central campus for the much-awaited Media Meet where they mingled with diversity and talents across campuses. The Media Meet of 2023 shall begin its journey in the Yeshwanthpur campus all the while witnessing its charms in the process.

The students of our department can be best compared to a colour palette; with each shade distinct from one other. Writers, editors, videographers, cartoonists, photographers and artists co-existed harmoniously within the walls of our classrooms. Adding to the already colourful palette, India exists, from head to toe in all its glory. As the voice of our campus, we ensure that no tale goes untold.

INIKAAS

- By Sakshi Pandey (BACP A)

The Department of Media Studies at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus never sleeps. From the very first week of the semester - we lived the experiences that we dreamt of.

After months of running around, hour-long meetings, sweat and tears came the inauguration of INIKAAS - the Press Club at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University. On 30th September 2022, INIKAAS was inaugurated by Ms Afshan Yasmeen, Senior Assistant Editor of The Hindu, Bengaluru. The event was followed by a logo and promo video launch accompanied by a theatre performance and a musical. The media department did not fail to awe the audience with their witty jokes, dance moves, and soulful singing. The day marked the beginning of a chapter for the Media Department at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur.

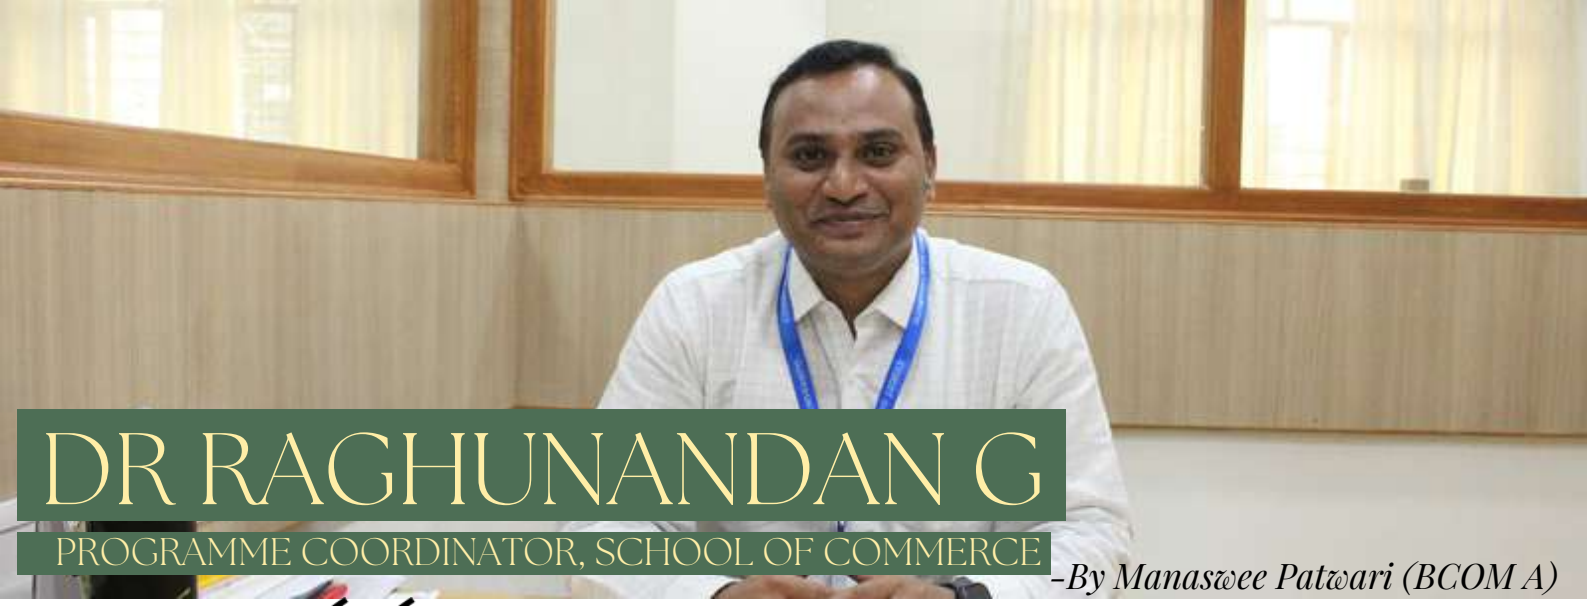
The upcoming week was headed by a guest lecture for the students of the Media Department. The occasion was graced by Ms Smitha Venkatesh and she spoke about the ideologies of the Father of our Nation, Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi. The event concluded by presenting her with a beautiful hand-made paper bouquet.

On 14th November, another enthralling event followed- a media literacy workshop. The workshop was conducted by Mr Yash Pariwal, and Ms Valairose Perera, both PhD students of Media Literacy at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University. The three-hour-long session was informative, and innovative and kept all the students constantly involved and entertained with games, Q&A sessions, etc.

National Press Day is observed on 16th November every year to commemorate the establishment of the Press Council of India. It focuses on the importance of having a free press in a democratic nation.
CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur observed the day by collaborating with the Library and Information Centre as well as by organizing a guest lecture by Prof. Balasubramanian on the topic of 'Media Freedom'.

The whole Department of Media Studies comes alive during the Media Meet - it is the most awaited, bone-chilling event for the students of the department. CHRIST (Deemed to be) University provides this platform to meet and interact with people from the industry and academics. Media Meet creates a forum to share ideas and opinions on topics around the field of media. It was a three-day program conducted in the CHRIST Central and Bannerghatta Campuses and was focused on the topic of 'Media Technologies'.

The event began with a keynote address by Thodur Madabusi Krishna, a Chennai-borne author, activist, vocalist, and Ramon Magsaysay awardee. This was accompanied by panel discussions, guest talks, webinars and workshops, and cultural performances for entertainment.



DR RAGHUNANDAN G

PROGRAMME COORDINATOR, SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

-By Manaswee Patwari (BCOM A)

A learned intellectual and the department Head of Commerce, He possesses a display of degrees.

> "It's always what you give back to society that matters."

Dr Raghunandan, while being an all-encompassing teacher, mainly specialises in Finance especially International Finance, Strategic Management, Information Systems and Risk Management.

With an undergraduate degree in Chemical Engineering he went on to pursue MBA in Finance and finally completed his PhD in Information Science. With 8 years of corporate experience and 8 years of academic experience he brings both theoretical and practical knowledge to the classroom.

Being an expert in various fields, he explains the significance of commerce and how it never ceases to exist. "No Country, business or individual can survive without it", he says. He expands on the various sectors besides accountancy, asset management and banking that are thriving with Commerce students, including but not limited to Data Science, Data Analytics, Entrepreneurship, Interior Designing, Algorithm Trading and Research.

The students of Commerce can venture into many fields, he elaborates, because of the multi-disciplinary curriculum, allowing them to be well-versed even in the basics of coding and much more. He very much enjoys teaching Strategic Management, real-life case studies and how to generate intellectual discussions in a classroom space. "Think about channelising your energy into one place and eventually but surely, you will reap benefits from it", he advises. Planning and perseverance are important. He explains the misconceptions about how the need for planning and execution is misunderstood in their vice-versa format. Planning should be 90% and execution should be 10% and not the opposite, he corrects. Most importantly he underlines the importance of believing in oneself and having a focused and strong mind in the face of distractions and hardships.

CUCA inauguration

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE, FINANCE AND ACCOUNTANCY

- By Manaswee Patwari (BCOM A) and Indrani Pathak (BCOM H B)

The much-awaited inauguration of the CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Commerce Association began with the hosts welcoming the esteemed chief guest Dr Karthigai Prakasam, the head of the Department of Commerce, Finance and Accountancy, the respected Dean, Dr Joby Thomas, and Dr Father Benny Thomas, the Director of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus. The coordinator of the Department of Commerce, Finance, and Accountancy, Dr Raghunandan G, was welcomed alongside them. The dignitaries then lit the lamp in accordance with the University's auspicious tradition, followed by Dr Fr Benny Thomas, our Campus Director, and the Dean, Dr Joby Thomas, addressing the audience. Dr Karthigai Prakasam addressed the crowd and proclaimed the association's formal inauguration as well as the inauguration of the clubs within the association.

The core team committee members who will play an important role in the foundation of this prestigious association were introduced by Dr Sushin M. The event drew to an end with a vote of gratitude from Dr Sudha E, the CUCA Faculty Coordinator.

The students then had the chance to express their thanks to everyone who had contributed in any way to the success of the program and this organization. The Commerce Association of the Yeshwanthpur campus got off to a lively start thanks to its inauguration.

Programme Co-ordinator,
Department of Computer Science

- By Bhagyashree Roy (BCA A)

> The most crucial aspect of computer science is problem solving.

I met Vinay Sir in the university cafeteria. As always, Sir was prompt, appropriately dressed and professional. He gave me a wide smile when he saw me, which immediately put my mind at ease.

We talked for a while and then began our interview. The first question I asked was about the significance of the field and the employment opportunities that come with it. He replied that the most crucial aspect of computer science is “problem solving”. Students study the design, development and analysis of software and hardware to solve problems in various business, scientific and social contexts.

Computational thinking & interaction with industry legends and hands-on training in advanced skills will be beneficial to them later in their career.

Upon enquiring about what had inspired him to choose this field as his major and later, his career when he was younger, he explained that when he was in High School, they were not allowed to touch the computer system installed. This created a curiosity in his mind. Questions like "how does it work? What’s inside? Who is answering our questions?" ensued in his mind and motivated him to know more about computers. Games like “Prince”, “Mario”, and “road-rash” also influenced him.

When he could solve the basic programs and puzzles from friends, he gained more confidence to learn computer science. Looking back at his interest in this domain, his teachers too helped him pursue a career in it. According to him, Computer Applications, Digital Skills, Online Tools, Training and Technology Implementation, and Mobile App Development inform the legacy of the subject.

I probed further about the strengths that students shall gain through this course. He replied that apart from the subject knowledge and problem-solving abilities, soft skills and technical skills which are demanded by the industry shall be gained as well.

Towards the end, I asked if he had any tips for students to successfully complete the course and reap its maximum benefits. He gave the following pointers- believe in yourself, organise and plan your work, find your area of interest, master core concepts by reading more and practising, update your knowledge, be up to date with current trends and technology, and interact with teachers.

Department Buzz

- By Bhagyashree Roy (BCA A)

Samagra, the brand new club initiated by the Department of Computer Science offers a variety of programs for all students. It provides an opportunity for everyone to learn and grow together. It was inaugurated on 5th November, in the basement of the academic block.

Dr P. Nandhakumar, UI/UX Designer at ZOHO Technologies graced us with his presence as the Chief guest of the event, accompanied by Father Dr Benny and Dean Dr Joby Thomas. The event lineup included a spectrum of the Welcome speech, Club logo reveal, Club teaser display, Address to the gathering, and a Technical talk by the chief guest.

All thanks to the Program Co-ordinator Dr Vinay M, Co-ordinator Dr Deepa S, and the core members of the club, the event turned out to be a grand success.

SPECTACLES, SCREENS AND BCA-B

- By Ayush Maheshwari (BCA B)

We are the computer science department's Bachelor of Computer Applications, Section-B, or simply BCA-B, in the CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus.

To all the other students from various programmes and departments, we might initially appear to be geeks. To some of them, we are those bespectacled individuals who are constantly occupied with their screens and laptops, while some others attempt to avoid us out of fear that we might ensnare them in our OS.

The students are exceptionally talented and the class is incredibly diverse and exciting. Here you will meet the best artists, writers, dancers, singers, rappers etc, and of course, the best "geeks" of the University.

We are the ideal mix of every genre. So do connect with us more, as we strive to be the finest in every way.

UI/UX Design hands-on training session

-By Ayush Maheshwari (BCA B)

To provide exposure to the first-year BCA students in the computer science department at Yeshwanthpur campus in the vast field of UI/UX, a hands-on training program was organized by Dr Gobinath R. (Associate Professor of the Department of Computer Science).

The 4th and 5th of November, Dr P. Nandhakumar acted as both a guest and presenter at this training session. He is a seasoned professional, experienced in Software Product Management and Development, Web Application Design, UI/UX design and Software Development along with a PhD in computer science. Currently, he is working for ZOHO Technologies Pvt. Ltd.

An extremely engaging and interactive teaching style was used, which was perfect for the students and the two-day training course covered the creation of wireframe models, prototyping guides, websites, and mobile applications.

> Mathematics and fluids are alike. Just like fluids take on the shape of its container, Mathematics can be utilized in any discipline effectively.

Programme Co-ordinator
Department of Mathematics

Dr Pranesh S.

-By Palak Arora (BSc EM)

Dr Pranesh S. is the Programme Coordinator of the Mathematics Department in CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus. Having done his masters and Ph.D. in Applied Mathematics, he has been providing the students with an enriching learning experience at CHRIST University since 1991.

When asked to provide insight about the significance of his field and the various opportunities available for students after pursuing the course, he explained that his specializations include applied Mathematics and fluid mechanics. The essence of Applied Mathematics is that its applications can be found in every field. He further added that fluid mechanics is a practical subject, so it is also used in every field of study. He explained that fluid includes both liquid and gas, and that it is omnipresent. Therefore, just as fluid takes on the shape of its container, Mathematics can also be effectively utilized in every field.

Furthermore, he was asked what inspired him to choose this particular field as a major and career when he was younger. He expressed his love and passion towards Applied Mathematics and how he always had a flair for numbers since his younger days, and that he simply followed his passion.

Dr Pranesh has been teaching in CHRIST (Deemed to be University) for the last thirty-two years, covering all the topics of Mathematics while enriching the students with his unfathomable knowledge. He also remarked that CHRIST (Deemed to be University) has helped him become well-versed in mathematics as a whole.

Following this, he was asked about the strengths that the students can gain by taking up this course. Dr Pranesh answered by emphasizing the importance of Mathematical Modelling in every field. The foundations of Mathematics contain topics like Matrices and Mathematical Logic which are the basis for solving any economic or statistical equation.

He elucidated that one needs to have a strong base in Mathematics to work in almost every field. For example, topics like differentiation, integration, and Python provide a quantitative and technical linkage between theoretical concepts and their applications.

Dr Pranesh was then asked whether he had any tips for students to reap the full benefits of the programme.

He advised the students to focus and study consistently each semester, as one cannot afford to forget what they have learned in the past, as knowledge is built brick by brick. He stressed on connecting, learning, and hustling persistently.

INAUGURATION OF THE MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

-By Tanisha Chandra (BSc EM)

The Mathematics Association of CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Yeshwanthpur campus was inaugurated on the 12th of November 2022, Saturday by the students and teachers of the Mathematics department. The inauguration began at 10:30 AM in the college basement which was decorated with handmade symbols reflecting the students' love for Mathematics and its complexities.

The event began with the arrival of the honourable Chief Guest, Dr Veerappa Gowda, a Professor at TIFR Centre for Applicable Mathematics, who has specialized in Partial Differential Equations, Conservation Laws and Hamilton-Jacobi Equations, Theory and Numerics. The Emcees commenced the ceremony after which the 'Lighting of the Lamp' took place by the Chief Guest, Father Dr Benny Thomas, Father Vinod Michael and the Dean, Dr Joby Thomas and Sarah Bardeskar (the student representative).

Following that, the association's name 'ABHISARAN' which means convergence, was revealed. The coming together of two forces is known as convergence. Likewise, the students and teachers of the Mathematics department came together and converged their efforts to organize this spectacular event.

Subsequently, the Program Coordinator of the Mathematics Department, Dr Pranesh S addressed the Chief Guest and the audience. He put forward the various events and ideas that will take place under the association and made sure that the students understand that Abhisaran is a place for innovation and incubation. He also spoke about the significance of converging young and curious minds.

The student representative further elaborated on the idea and talked about how knowledge increases by sharing. She asked the students to share, learn and exchange their ideas and information. She also conveyed the importance of thinking out of the box and fostering mathematics inquisitiveness.

Furthermore, Revered Father Benny Thomas encouraged the students by appreciating their efforts and dedication towards the Mathematics Association. He emphasized the importance of knowing the applications of our theoretical learnings. Respected Father Vinod effortlessly uplifted the spirits of the students by advising them to strive and keep going forward. He regarded this Mathematics Association as the start of a great movement which might give rise to talented and young mathematicians. Our esteemed Dean Joby Thomas dwelled on the prominence of Mathematics in our daily life. He also claimed that the association will help in developing personal and interpersonal skills.

Dr Veerappa Gowda, the Chief Guest delivered an extremely enriching session on the significance of Mathematics. He made us realize that despite having high-end technology, it is not possible to execute practical problems that do not have idealistic situations. Highlighting the fact that Mathematics is the core of all subjects like Economics, Biology, Physics and Statistics. He went on to explain Calculus and its applications with basics (like natural numbers, whole numbers, integers, rational numbers, etc).

He taught us a few applications we could use in economics, profits, and revenue functions as well. After an hour of coordinated teamwork by the EM and CM students of Yeshwanthpur, they all breathed a sigh of satiety and relief when the ultimate Note of Gratitude was delivered by Saundarya of 1BScCM. The Chief Guest was escorted by the delegates and our Hospitality Committee for a session of round-table with our future Mathematicians, Economists, Investment Bankers and a plethora of more potentials to discuss the current industrial norms and the scope of Mathematics as a successful discipline.

DR SHERIN

- By Divya Yeram (MPCL B)

Programme Coordinator, School of Psychology

Dr Sherin came from a background where environment, service providing, or service to the community is imbibed in an individual from their childhood.

> "Every course has some aspect of psychology in it, whether it be law, media, or economics"

She chose psychology for her undergrad major. Clinical psychology was one of the branches that was picking up the pace 20 years ago. So, that was the time when she started pursuing her career in psychology. Passion played a huge role as a driving force, as well as her commitment to discipline.

At CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Psychology as a discipline existed as 1969. Over a period, Psychology is integrated into other disciplines. Besides undergraduate programs, post graduate programs and research degree (Phd) in Psychology, department offers a range of certificate and interdisciplinary courses. There will be some aspect of psychology in it, whether it be Law, Media or Economics, and it is prominent in the programs and its combinations that are offered at CHRISt. Apart from these B.Sc Psychology (Hons.) is a unique program focusing the roots of major discipline.

Looking closely at the pedagogy of most of these psychology courses, it is evident that they are academically oriented and rigorous. Students not only learn theories in class but also get the opportunity to implement those theories outside the classroom.

This format helps them develop personally as well as professionally. Once students begin their community service and engage in internships, they meet new people, establish connections, and learn to help people therapeutically. This allows the students to gain a deeper understanding of their discipline while contributing to society, which aligns with the university's vision and mission, i.e., excellence and service. This helps students develop holistically and reap the full benefits of this course.

There are multiple employment opportunities including academician, and practice, which can be in hospitals, NGOs, or even private. Research is another area which is developing rapidly . Research agencies that promote mental health, such as WHO and UNESCO, or those in India like ICSSR, DST projects, and CSR fund for these projects. So, research is vast when it comes to mental health.

Eunoia

-By Akaanksha Sharma (MPCL B) and Soundarya M (MPCL B)

"Eunoia – Mental Health Awareness Week," was celebrated from 6th to 20th October 2022 by the Department of Psychology in the Yeshwanthpur Campus. The department organized several activities to celebrate the week-long event. The students were asked to wear a particular colour each day, starting with green, which signifies Mental Health Week, in honour of "Kaleidoscope: A Motley of Colours."

The commencement of the week was commemorated with an enthusiastic and entertaining flash mob during the break hours. It was met with great gusto by the audience.

There were a series of competitions of art and photography with interesting themes such as depicting spaces that made the individual feel safe and comfortable, breaking barriers to mental health etc.

Ichi-go Ichi-e - Blindfolded Conversations' was also a novel concept introduced to the students, where they were asked to select an alias to introduce themselves to a stranger while being blindfolded and sharing their problems, stories, or achievements with the stranger and vice versa.

Another activity was called 'Letters to Strangers' to promote inclusivity and act as a ray of hope for strangers by writing encouraging and inspiring words to them. The letters were collected from each class and distributed in a random manner to students of all classes. It was successful in bringing a smile on the faces of the students and making them feel included.

A time capsule was also arranged so that the students had an outlet to record their memories in the form of a letter to their future selves. They were asked to jot down their feelings and wishes for the future.

The entire week was filled with loads of fun and joy while also serving as a platform for promoting mental health and well-being. The week ended with the parting gift of the release of the Spotify playlist 'Sukoon', which was filled with melodies to calm our hearts, wipe our tears, and make us dance to the tunes.

Inauguration of the Psychology Association

-By Vaidehi Agarwal and Mahek Jaiswal (BAPECO)

Social Sciences is one of the largest academic blocks at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University of which the Psychology Department is a part. Our campus recently established its first-ever Psychology Association which aims at increasing student participation at both the academic and co-curricular levels. The theme for the current academic year 2022–23 is 'IKYAM' representing togetherness, inclusivity, and unity.

18th November, 2022, marked the inauguration of the Psychology Association. The event began with the lighting of the lamps by the dignitaries along with the university prayer. The dignitaries who attended the event were Dr Benny Thomas, the Director of CHRIST Yeshwanthpur Campus, Dr Tony Sam George, Dean of the School of Social Sciences, Fr Vinod Michael, Administrator of the Yeshwanthpur Campus, and felicitation was done by the Dean, Dr Joby Thomas.

After the lighting of the lamp, the director's presidential address was given, followed by the inaugural address by Dr Tony Sam George. Then we had the introductions and felicitations of the administrator and the dean.

Subsequently, the Office Bearers were announced and handed their badges. Mani Agarwal, an executive member, and Vaidehi Agarwal, President of the Psychology Association, presented the concept note and plan of action for this year. Later, Dr Benny Thomas was presented with a memento, as a gesture of honor and respect. Prizes were distributed to the winners of the events that had taken place during the Mental Health Week.

This was followed by melodious music and a graceful dance performance by the students of the psychology department. Toward the end, a vote of thanks was given by the faculty coordinator of the Psychology Association, Dr Shinto Thomas.

The event concluded with the CHRIST Anthem. The dignitaries and the students, on their way out, visited the stalls that were put up by the students of BSc. Psychology Honours and MSc. Clinical Psychology. The stalls had informative concepts and theories of psychology.

The hard work of the students of the Psychology Association, as well as the volunteers, had paid off. With a formal inauguration, the association looks forward to organizing various events throughout the academic year 2022-23, including street plays, music competitions, podcasts, and much more.

Inside the Mind of The Psychology Department

- By Divya Yeram (MPCL B)

Although our course might seem a bit eccentric to everyone else, it is the one thing that makes it different from the rest. Handpicked brains come together and create beautiful chaos. Random things end up being memorable for us. Whether it's our professor making us dance to "Baby Shark" after an intense session on coping with the grief of death or teaching us attachment styles by having us draw symbols on the blackboard that show how we express love. Usually, students are known to be joking about teachers, but when the teachers themselves join in on the fun, that's when the real party begins.

The CIAs are hectic. It is not not every day that you are expected to shoot a video, present animations, or perform several kinds of research all at once. It is not always rainbows and sunshine, but with the right amount of strictness balanced with a dash of fun. Our department is a 6-course meal not only because of our subject but also because of this beautiful and encouraging bond that the students share with their teachers.

PROFESSOR ARUN DM

PROGRAMME COORDINATOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH AND CULTURAL STUDIES

- By Adithi Arun (MAENG)

> ENGLISH IS NOT JUST TO SUPPORT THE OTHER DISCIPLINES. IT HAS ITS OWN AND A BETTER IDENTITY

Mr Arun, the Programme Coordinator of the Department of English and Cultural Studies shares his thoughts and ideas as he guides us through the journey and significance of the Department in the new Yeshwanthpur campus. This Department, one of the oldest at CHRIST, has steadily evolved over the years. It now accommodates a plethora of experienced faculty members who are experts in Linguistics, Film Studies, and Cultural Studies. In the year 2018, the English and Cultural Studies programme was founded with the vision of identifying culture through language. "Literature and culture are interconnected", says Mr Arun. Rightly so, these interdisciplinary programmes with the perfect mélange of the humanistic discipline along with the nuances of literature aim to facilitate an in-depth study of English not just as a language but as an academic discipline.

"The idea of literature is being redefined now", he says while talking about the evolution of this discipline. He believes that students have a lot more avenues to explore in this field now than they had earlier. Earlier, people opting for subjects like English literature were only lured by the employment opportunities the subject proffered in the teaching profession. Researchers and literature enthusiasts were few and far between. Mr Arun explains that it was challenging for young students back then to choose this field because it was yet to establish its foundation in the academic arena. To encourage innovations in linguistics, on this campus, there is more focus given on the disciplinary aspects of the subject, such as cultural studies and languages.

"Our department's existence is not just to support other disciplines. We have our own identity," Mr Arun says. Language is often wrongly conceptualized to be a frivolous discipline. English, for one, plays a vital role in various other disciplines but that alone doesn't define it. Since 1969, when the English Department was started, it came across a slew of issues about the department's identity and image. Conventionally, people celebrated only the language and literature elements. But Mr Arun firmly believes that English has much more to offer other than literature. This evolved during the 1990s. The English Department identified that in order to redefine themselves, they should explore beyond just language and literature. This led to the creation of the English and Cultural Studies programme. Pairing English with subjects like Communication Studies and Psychology will enable the students of the new campus to probe into some unexplored arenas of academia.

Linguists and researchers are in demand in all emerging fields now. Companies like Google and Amazon hire expert linguists to understand and interpret the dynamics of language and culture. With the course, he is sure that we will be able to better the prospects of the industry and product experts that benefit the industry.

With a proficient team of academicians and ambitious students, the English and Cultural Studies Department at the Yeshwanthpur Campus stands out as one of the most vibrant and dynamic departments with innovative and engaging courses. "The team is undoubtedly the backbone of the department," says Mr Arun. With a focus on theoretical concepts of the subject, the teachers indulge the students with a flair for the language. They are in the process of designing a new MA programme called Computational Linguistics. In cultural studies, the professors emphasize theory and philosophy. The faculty is also focusing on newer realms like film studies.

Though interesting and thought-provoking, at times the subject proves to be complicated and tedious. But as Mr Arun says, one should always be aware of the wonderful outcomes of the course and keep in mind the reasons why one wants to pursue it. He advises the students to have a thorough understanding of the syllabus and the course pack. The Continuous Internal Assessments (CIA) will also be worthwhile if understood and done properly. Dividing their work and time will be helpful to avoid being overburdened. "This medium would prove to be a real nurturing ground for new ideas and learning for students. The students here have the potential to become great academicians, researchers, and professionals," he concludes.

IRIS

- By Adithi Arun (MAENG) and Katelyn Syien (MAENG)

On November 12, 2022, Iris - The English Association of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Yeshwanthpur Campus officially opened. Students from the English department sang a prayer song as the event's opening invocation to God. The Chief Guest, Dr AV Koshy, Director Fr Benny Thomas, and Dean Joby Thomas also lit the lamp during this time. Everyone present was given a warm welcome by Dr Sudeesh K., one of the Co-Coordinators of the Association. He spoke about the English Association's founding on the new campus and its importance. Mr Arun D. M., the Programme Coordinator for the English Department, officially introduced the numerous clubs and forums that form the English Association and the dignitaries helped by unveiling their respective logos.

A felicitation by Mr Arun D. M. followed this. He discussed the significance of the Iris name and logo and inspired the association to proactively build its presence on campus by hosting more activities. Fr Benny Thomas, the campus director, then addressed the crowd, followed by Fr Vinod Michael, the campus administrator, who congratulated everyone. Then, Dr Joby Thomas, the Dean of Yeshwanthpur Campus, spoke to the chief guest, the faculty, and the students, mentioning the value of art. Following the dean's remarks, the English Department students performed classical dance, a solo singer performed, and Jerry Melvin and Rituparna from the department performed a duet.

The Chief Guest then gave a speech on "Art and Aesthetics" after that. Dr Koshy, a prominent author and assistant professor at Mount Carmel College, discussed how art may be divided into theory, history, philosophy, and aesthetics. He suggested field trips to the National Gallery of Modern Art and the Chitrakala Parishad to the English Association students. The Head of the English Association, Iris, Dr Arya K. S., the other Co-Coordinator of the Association, gave a vote of gratitude to close the event.

Words from the Linguists

The Department of Languages

Alongwith the English language and literature, the Department of English and Culture Studies focuses a significant amount on foreign languages and the knowledge learning it provides to students. The languages offered in the Yeshwanthpur Campus are Spanish, German and French, and students were asked their preferred choices to study. The languages offered are all integral to broaden the students' horizons and help them connect with the vast world in the future. The faculty for the same gave an insight in their experience in the university thus far.

ESPAÑOL

Hola! I am Pooja, working as a Spanish language adjunct faculty in the Department of English and Cultural Studies. I have 6 years of experience in different institutions. My experience working at CHRIST (Deemed to be University) has been excellent. I have a good team to work with and they support me in my hardships. I would personally like to thank Dr Joby Thomas for it. Students are enthusiastic to learn and are hard-working. Thank you CHRIST (Deemed to be University) for giving me the opportunity to lend my service here.

DEUTSCH

My name is Anandam Thirunarayana Murthi and I am an Assistant Professor of German working at CHRIST (Deemed to be University) with 9 years of teaching experience. I started my career with B. Tech in Food Processing Technology but later realized that it was not my cup of tea. My brother suggested that I take admission in the German language program at Osmania University. My fascination was sparked with the German language due to Professor Moorty, and the way he enunciated and explained the language.

Fortunately, I found a good professor whose classes gave me enough motivation to do my MA German at Karnataka University, Dharwad. My desire to learn foreign languages was not limited to German, so I enrolled in the French language Programme and successfully completed my Senior Diploma. I was also a teacher of basic French to beginners and completed my MA English at Potti Sriramulu University. When you learn something new, you feel delighted and elated. I experienced that thrill and joy when I was learning German. My interest was enhanced dramatically when I could differentiate a verb from a noun.

My experience at CHRIST (Deemed to be University) has always been wonderful. All the students show great zeal and enthusiasm for learning German. Every Student is curious to learn German and participates in all listening and speaking activities. Patience is the key to learning German. Every day one should learn some words and write them on paper. If one wants to improve their speaking skills, one must speak confidently without being afraid. Gradually one can reduce mistakes and become fluent in German. All the best! Have fun learning! I wish you success. Have a great time!

FRANÇAIS

"French is one of the first foreign languages to be taught in India"

I am Jayalakshmi Jayaraman, an Assistant Professor in the Department of English and Cultural Studies at CHRIST (Deemed to be University), training postgraduate and undergraduate students in the French language for the past five years. I have experience heading the Department of French language at Jyoti Nivas College, Bangalore for three years. I have also explored the industry as a French Analyst at HSBC International Bank and as a French Premium Accounting Specialist at Infosys BPO Pvt. Ltd, Bangalore for 5 years. My achievements include the translation of the short story "A Long Walk for Bina" by Ruskin Bond to "L'Itinéraire de Bina" in French, being a part of the MFG team of quarter award operations, winning the Team champion of the year in 2009 and being awarded the Wall of Fame award. The French faculty has around 13 years of experience as French language specialists across various organizations. This course is specially designed to cater to students who are interested in specializing in the French language, literature, and culture. The main objective of French training is to help students converse during technical discussions with French stakeholders, thereby enabling students to become multilingual specialists.

I have always been an ardent history and music aficionado, having been inspired by my seventh-grade history teacher who made me fall in love with the subject. It was my dream to become a history professor in the future. However, my parents misunderstood the value of history and forced me to opt for Computer Science and Mathematics in Higher Secondary School. I enrolled in the BSc Chemistry program after much deliberation. Learning Carnatic Music since the age of three from my grandmother, attracted me to every music event which was happening and out of campus. I accidentally became one of the final fourteen contestants of a reality show in Kerala which made me miss one and a half years of Chemistry! I represented the South zone in the National Level Youth Festival and became the Individual Champion which later paved the way for French.

Further, I completed Post-Graduation and MPhil in French. I started working as a guest faculty for French at the age of 21.

Nothing could stop me from pursuing Music so I continued singing and composing along with my French studies. I did my Ph.D. in 2016 at a Central University and will soon submit the thesis on Parisian Suburban music. It took so long to understand the social exclusion brought by music. Finally, I joined CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Yeshwanthpur Campus, and this was the career I wanted, and God took me here. Now trying to spread the beauty of the French language to the students. I am indeed proud to say that I could initiate a Music society on Yeshwanthpur Campus. I am learning Carnatic vocals under the renowned musician Dr Sreevalsan J Menon.

MA Applied Economics

- By Ritu Kashyap

In the land of the bereaved where people mourn their sleep schedule, there is a small isle boasting a population of 42 people. Island 314 is peculiar in nature. People adorn themselves with dark circles under their eyes and often smile at strangers who visit them. The two heads of 314 make sure the islanders know the scores of cricket regardless of the speed at which the hurricanes approach the population. The island is usually visited by 6 hurricanes per day within the time period of 9 am to 4 pm, but the resilient beings brave through and continue to march on while learning lessons from each hurricane.

A subspecies named Bhabha tends to forget their valuable things like laptops and chargers while Yan ShuShu makes sure that the lost belongings are returned to the rightful owners. A mountain of a man protects the islanders from the hurricane's sight.

While being protected, the islanders doodle or use boxes to connect with the outer world. Yush and Yash, the island's version of Yin and Yang spread sleep which Neth, the mighty deity tries (and fails) to wash away. While Yam speaks the truth only when you give her the elixir of life, iLesh is a mythological creature known to shoot tranquillizers at people who spend more money.

What makes 314 an interesting area of study to research scholars is the underlying fact that in the big wide world, despite differences, this island attracts people from all other neighbouring islands. Keep an eye out for Island 314 to unravel the mysteries about the rest of the population.

Flashmob by the Department of Professional Studies

- By Harshitha Talasila (BBA F & A)

Dance is a sublime form of art that caresses the soul and forays into tired minds, filling them with rejuvenated energy. The ever-enthusiastic students of the Department of Professional Studies (DPS) came together to match their steps to the tempo of pop music.

Being part of the audience and a proud member of the department, I was left in unfathomable awe at the grace and precision with which the participants danced. They matched the beats with a poise that I find hard to replicate in words, but what made the event a grand success was not the precision of technique or the perfectly synchronized steps but rather something much simpler.

It was the life and energy reverberating within every member, both the performers and the audience put into the performance. While the participants danced on, the audience cheered, their voices hoarse, forming the perfect balance and making the event as grand as I remember it being.

This is a testimony to the fact that early morning classes paired with hefty schedules have only managed to brighten the shine of DPS.

A Class to remember!

- By Aneesh Date (BBA A)

In September, on a certain Friday, our teacher for that particular hour had decided to leave us free and we decided to conduct an impromptu Talent Hunt within the class. That day, I became aware of the various talents that my classmates possess. Some sang, some danced, and a few even wrote their songs, but the act that was probably admired the most was a poem recital or as we call it "Mushayra". We heard what we needed to hear in this one act. In the entire first semester, I believe this was one of the most enjoyable sessions I had with my class.

Another fun memory I have of our class took place immediately after our Diwali break when many were yet to return from their hometowns

During these 5 days, I met and made friends with people from my class with whom I used to rarely communicate, unless urgent or mandatory. Now I know every classmate of mine and I'd be lying if I said that I'm finding it hard to fit into CHRIST and into my class. I met people from various states across India and got to know their culture, and language, and overall appreciate the beauty in our diversity. Moreover, I've probably received the best set of friends I could have ever asked for.

27 ARYABHATTAS

- By Raghav Varma (BSc EM)

Is it the laughter of Subramani Sir that gives us the motivation to climb three flights of stairs every day, or high-fiving and poking each other until we know the likes and dislikes of our friends? Or maybe it was the flash mob that united our section instead. This is the first BScEM of CHRIST, Yeshwanthpur Campus. We are a single section with a mere strength of 27. Although we are termed the 'intellectual' course, the question remains of how smart exactly we were to select a double major in Economics and Mathematics. If, for any reason, we want to avoid social interaction, all we need to do is mention our course. Among the crowd of "intelligent idiots", we see a lot of diversity, which we have come to appreciate and adore. It ranges from the queen of silence, Sukoon to the loud and attention-seeking Raghav, Andre and Mridul. From the first bencher romance enthusiasts of Lucknow: Palak, Vedika and Tanisha, to the gym freak Atul who occupies the last bench, it is the differences which bring us together. After all, who can separate the closely-knit trio of Bhawini, Priyanka and Dhiya; or stop John from maintaining streaks with everyone on Snapchat? And nobody can even think of splitting the ink and quill of our class: Ananya and Andre.

Three months in CHRIST have shown all of us that, despite being cautious towards each other in the beginning, our small populace of 27 relies on each other for almost everything: whether it is Aryan's valuable information on the lively places in Koramangala or Church Street, or taking Sarah's calculus notes one day before every math CIA. Shruti brings balance to the chaos by being a proud member of the NCC, but she still joins our round-table conferences and shares our woes. Is it Ritesh's silent stare, Ekansh's overflowing confidence, or Rahul fist-bumping his friends that gives us the courage to note that we are all in the same boat and we are all in this together?

While in the initial two months, we were perfecting our applications of Differential Calculus by learning the proofs of a never-ending amount of theorems, this November we had the inauguration of the coveted Mathematics Association, Abhisaran; the group effort of two entire weeks. The main aim of Abhisaran is to make sure that we, as future mathematicians, know the real-life applications of what we are studying right now and know how to operate the real industrial software required to solve complex mathematical matrices, equations and indeterminate forms.

Of course, at the very end, how can our BScEM be mentioned without highlighting the winners of Darpan 2022 in the singing category: Tanisha and Srijoni? They are some of the best singers on campus, and we are very proud to have them be a part of our course. The class is full of talented people, including but not limited to Swasthi with her graceful dance moves. After all, we are "THE 27" of 1BScEM at CHRIST University, Yeshwanthpur Campus; our names emboss themselves silently in everyone's hearts.

Department of Commerce

- By Deepal (BCOM H A)

The Department of Commerce, has expanded its roots into the hearts and souls of every Commerce Christite. Under the School of Commerce, Finance, and Accountancy, the Department of Commerce is a thriving community of faculty and students. It supports the development of the students' abilities through high-quality instruction, innovative research, and ongoing development. The school offers a supportive environment for the development of commerce professionals with a high level of knowledge and expertise, who will ultimately make a significant contribution to society.

Our coordinator, Dr Raghunandan, has left no stone unturned to facilitate and bring the department to light. Our professors, without whom we wouldn't prosper, have helped us contribute well to the environment and even attain holistic growth.

I feel immense pleasure in having received proper and adequate guidance about how the events work. The umpteen number of orientations organized have helped us obtain a clear view of the department and its workings. I found the department quite intriguing due to the number of events they managed to conduct and the undying enthusiasm portrayed by the students in participation.

The department events set sail with the well-known DOC MUN in the month of September, which saw good participation altogether. We as students were oriented for certificate courses under Harvard University. Cele Fiesta organized under SWO in the month of October had commerce students involved in great numbers where they arranged stalls and activities for the students.

We even had regular visits from faculty from the central campus who guided us with all their might. November had a lot of events in store for us. It all began with a seminar by Mr Dinesh Kumar, a faculty from the Central Campus on 2nd November. He oriented us well about certain topics and left us with a number of great life lessons.

The well-known segment under the Commerce Department is none other than the CUCA (CHRIST University Commerce Association) where every student gave their best shot. We had seniors conducting PRARAMBH for us, which had several rounds in competitions like PR, HR, FINANCE, BM, BQ, MARKETING. The Back-to-back events had many intense sessions from meeting deadlines to spot presentations. The whole process was quite overwhelming with a great response overall.

After CUCA selections, we had HACKATHON organized by PES University which received positive feedback from onlookers. We were oriented by the country head of CISI for certificate courses in finance which had many candidates enrolled as well

The department is prospering in all dimensions and students are cracking every event with eminent enthusiasm and are constantly adding new feathers to the department's cap. We extend our gratitude to our well esteemed Dean, Dr Joby Thomas, our coordinator Dr Raghunandan and the very diligent faculty.

ROOM NUMBER 301

- By Adithi Arun (MAENG)

The class of first-year MA English makes up a measly number of 30 students in the entire Christ population, but let me tell you—they're one crazy lot. Any teacher in the English department would back this claim with way too many stories. We're a diverse class with students hailing from all corners of India, which makes us an interesting melting pot of different cultures with surprisingly harmonious connections.

Starting off with the Bangaloreans—Amulya, Bhavya, Anushka, Abha, and myself—they're not wrong when they say most Bangaloreans aren't Kannadigas because Anushka is a native Bengali, Amu and Bhav are native Telugu speakers, while Abha and I are native Malayalis. But after more than 15 years in this city, all we ever do is brag about it in front of everyone. The Tamilians—the largest group with Jerry, Bava, Febby, Fahi, Gayathri 1, and Nikhita—you'll often catch them huddled in a corner of the class, spitting rapid-fire Tamil as if in a rap battle. Then we have the Malayalis: Kelvin, Nisha, and Gayathri 2—the funky lot. My most prominent memory of them is Kelvin defending his pronunciation of "orange" as correct in our linguistics class to our professor with perfect intonation (ironically, who is also Malayali). Rounding out the South Indians are Goan Lily Anne and Telugu Nitya, the class sweethearts. I've personally witnessed them freaking out about assignments more than anyone else.

Kate, Ritu, and Anoushka – the class talents from the Northeast. I can picture Ritu and Anu singing soulful ballads while Kate yodels in the background. Tanaya and Shreeja are the quiet Marathis, the only sources of calm you'll find in the class. Finally, the beloved North Indian students—Nishtha, Jayati, Sneha, Harshita, Suravi, Aadyasha, Manasi, Christina, and Raina are the backbone of our class and ready to fight at any given moment, which honestly worries me. During any break, the scene is one of quiet pandemonium: we whine about our problems while feeding each other snacks as if we were suspended in a never-ending Christmas dinner. It's a wonder how such different people could get along, but there's not a class more united than ours.

Nagasandra from a bird's eye

-By Harsh Bisht (BACP-A)

In the last decade or so, the metropolitan city of Bangalore has witnessed an insurgence of Bangaloreans who've migrated for the purpose of education as well as career opportunities.

As a youngster, moving to Bangalore may have included many aspects; changing your environment, adjusting to a new locality, change of culture, exposure to a new language and so on and so forth. It's been rather frustrating, am I right? It dawned on me that we could have very well been bothersome to the locals. A reputed institution like CHRIST stands in their personal space. Students from across the country hold on to their different interpretations of the world, which directly or indirectly, influence their lives. So, me and the head of the photography club, with his camera and my questions, stepped out of the university gates, to interview these locals. The warm and friendly welcome the locality provided us exceeded all expectations we had.

Stepping outside the gate, our eyes fell upon the mouth-watering pani-puri. Perhaps, it was our hunger or maybe it was just its obvious appeal, but we ended up in front of the stall in a matter of seconds. The pani-puri maker, Mr Rohit had moved to Bangalore in search of a livelihood. Even after having learnt the regional language, He continued to face difficulty in pronouncing certain things. He did, however, know “swalpa-swalpa Kannada” (little-little Kannada). He says that the Christites have positively affected his earnings and is definitely happy to have us in his area.

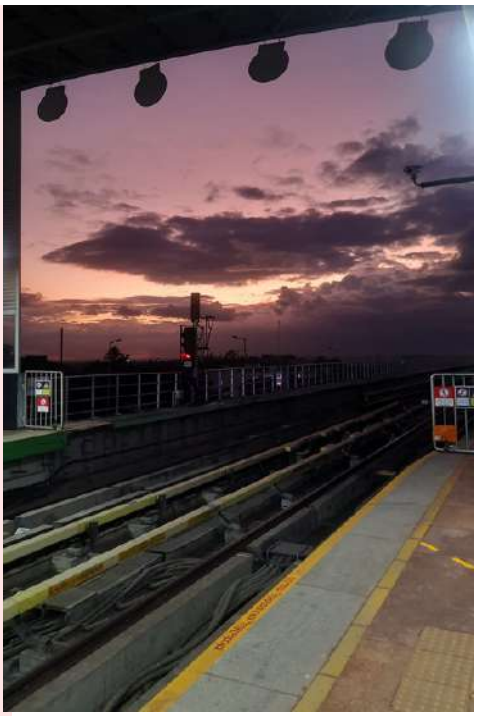
After which, we approached the ones who played an important role in our attendance. Every day, they watched us rush into campus, almost as if we were about to catch a flight. These guys were none other than our auto-rickshaw drivers. We conversed with Mr. Lakshmi Kant, Mr Nagaraj, Mr Yalappa, and the eldest among them Mr. Kumar, who had been driving the auto-rickshaw for 11 years now. They park by campus from 10am to 8:30pm, so do avail of their services in reaching your destination. They expressed their sorrow caused by students who don't pay the right amount. Even after which, they held a positive regard of us. I sincerely hope you do not make things more difficult for them.

CHRIST is very particular about their rules. One of which was denial of entry without a mask. What to do next? Approach the medical centre in front of our college. Mr Naveen, the medical store owner, had no plans in selling masks. But it all worked out because of the demand. Managing the store for approximately 2.5 years, no one was more aware of us and our college lives than him. Students buying medicines from him daily was what concerned him about our health, and he did everything in his power to provide us help with the same.

Life in bengaluru

I've been in Bangalore for 18 years now, but what can I tell you about Bangalore that you haven't already read or heard about? It maintains a wide array of culture, food, and greenery. From the hot dosa and coffee in Vidyarthi Bhavan to the famous DBC in Corner House, the VV Puram food street to the 12 AM queue in front of Rameshwaram Cafe. A stretch of greenery from Lalbagh to Cubbon Park. Roaming around with shopping bags for the best prices from Commercial Street to Jayanagar. The nightlife in Church Street to clubbing in Kitty Ko. Bangalore also provides a contrast to this modern and happening lifestyle, with places to visit like the temples such as ISKON and the Bull Temple. There are also elements that provide life to the city like the unwanted traffic that Bangalore is famous for, to the metro lines. the sunny mornings to the unpredictable rains in the evening. From the beautiful skies to the unexpected potholes. From the famous film shootings to the football matches, and of course, being a part of the Silicon Valley of India Namma Bengaluru has it all, and the cherry on top is how Namma Metro not only connects different places but also different kinds of people. In today's day and age, where people are in a hurry to reach their next nildana, the metro has been a good place to socialize and collect one's thoughts. Life in Bangalore is just as beautiful as its weather, its traditions and culture, its language, and its people.

- By Saanvi Joshi (BACP-B)



The jokes that other statesmen make about life in Bangalore, as per stereotypes, are "coming up with a startup idea while stuck in the traffic." I have been living in Bangalore for about 18 years now, and I believe I am eligible to completely agree with them.

To sum it up, every 1 minute, you will see an IT employee and every 2 minutes, you will see a Zomato/Swiggy/UberEats delivery guy, every 5 minutes, you will see an Ola/Uber cab, every 10 minutes, you will see a tech park, every 15 minutes, you will see traffic, Every 30 minutes, you will see an AC bus, every 45 minutes, you will see a mall, every 1 hour, you will see a flyover, every 2 hours, you will see a lake; and every day, you will see people from at least 5 different states.

The actual cardamom in the biryani is the traffic. One has to start talking distances in terms of time rather than kilometers.

You have to give yourself a buffer of at least 30% of the 'actual time' needed to reach a particular place. The "B" in Bangalore stands for "beautiful weather." One needs to get used to this great weather, which is also very unpredictable. So I recommend you carry an umbrella, sunscreen, a jacket or two, and an iPhone to capture the sky every nanosecond.

If you are a party or clubbing person, you will love this city. But the entry scene is not very sorted, bro (Bangalorean accent).

You have to understand and make peace with the fact that footpaths are not for people to walk on here, they are made for two-wheelers, so please wear a helmet while walking too (no, it's a joke; please don't walk with helmets on footpaths).

There is no concept of potholes on roads; you will see some patches of road in the middle of the potholes.

But all these are the emotions of Bangalore, and I love it with all my heart, macha.

The newfound freedom, the experience of living in a different city all by ourselves, From managing the budget for the first time to struggling with the submission deadline, we have been through it all and are still going through it.

While physically attending lectures and mentally dreaming about what to have for lunch, would it be the chole bhature from Lohan's or the burger from Wave, or just settling with the university food itself?

Trying to "aesthetically" study in Ikea we somehow made it our second home. Our go-to hangout spot.

Whether we know Kannada or not, we definitely make sure to show off our Kannada speaking skills in front of the auto driver or bring out the negotiator in us for a cheaper fare.

Though the Metro is a time saver, especially for Bangalore traffic that is as unpredictable as its weather, for us Christites places like Jayanagar and MG Road don't seem as far away as they actually are.

While missing our "Ghar ka khana" and hating on the PG or hostel food, there is always Zomato and Swiggy to save the day. There is everything in Bangalore, from a nature-loving poet's destination, aka the Cubbon Park, to every shopaholic's harbor, called the Commercial Street. But obviously, nothing can beat Bangalore getaways, be it the sunrise in Nandi Hills or the lost city of Hampi.

Life in Bangalore has its ups and downs, but we wouldn't have it any other way.

UNWASHED DISHES AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Waking up at 8 AM, running to college hungry because you know you're late and haven't had time for breakfast, and staying up till 3 AM again. This cycle best describes PG's life. Coming to Bangalore for the first time, living in a PG sounded so enticing. The thought of so much freedom—no parents nagging around, no curfew to follow, was intoxicating for a while. But then reality hit as I saw the heap of unwashed dishes grow and the bed that wasn't magically made when I came back after a long day in college. Yet, we cannot discount the positive effects of living in a PG. I think my maturity and responsibility have increased tenfold since coming here because I have been living alone. I have begun to trust the friends I've made here, and I know I can count on them during times of distress and that they could do the same with me. Another important thing living alone has taught me is to become more financially responsible. I think I've had enough meals with Maggi in the past few months to realize the importance of money. It's been a wholesome experience, from singing and playing guitar to ding dong and ditching randomly at night. I can only hope it will continue to be a fulfilling experience.

"There is no hierarchy when it comes to respect- the gardener gets the same respect that the professors do", Reji Joseph (female warden).

"I just need to start a new chapter, move to a new city, and everything will work out." Sounds like you, right? We all know now that it is easier said than done, and college life is not what Dharma Films promised. Bangalore is raucous, unrepentant, and aloof. Students from all across the nation and even abroad have traveled to Bangalore to begin a new phase of their teenage years, but they were not expecting what they found here. Bangalore life has been chaotic since day one, but entertaining at the same time. From the brutal traffic to the strange "weather swings," we live in chaos. Does lying to your mother about breakfast start your mornings? Did you and your roommate become friends not because of shared interests, but because of your shared terror of that one lizard in the bathroom? Trust me, you are not alone. Bangalore and the lives of college students are both incomplete without mentioning the vibrant Church Street. Christites have been torn apart by a dozen different problems, but we never failed to impress. Despite the lack of sleep and terrifying deadlines, most of us still manage to arrive at college looking stunning. It has become a way of life to spend your weekends doing laundry, complaining about the food, and sharing closets because your clothes are "boring." Hearing people in the hallways admit that they have not started their CIAs either is consoling. Your roommates have access to a part of you that most people are unaware of—the one that communicates with friends and family back home. They are the ones who can relate to your homesickness the most. Long story short, the Bangalore culture has been rubbing off on us, as it should. After all, it is going to be our home for the next few years. Make lots of memories; they will last a lifetime. The newfound freedom, the experience of living in a different city all by ourselves. Managing the budget for the first time, sleepless nights as we struggle with submission deadlines—we have been through all that and more. And we are still going strong.

BUZZING BASEMENT

-By Chuzan Mahammad (BACP-A)

The basement of CHRIST University's Yeshwanthpur Campus is home to all the hustle and bustle on campus. Right from the canteen that serves various delicacies, accommodating the need to satisfy the taste buds of every Christite originating from the diverse cultures and regions of the country—from aloo paratha to rassam rice with Cafe Coffee Day and chicken burgers in between, the diversity makes the basement the go-to location for every student on campus. Various events and inaugurations of different clubs also take place in the basement. However, the new addition to the buzz in the basement is the recreation zone, i.e., the indoor games arena.

Hostellers, especially with their very strict curfews, find it quite relaxing to have fun in the game zone, where they can hang out and laugh out loud without infringing upon the wardens' affairs. In a nutshell, hostellers quite literally eat, work, and sleep in the basement!

The various options for games available include pool, foosball, table tennis, and carrom. The long lines that form around each table, with seemingly every student on campus hoping for a chance to try their hand at the sports, make the game zone occasionally a little difficult to reach, especially the table tennis bat, which is mostly unavailable during lunch hours.

All Christites now convene in the basement, and it's fascinating to see everything and everyone in one single space. The campus is becoming a refuge of comfort and joy for every college student with each passing day.
Let's see what the Christites have to say about it-

"Yes, it's very much fun. We actually forget about our CIA's for a while, but we don't really go there except for lunch breaks because of packed schedules and assignments." -Sanghmitra Namdeo, BACP B

"Carrom has been locked for the past two weeks during our lunch break, and that is the game I love playing. However, we do have a blast each time we are there." - NP Dharani, BBA C

"It's really fun there, but it solely depends on whether you get the chance to actually play and the partner you are playing with. I do try to take time out for the game zone even with the busy schedule."

Canteen, a culinary escape from stress

-By Tanica Mukherjee (BACP-B) and Bhadra Nair (BACP-B)

The fondest memories of our college life are made in the canteen. It's the spot that brings back memories of pointless laughter, nonstop banter, and most importantly, the tea breaks. The Canteen is more than just a physical location. It provides a break from the monotony of endless, tiresome lectures, a place where you can rant, laugh, and just slide away all your emotions.

The magic phrase, "let's go to the canteen," is what makes university life the best. The canteen is also famously known as the place we break our resolutions of "no fast food from tomorrow". Here, chapatis are left aside, and our taste buds are only pleased with the canteen's veg patties, fried rice, noodles, chole bhature, and countless cups of chai. We might have visited fancy restaurants like Truffles or Toit several times, but nothing compares to the satisfaction one gets from fighting over one extra bite of chicken or paneer in the canteen. You will find everything here, from aloo samosa to golden-brown crispy dosas to Chinese noodles.

To sum up, the canteen is every student's paradise. Throughout our college years, when college becomes a second home, it is the canteen that will make us feel at home. Before you realise it, those days will be over in no time and so I urge you to just live, enjoy and cherish these valuable moments.

When you look closer at the people who prepare your dosa, you see the uncle who prepares your plate, pours the chutney and sambar according to your liking, and the uncle who makes the dosa. When asked about his experience in the field, he gave a laugh and said, "I've been doing this for the past 6 years." "I enjoy working here. "Every time I prepare a new meal and give it to the students, I am thrilled to see how happy they seem while they eat." "When they approach me and say, "Uncle, the food was very nice," that's what puts a smile on my face, which makes me immediately forget about anything else.

"I am Rekha," "I am Ratnamma," and "I am Renkamma," say three cleaning ladies, or as we call them, "Amma." They are all residents of the Chitradurga district and are all from Bangalore. They have spent the last three months working in CHRIST. Since it is a huge university, they are assigned more work than usual. "I am happy with my life." Ratnamma, with a lovely smile on her face, expressing her excitement at our request for an interview, says so.

Then there are the "counter boys." After hours of rummaging through that white drawer for change for a 500 rupee note, hours of sitting on that same chair, typing on that same machine, repeating themselves again and again, they get to rest only during the short period of time from 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock. The care that they provide, or the "always ready" attitude, makes them just as cool as the students.

THE PARAMOUNTS OF CHRIST

-By Swati Bhatnagar (BACP-A) and Chuzan Mahammad (BACP-A)

If professors are equivalent to the brain of a college, the non-teaching faculty is the central nervous system, whose administrators' duties are required for the professors to make their contribution efficient and effective. CHRIST (Deemed to be) University's non-teaching staff, Yeshwanthpur Campus, is decisively the backbone of the campus, and here we introduce you to its key members. Remember how skeptical we all were of the transformation of what appeared to be a work in progress into a college? Not all of us, though; Mr Vinu Chacko firmly believed that it was possible, and his instincts were correct. He oversees the campus's operations in every area, from the buildings and grounds to the classrooms.

Mr Vinu was born and raised in Bangalore and speaks English, Kannada, Tamil, and Hindi with ease. He did his MBA at CHRIST's BGR campus, where Joby sir, our current dean was one of his professors. He remarked, "It feels good to be able to work with him now." He is a witness to the metamorphosis of the Yeshwanthpur campus, which has grown from a construction site to a bustling haven of education. He attended to all of the parents' questions, took care of the hostel arrangement, and gave private tours to guardians who were befittingly worried about the institution's progress.

The Department of Academic Excellence and Facilities Management is where Mr Pradeep Paudyal works. He was born in Nepal and has spent the last 18 years living in Bangalore. Additionally, Mr Pradeep expressed his gratitude for having a connection to this college, saying, "Working at CHRIST Yeshwanthpur is a fresh experience, and for me, it's my fortune to be connected to this college."

Mr Joseph J. has been here for three months since the inception of the Yeshwanthpur Campus. He did his B. Com. in Karnataka. He is a multilingual resident of Karnataka's Shimoga district. His job entails maintaining IPM, admissions, and accounts. Talking about his job, he gleefully remarks, “Working at CHRIST makes me feel wonderful." Interestingly, every member of his family is working for CHRIST, and he even studied at CHRIST's Central Campus. He says, "I was on the Kengeri campus before, and my entire family is working there." Mr Vala Muthu is a prominent non-teaching staff member at our campus. He primarily manages the Maintenance Department, trains the housekeeping staff, and oversees block supervisors. He replied, "Yes, one hundred percent," when asked if he loved his job. The campus's assistant facilities manager,
Mr Velmurugan Chinnagandhi, who is from Krishnagiri in Tamil Nadu, is fluent in Tamil and a little bit of Kannada. Before joining us as a supervisor and specialty manager for the cleaning team on campus, he was a driver. He says, "Working at CHRIST is great; it's relaxing, and everyone is extremely kind."

Ms. Liji Santosh is one of the humble staff members of the IPM department. The IPM(Information Processing and Management) department and her handles all the work related to a student's primary requirements in the university. That is the id card, the student smart card and most importantly, student attendance. They also handle the examination procedures, which include hall tickets and which student is promoted or demoted depending upon their marks and performance.

Mr Elisah, who is from Madhavillai, Tamil Nadu, has been here for almost a year and is another prominent faculty member on our campus. He too worked at the Central campus before beginning his tenure at the Yeshwanthpur campus. He says, "Working here is better than the main campus; we should set the standards higher than the main campus and offer them competition," while talking about the new campus. Water supply is Mr Elisah's specialty. STP is another intriguing area covered by Mr Elisah. It is a water recycling facility where wastewater is collected in tanks, chemically treated, and then recycled three to four times before being utilized in washrooms (for flushing). When asked if he misses working at the Central campus, he replies, "Central is central, right?"

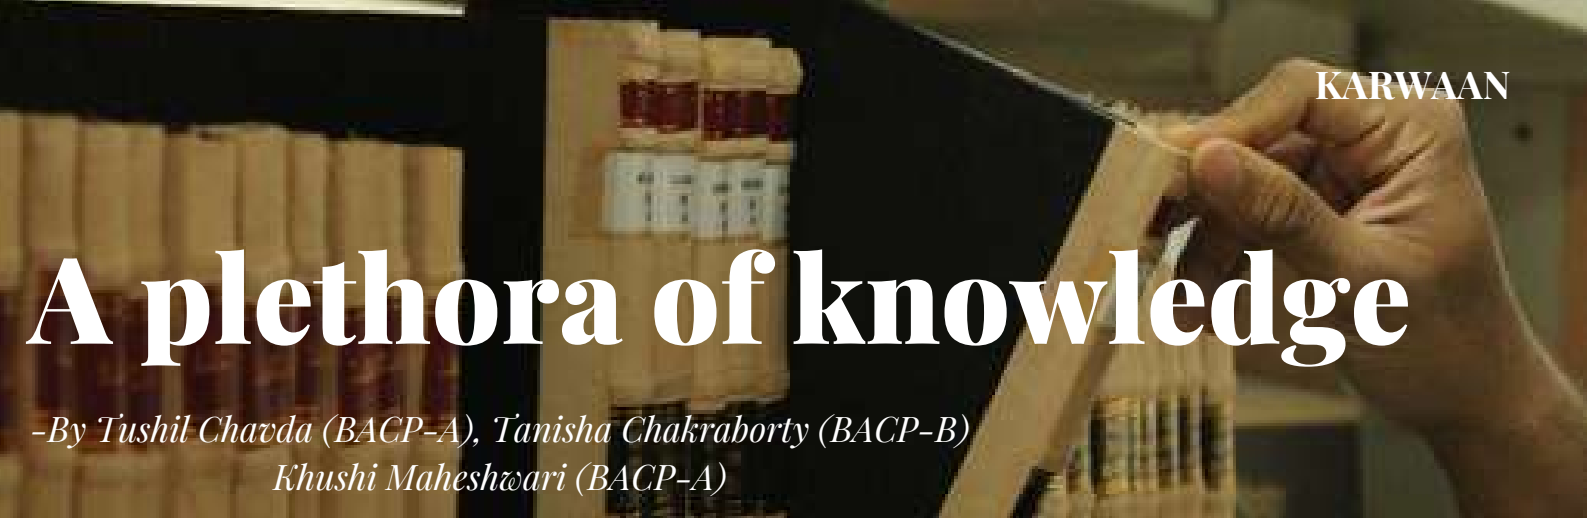
Not a day goes by at CHRIST without logging into “CU STUDENT”. This magic of Wi-Fi on campus comes from the treasure trove hidden downstairs. The IT services room, one of the bazillion things our mighty academic block accommodates, is the go-to spot for any network issues with our laptops. Situated next to the staircase, students could easily spot the IT services room as they went towards the cafeteria.

During the first month on campus, the room was filled with freshmen getting their laptops configured. “We would receive almost 20 to 30 students daily for laptop configuration," says Mr Shyam Prasad, the system administrator. For students facing issues with educational website blocks or system-related errors on the institute’s website, the IT services room in the basement readily awaits you.

We are all aware of how important Christmas is to CHRIST, but how many of us are familiar with the individuals who put in so much effort behind the scenes to make it all happen?

Mr Keshav Narayana, who formerly worked at the CHRIST Central campus, recently joined the Yeshwanthpur campus. He talks about how he has been putting in extra hours to prepare the sound and lighting system for Christmas. Mr Keshav has been working for CHRIST since 2007. He expressed satisfaction in his position, saying that it was the best and would be wonderful once the auditorium is built and everyone seems excited to work on its sound and lights. "The alley leading to the main entrance of the girls' hostel will be lit." It will be stunning and grander than Central Campus," he remarked, sounding merry and bright for Christmas.

The non-teaching staff members on our campus have a crucial impact on both the college's operation and the general well-being of its students. Their contributions may appear unnoticed, but it is clear that they are why the system runs so smoothly.



A plethora of knowledge

-By Tushil Chavda (BACP-A), Tanisha Chakraborty (BACP-B)

> "LIBRARIES STORE THE ENERGY THAT FUELS THE IMAGINATION. THEY OPEN UP WINDOWS TO THE WORLD AND INSPIRE US TO EXPLORE, ACHIEVE, AND CONTRIBUTE TO IMPROVING OUR QUALITY OF LIFE. LIBRARIES CHANGE LIVES FOR THE BETTER."

The month of October saw students rushing to the fourth floor at the earliest to get copies of the subject reference books before anyone else. Library services on the the campus has been a generous aid to everyone during their mid-semester exams.

The Yeshwanthpur Knowledge Center serves as an apt location to derive study resources and aims to enable maximum use of knowledge for both faculties and students alike. The library services are not restricted to physical copies, students can even access loads of online copies and papers of various kinds. Many batches will make memories in the library that they will carry with them for the rest of their lives.

"Please utilize and explore the library resources to their fullest while you are still students as these sources would not be available to you once you graduate", advises Mr Manjunath Arkasali, librarian at the Yeshwanthpur campus.

He has a masters degree in Library and Information Sciences from Karnatak University, Dharwad, also completed Library and Information Management Training from Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, qualified UGC-NET along with KSET and comes with experience, being an library assistant at the Central Campus for the past six years. The Yeshwanthpur Campus is privileged to have Mr Manjunath as its librarian. When asked what he expected from the library in the future, Mr Manjunath responded that he expects significant growth from the institution.

On the 18th of April, the foundation of the the university was laid, and simultaneously the shelves of the library started filling up. Currently, there are 3 staff; Mr Sundaresh MB who is the library assistant, Madam Princy Joshy, and Mr Manjunath. They intend to expand it into a two-storey library and diversify the presently existing topic collections.

The college's library is on the forth floor and has seating for nearly 150 people. At present, the campus-wide library has a total collection of 2,000 books, including 75 periodicals and 23 online resources to which it has paid subscriptions. For the benefit of both students and faculty, dictionaries, journals, and reference books on subject areas like social sciences, humanities, management, and sciences are available. With its extensive collection of both national and international publication books the library keeps students intrigued and encourages them to read and learn.

OPEN LIBRARY

8 am to 9 pm
(all days)
Closed on Sundays and Public Holidays

"The availability of books is one key facility of the library," according to Mr. Manjunath. The library issues books and has a return policy utilizing KOHA integrated management software. All the university rules, like being in the proper dress code and wearing the ID card, must be abided by even while entering the library.

Undergraduate students are allowed to borrow two books for two weeks, while postgraduate students can borrow four books for two weeks. As for faculty, they can borrow twenty books for three months.

Rs. 5 fine is imposed for a over due book. The library management also undertook an effort to give students an orientation on library services, during which they covered topics like the lending and returning of books, library resources, library policies, and how to use online resources.

A vision has been set in place for the Yeshwanthpur Campus Library, which is to set up a collection of books and other sources, that lead to the exchange and expansion of knowledge.

Are you preparing rigorously for your end-semester exams? Are you one of those who miss their fresh copies of newspapers at home? Are you on the lookout for a peaceful place to sit and study? The library awaits you.

Student Council at a glance

In conversation with Dr Raghunandan G

-By Pranjal Jain (BACP-B) and Diyva Chibber (BACP-A)

It is not every day that a student gets selected for the student council in a university as esteemed as CHRIST (Deemed to be) University. Interested candidates go through a rigorous selection process and Dr Raghunandan G takes us through them with great detail. Upon being asked about the process of selection he replies; "A general class announcement is made and registration forms are circulated where all the interested students are required to submit their statement of purpose, once submitted, the SOPs are carefully reviewed and valued; the top scorers are promoted to next round of personal interviews and are selected based on qualities such as positive attitude, responsibility, approachability, unbiasedness and good decision-making skills."

He further extends his stance by saying it's always an added advantage to being a leader because employers today look at leaders, not followers. Speaking about the dismissal of selected candidates he shares, if the council members fail to execute their obligations they are asked to step down from the positions and these positions are then filled up by the same selection process.

He continues addressing our queries by giving us a brief overview of the council hierarchy, "The student council is headed by the Honorable VC followed by the Controller of Examination which are subsequently followed by student council faculty coordinators under which work university level student coordinators and then come the school level coordinators (deanery level).

> "The students have to own the system, be unbiased and be natural leaders because employers today choose leaders, not followers."

Open forums are conducted once every semester where students' concerns are brought to the common knowledge of the University officials through class student council members. Upon being questioned about the lack of seniors on the new campus, he states it does not make any difference in the case of the student council as there is always additional assistance provided by experienced faculty members who are fully acquainted with the working of the student council.

The Virtue of every Christite

- By Stuti Gupta (BACP-B)

> "The disciplinary issues that call for the need of forming such a committee include the violation of the dress code, behavioral problems on the campus, and the punctuality of the students for classes."
> -Dr Shrinivas

Christ University places a lot of emphasis on the moral and holistic development of its students. The Alumni of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University are praised for their discipline and integrity, and these traits are fostered throughout a student's journey in the university. One of the several committees that inculcates these qualities is the Discipline Committee. The objective of the discipline committee is to manage and help maintain discipline at all times within the campus. According to Dr Shrinivas, one of the faculty in charge of the community,

There is an absence of seniors on the Yeshwanthpur campus which poses a great problem.. The students lack role models who can help them and teach them about CHRIST University culture. Currently, there are multiple Discipline Committees being formed at the department level.

As the latest established campus, it is under the Management of the deanery, but more will be established soon under all other departments. There will also be a core committee selection in the upcoming semesters, for which there will be a rigorous selection process with multiple interview procedures.

Creating a Safe Space for all...

-By Samriddhi Srivastava (BACP-A)

Mr Stephen S, faculty member, on the Anti-ragging cell at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus.

Ragging in all forms is a criminal offence and is strictly prohibited on all the campuses of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University.

"We take very strict action against any sort of misconduct on campus" says Mr Stephen S, the joint member of the anti-ragging cell, Yeshwanthpur campus. He believes that the students of Yeshwanthpur campus will earnestly abide by all the rules and protocols, and maintain the decorum of the campus. "The rules will be enforced here in the same way as they are in the other campuses," he remarks.

The Anti-Ragging Cell members comprise both the teaching and the non-teaching staff. In the new Yeshwanthpur campus, Dr J. Ashok is the Chairperson and Dr Samiksha Shukla is the faculty representative. Counselor Teja ma'am, Ms Gunjeen Kaur from the SWO, and the hostel wardens are also important members of the Anti-Ragging Cell. The Student Council also plays a vital role in the stance against ragging and misbehaviour.

"There haven't been any instances of ragging yet," Mr Stephen says, talking about the working of the Anti-Ragging Cell in the new campus. "The little issues that we encountered here were all resolvable and did not fall under the label 'Ragging'," he continues. In most such cases, the counselor will try to rectify them through discussion. But if the reported offence goes against the code of CHRIST, the person responsible shall face due punishment.

Mr Stephen, guiding us through the procedures of filing a complaint against ragging, says that the person or their parent/guardian needs to lodge a written complaint either in person or through email from their university email ID, to any professor involved in the Anti-Ragging Committee, or to the HOD of their department within three working days from the incident. Depending on the nature and gravity of the offence and in consideration of the findings and reports of the committee members, the offenders shall be awarded suitable punishment.

The Anti-Ragging cell would also look into matters happening outside the campus. "The matter will be dealt with by the Anti-ragging cell if a Christite is involved. No matter whether the incident takes place inside the campus or outside it," says Mr Stephen. He also assures that the victim will be kept anonymous if the case thus demands.

He concludes by saying, "CHRIST expects its students to be considerate and have empathy towards others, as ragging is just a path towards darkness."

EXAMINATION CENTRE

-By Nisha Kumar (BACP-A), Harsh Bisht (BACP-A) & Bina Raj (BACP-A)

Examinations are the crux of the teaching and learning process in any academic endeavor, essential to assess the learning levels of the students. The Office of Examinations at the Bangalore Yeshwanthpur campus aims at facilitating and improving the assessment processes and practices to enhance the quality of the education process. They created awareness of the assessment process and practices of the university through orientation programmes. The office also manages examinations as per the regulations of the university and the academic calendar.

Ensuring the smooth functioning of all the examinations that are held within CHRIST (deemed to be) University, including the repeat and supplementary examinations, come under the onus of the Office of Examination of CHRIST Yeshwanthpur Campus.

"We aim to continuously improve assessment practices and enhance the quality of teaching and learning processes in the university," says Prof. Shabarisha N, the coordinator of the Office of Examinations.

The objective of the office is to evaluate each student's level of learning in accordance with the program's learning objectives and to suggest effective evaluation techniques that will ensure that CHRIST (Deemed to be University) students to acquire the graduate attributes, and making them an integral part of the CHRIST family.

Something to expect from the Office of Examinations is that the degrees would only be given to those students who adhered to the rules and regulations of the campus. The office consists of four prominent members: first up, we have the coordinator of the office. Prof. Shabarisha N., the custodians, Dr Shinto Thomas and Dr Ashok J., and the administrative assistant, Mr Stelvin VJ.

The office is very helpful in understanding the difficulties faced by the students. The rule is very simple: abide by all the instructions given on the website and handbook.

Being first-year students, there is a hint of ignorance and carelessness. It is advised to regularly check the CHRIST email ID to be updated from the office.

Some basic exam rules include students being inside the campus 30 minutes, and being seated in their designated classrooms 10 minutes prior to the beginning of the examination. If a candidate is late for the examination, the time is reduced from the ongoing examination time. Additionally, students are provided with 10 minutes of reading time, and 3 minutes before the start of the examination, the answer sheets are distributed. No malpractice is entertained.

Student Welfare Office

-By Aaraadhya Walia (BACP-A)

The Student Welfare Office, the cornerstone of any event organized at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, effectively provides a platform for Christites to nurture talents and impart skills such as leadership and decision-making. This academic semester saw the SWO Volunteer Body do the finest job in organizing and executing the first slew of events on campus. The Student Welfare Office at the Yeshwanthpur campus has carved its niche on these grounds, events organized so far like Darpan and the Bhasha Utsav having been massive successes. "Being a part of this organization gives the volunteers great exposure, and an opportunity to get to know themselves better", says Gunjeen Kaur, the faculty coordinator and the dance coordinator of SWO. Talking about her journey to becoming the head of the SWO, she mentions that her experience comes from being a student at Christ itself, a member of the SWO, and Natyarpana as well. For an organization as big as the SWO, it becomes necessary to identify talents who would put their heart and soul into it. "The SWO received around 1600 applications for volunteers", she says.

"The process of recruitment thus required tedious scrutinization following which the heads and volunteers for each committee were selected." An amalgamation of six bodies, namely the University Choir, the Volunteer Body, Natyarpana, the Debate Society, the Cultural Team, and the Quiz Association, the Student Welfare Office is gradually spreading its wings across the Yeshwanthpur campus.

"Nothing comes easy", says Souvik Banik, the other faculty Coordinator of the SWO. He brings with him an illuminating experience from the CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Lavasa Campus. "I was the Head of the Student Welfare Office in CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Lavasa campus. During the two years that I was there, I learned how progress is only achieved gradually", he says.

He talks about his experience with the SWO in the new Lavasa Campus which initially started with just five members and eventually multiplied to about two hundred. And now that he has the chance to take on the role of faculty coordinator of the SWO at a new campus, he brings with him experience in building things from scratch.

As a Christite, one learns the art of multitasking. SWO members do a tremendous job of effectively balancing their academics as well as extracurricular activities. One of the most appreciable facts about the SWO at our campus is that it has been able to pull off great events with minimal infrastructure. The SWO volunteers continue to gather the students and drive them to wholeheartedly engage in various events.

Student Volunteers' Experiences

Ann Maria Felix, BBA FIB (D)
SWO Head

"After joining SWO, the university has almost become my second home. The journey has been awe-inspiring. I am very grateful for this responsibility and the immensely talented team I have. Working in SWO has taught me the importance of teamwork and time management, how to communicate effectively with others, and most importantly, the value of friendship. "No matter how many hurdles came in the way or how meagre the resources were, seeing the hard work pay off during the event always motivates me to work harder."

Shakira Nayar, BACP (A)
Cultural Head

"Being in a leadership position for an organization as big as the SWO has been exhausting and exhilarating at the same time. It takes tremendous effort to pull together a massive number of people and coordinate prestigious events successfully. For that, I am grateful to the faculty coordinators and the student heads for the guidance and support they provided. I taught myself to manage my time and accommodate everything in my daily routine. After joining SWO, I have undergone a massive positive transformation. I feel proud of the person I have become now."

Yusha Usmani, BBA Gen (D)
Records Head

"I was initially very surprised when I found out that I was being handed the position as one of the committee heads in SWO. It has been a rollercoaster of an experience. I have been wildly invested in managing the Records Committee and have experienced new heights of aspiration as a financial analyst. I believe that this responsibility would serve as my dummy run to becoming a successful manager later in life."

ACC

Association of Christian Christites

- By Kashvi Jain
(BACP-A)

The Association of Christian Christites is a community for Christian students seeking to develop a deeper understanding of God through service. It aims to inculcate humbleness and gratitude towards life and God within the campus. ACC is working towards achieving this vision through the functions of its three main wings; Show our Faith, Learn our Faith and Live our Faith.

Show our Faith will soon be opening an Instagram account to promote its activities online. It will also oversee the cultural teams of ACC. Learn our Faith will promote and convene intellectual discussions on God. Instilling habits of praying daily and organizing mass prayers will be managed by the Live our Faith wing of ACC.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

Importance of Student Well Being

-By Khushi Mehta (BACP-A)

Staying healthy is one of the best practices that will give you complete physical, mental, and social well-being. A healthy lifestyle can prevent long-term illnesses. Well-being is an assessment of how an individual feels about themselves, both physically and mentally. How an individual feels, thinks, relates to, and deals with the goals they set for themselves can have a profound impact on how they live their lives. In addition, well-being has a strong link to health as it has been correlated with its impact on a longer lifespan, disease recovery, positive health behaviors and outcomes, and patient-healthcare provider relationships. Today, caring for health and well-being is critical to building a healthy future for the generations to come and a prosperous and stable society. The health and well-being of a particular person are important to the country's economy because they affect productivity.

For students, moving to university only happens once and usually results in a high level of stress linked to the changes that are happening in their lives. Money management, healthy eating, being away from home, and being away from family and friends can all affect a student's well-being. One can agree that for students to succeed academically, leaders must encourage a campus culture that promotes well-being and prioritizes well-being as a value.

A campus dedicated to student well-being helps improve academic performance, retention, and graduation rates. College students with a strong sense of well-being and belonging tend to be more motivated and confident and have higher levels of engagement and achievement. Likewise, they exhibit greater cultural awareness, enhanced critical thinking, higher levels of community service, and are more likely to be empathetic citizens.

CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus has a room for Health services set up on the ground floor. The doctor and the nurse there provide basic health facilities for students and offer valuable precautions to avoid falling prey to ill health.

Students and Mental Health

-By Lavina Khandelwal (BACP-B)

In recent years, the urgency of mental health has grown rapidly as people have begun to understand its importance in our lives and its influence on our thoughts and behavior. Mental health helps us learn the basics of survival and cope with hardships.

CHRIST (Deemed to be) University provides its students with the much-needed facility of counseling in the new Yeshwanthpur campus. The Counsellors welcome students with kind hearts, warm smiles, and open arms, ready to swaddle them with the support they need.

Through a small conversation with the college student counselor of this campus, we were able to ask her how people deal with their mental well-being, to which she responded, "This is subjective. Each person takes care of themselves in their way. One may prefer meditation while another might prefer reading or exercising." She further explained that time management is very important for us to ensure the well-being of our mental health and that she finds sufficient time to focus on her mental well-being. "We need to be organized and also should learn to give more priority to our personal space and time to focus on ourselves." replied the counselor, when asked about how students could organize accordingly in a busy schedule.

Then an important question arose. What could be done when our loved ones go through a tough time? She, with her constant smile, said, "Sit with them. Talk to them, and most importantly, listen to them. Share your experiences with them. This can gradually make them feel more comfortable and more optimistic about their future."

At the end of the conversation, she concludes by saying that we should be prepared to face the obstacles that life has prepared for us, physically, as well as mentally. If we face a problem that makes us believe that we may be losing ourselves, we should take some time for ourselves and figure out a way to deal with the problem efficiently.

Talents on Campus

-By Bina Raj (BACP-A) and Harsh Bisht (BACP-A)

SARAANSH MENON - MUSIC HEAD

From winning the Beat God Award to organizing an informal Cypher hip-hop event during his school years, Saraansh Menon has done it all. We introduce to you the Head of the Music Club, who has dedicated eight years of his life to hip-hop music.

According to him, there are two types of people, the audience, who appreciate the music and supports the performer, and the artists, who love to perform in front of them. Saraansh sees himself as the latter type.

He loves to perform and sees himself making money out of his music in the future. So, it's more than just a hobby for him; it's his entire life. He takes in whatever he gets without going to any specific genre or without any specific inspiration or role model. He learned everything by himself and will continue to do so.

The pandemic era was a bad phase for him. He was untouched and experienced nothingness. But he eventually found his way out.

Saraansh is grateful to his family for introducing him to the world of music, especially his sister, who believed in him even during the worst of times.

He strives to be an active participant in the classroom and wants to take on more challenges. We wish him good luck with his music career and his academics.

DHANVEER SINGH (RAULA)

How many of you remember the show MAD from Pogo and the star of that show, Rob? Well, Dhanveer surely does, and in fact, Rob is the reason he started beatboxing in the first place. Taking inspiration from artists such as Zarthak and Rakka, he started his journey in 2017, the year of origin of his Cross Joint Crew. The group went from hanging out together because of their similar interests to giving wings to their dreams by creating a music group on Spotify. Eventually, they started to earn revenue from their songs. But it was never about the money for our Punjabi Munda.

It has always been about nourishing his artwork, and Dhanveer is ready to grasp any opportunity he gets. He says that he has "based his entire life" on it. He goes by the stage name "Raula" which means chaos or disorder in Punjabi. His achievements in this short period of time are remarkable. He participated in and won one of India's biggest rap battle events, Kranti. During this growth, Raula faced several challenges, but he tells us that his family stood like a firm wall and supported him. Dhanveer's dad knows very little of hip-hop, but he still nods his head along with the beat of his son's songs.

We asked Dhanveer what his art form meant to him. He replied with one word, "everything".

BAVYAHARSHITHA C

Bavyaharshitha C, is a first-year undergraduate student at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus, from the course BBA FIB-B. Hailing from Tamil Nadu, she has played Veenai for the past 4 years. “When your pulse sounds like music, your heart beats the world” – Bavyaharshitha C. One day, while watching “Super Singer", a reality music show, she saw a person called Rajhesh Vaidhya playing the Veenai in the show.

She was very interested and her parents went to purchase Veenai in the span of two days to Thanjavur, a very famous cultural destination of the Chola empire. She started taking Veenai classes in the summer holidays. The Veenai made her feel incredible, confident, and energetic. But she couldn’t continue properly due to her higher education and school timings. So she took online classes for Veenai from her idol, none other than Rajhesh Vaidhya sir, who was the one to inspire her to achieve the greatest heights in music. It was a dream come true when she received a mail that she was selected for Rajhesh Vaidhya sir’s class.

Currently, she is not taking any classes and still practicing to be a good student and genuine musician. She has participated in various events like Margazhi Sangeetha Utsavam, Tiruchengottil Thiruvayar, and more to showcase her talent. She has performed in various religious temples (kovil) like Arulmigu Arthanareeswarar Thirukovil, Puttaparthi Sai baba temple, Pazhani Murgan Kovil, etc. She also performed in media channels on the Tamil Nadu government’s Kalvi Tholaikatchi and Canada Thamilaali Channel. She still has a lot to learn, and she has a burning desire to do so.

DEEPAL

"Either write something worth reading or do something worth writing." -Benjamin Franklin

Deepal, a young writer from Jalandhar, Punjab, is a first-year BCom Honours student at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur. She has worked for national-level anthologies as a co-author and has who had her articles published in the Teenage Today Magazine.

Deepal’s journey began in Grade 8 when she composed her first-ever Hindi poem. In Grade 9, she started submitting her articles to the Teenage Today Magazine every month and saw many of them being published over the span of two years. Her first anthology was an open letter in May 2021 and soon published another anthology in February of the following year. She has been able to explore the world of writing and publishing after having interacted with numerous writers, poets, and people with similar nterests as her.

Deepal has covered an array of topics through her writings. From writing about her own feelings to hypothetical scenarios, be it an optimistic piece or a serious matter, she’s done it all. She captures the ugly parts of the world and the beauty in our surroundings with the same ease. Her style of writing is very simple, making it easy for readers to understand the true essence of her words.

Deepal encourages people to compose, jot down their thoughts and let go of their inhibitions. She wishes to publish a book someday and for that, we wish her the very best.

KAUSHIK SAIKIA

Kaushik Saikia, studying at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University is currently a BCom(Hons) student and is a National level Artistic Gymnast hailing from Assam. Describing his journey in gymnastics, he said that he started quite late when compared with other gymnasts. As a child, he was more interested in sports activities rather than academics. Soon, his mother and elder brother noticed his interest and started exploring the avenues since they were not acquainted with gymnastics as a sport at the time.

After much research, they found a sports facility that taught the sport right from the basics. He passed the initial admission test with flying colors and soon began to practice for two hours every day. Initially, he was drafted into the beginner's section of the group where he picked up the skills quicker and more efficiently than the rest of the group. Noticing his potential, the coach promoted him to the advanced group where he learned the rules, techniques, and skills of competitions.

In April 2014, he participated in his first gymnastics competition, the State level championship. He participated only to gain experience; however, he pulled off the Vaulting Element better than everyone else, receiving a gold medal on that particular apparatus. He continued training and participated in another competition the next year.

He received 5 medals this time out of 6 apparatus. The following year, in March 2016, he won gold medals for all 6 apparatus. The pandemic era was a bad phase for him as he'd continued to compete through 2017-18 in various events. But soon he had to start devoting more time to academics. He had to discontinue the sport till his board examinations in 2020. He went to Allahabad for two years afterward, where he improved further. However, he could not participate in any competitions due to the lockdown during the Covid-19 pandemic in 2020-21.

He finally got a chance to compete one more time in a competition just before college started, where he bagged 3 gold medals and 1 silver, even though he suffered from an injury to his hand in the middle of the competition.

PARI SAINI

Who doesn't love the sweet smell of freshly baked rich chocolate cake?

Pari Saini, a first-year BBA student at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur, hails from the city of Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh. A home baker and independent dance choreographer, Pari is a multi-talented person. Her journey to becoming an entrepreneurial home baker stems from her keen interest in the field that she's nurtured ever since she was a child. With the support of her parents, Pari was able to launch her very own 'CAKE STUDIO' on 12th July 2021. What started as a small project with no clear menu or website soon turned into a formal and systematic business. She received her first earrings at the young age of seventeen and gave them to her parents to thank them for their support and guidance.

In no time, she started to gain recognition and appreciation for her work. Her menu grew from just cakes to cookies, brownies, muffins, cupcakes, and all types of delicious baked goods. Pari is no stranger to receiving orders in bulk and was once asked to make brownies for a party!

Her journey has taught her how to interact with people professionally and how to deal with all the ups and downs of a business. Speaking of the future, she sees herself expanding her business further and opening her bakery soon. With her passion for baking and knack for business, we wish her the best and hope to see her venture grow.

Celebs on Campus

Alister Alex

Alister Alex, a first-year undergraduate student majoring in Communication and Media, Psychology at CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur Campus, shares his experiences working as an artist in the Malayalam film industry and being a part of the critically acclaimed movie Joji, inspired by Macbeth. Alister played 'Popi', the protagonist's nephew, and he did an incredible job with his phenomenal acting and raw talent.

- By Ajay Krishnan Vijayan (BACP-B) and Sakshi Pandey (BACP-A)

"My name is Alister, and I'm 18 years old. I'm from Kanjirapally in Kottayam, Kerala, and I've loved cinema for as long as I can remember. That passion has pushed me to work in the Malayalam film industry. "

Don't we all like anti-heroes? Their lack of morals makes them likable with dynamic personalities. Alister claims that he prefers morally dubious characters—anti-heroes who are neither the hero nor the villain.

When asked which actor he felt most at ease working with, he chuckled and said, "Every actor has truly made me feel at ease, but I guess I loved working with Unnimaya Prasad." In the film, she portrayed 'Bincy'. "I had several sequences with Fahad Fazil, and he offered me quite a bit of advice as well." When asked about his plans as a student, Alister grinned and replied, "I have a lot of expectations for the next three years as a Christite. I'm shy, and I want to change that. I want to be more social. I want to be a better person." When enquired about his upcoming projects, he informed us of his involvement in the shooting of two films. He goes on to say that his upcoming production Kaathal directed by Jeo Baby, will star Mammooty, one of the industry's best actors.

Despite his tight schedule, Alister Alex was very patient and shared many laughs during the conversation. Here's to more of his blockbuster films and shared laughs.

Aseel Hamsa Sab

Every one of us has a classmate that you seldom see and is shrouded in mystery. One such student is Aseel Hamsa Sab. It turns out that Aseel is more than just a typical 19-year-old college student; he is also the founder of Recommendation Committee, an Instagram profile with 145K followers, and celebrity followers including Toni Starr and Varun Grover.

Recommendation Community is a platform that made movie and series recommendations in a much shorter form. The profile made movie hunting much simpler. The "Recommendation Community," which he created out of boredom in the covid time of 2019, has now grown into a significant entertainment review site with a turnover of 20–25 lakhs in 2021. Despite his hectic schedule as a Christite majoring in Communication and Media, Psychology, his aspirations for the development of his firm are not restricted. Aseel and his two other partners have now formed a large team that includes multiple paid interns. Aseel's humility was clear during our talk. He not only attributes the success of his page to his co-workers but also considers himself fortunate to have struck the jackpot. RC has connected with a variety of different platforms, including TVF, Spotify, and HBO, which provides opportunities to learn more about the business and be invited to their events. The success of Aseel's team did not come easily, but with their devotion and hard work, they were able to establish a place for themselves in the industry.

-Interview by Aaria Joseph (BACP-A)

When asked to advise amateur content creators, he replies by saying, "there is no precise strategy for success in this field, only that you must be open to whatever comes your way."

METRO AND MEMORIES

-By Tanya Shukla (BACP-A)

- By Ashwin Gaur

"Namma metro" - "Our metro"- even though many of us Christites didn't understand what it meant; we had a sense that it belonged to us. We see CHRIST identity cards dangling from everyone's necks in the mornings between 8 am and 9 am and the evenings between 4 pm and 6 pm It became a significant part of our lives despite being nothing more than routine. For many of us, it serves as our daily mode of communication and the only mode of transportation that allows us to feel like residents of Bangalore by taking us from Nagasandra to all over the city.

In just four months of waiting for our station to arrive, especially on Saturdays and Sundays when there is hardly any room to stand, we have all unknowingly memorized the green and purple line routes and stops. It is not only a place for people from different spheres of life to meet but also embraces mood and emotion. Christites sing and laugh out together with their friend groups here .When it's raining, they listen to music and take in the scenery through the glass windows. This is also enjoyable in the evenings when the sun is setting and the sky is painted in soft hues.

For Christites, it is more than just a mode of transportation; it is a part of our lives, and it is a place where we've not only made many memories but also met people from various walks of life and learned about Nagasandra's local life. It is every Christite's memory metro.

THE SHUTTLE SAGA

-By Khushi Bharadwaj (BACP-B)

After getting out of the metro, many enjoy the walk to college. But the same cannot be said for all. Those 20 minutes of cardio are a herculean task to many. Students line up near the Nagasandra metro station to board the bus to college. Having secured a window seat, they stare kitty into the bustling streets of Nalagadderenahalli, eyeing the sweets and savory treats on display.

The bumpy rides, the sudden breaks, and the new faces are all part of the fun journey. Resting their heads on the window pane with their earphones on, the ride is definitely considered enjoyable.

I just paid 300 rupees for an auto!

-By Teresa Kuruvila (BBA FIB B)

No, I didn't just pay 300 rupees for an auto, but now that I have your attention, let's talk about travel expenses. As the first-semester bids adieu, fellow Christites appear to have perfected the art of bargaining. Whether it's at the mercy of Uber drivers for a ride back home or a CIA extension, we've evolved from meek bystanders to aggressive advocates of a good deal. As the final hour's session concludes, a throng of worn-out students, armed with conviction and broken Kannada, make their way to nearby auto stands remembering to blurt out exactly what that one friend from class said:

> "Anna, from point A to B, I refuse to give more than XXX rupees."

How did we get here, you may ask? The Yeshwanthpur Campus is at the convergence of Bangalore's metropolitan landscape. The presence of notable retail outlets and residential projects makes it an ideal hotspot. However, along with this comes young students with short-term housing, academic commitments, and juggling part-time work. short-term housing, academic commitments, and juggling part-time work. The fluctuating rates of living are alarming, as students battle to stay afloat in a new 'cost of living crisis' phenomenon. What specifically makes expenses even more excruciating is transportation, a factor so deeply rooted in students and parents that it forms the basis of budgeting among most of them.

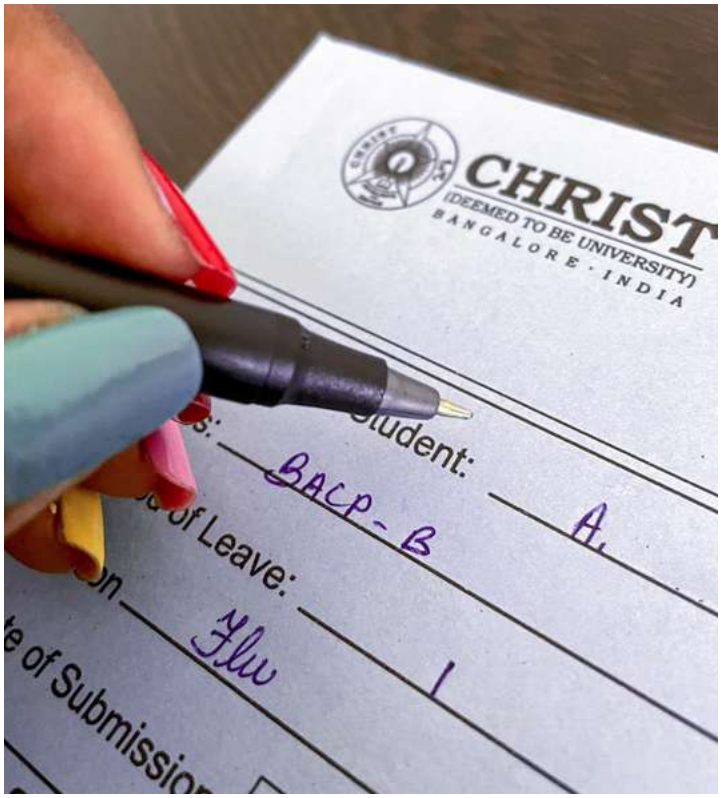
To make matters worse, a sudden social pressure to keep up with peers is also on the rise, with spontaneous expenses made in a bid to 'fit in'. When given much thought, the question of 'to pay or not to pay' lingers. What benefits at the transaction's end would be knowing that you've just made a solid deal, at the right price while saving more for what matters. Awareness of knowing exactly where your money goes and why goes a long way in dictating your path to adulthood. Though this may take time to master, never deny that feeling of a sound financial decision, as it takes a great mind to create it. So, until then, I'll see you around the auto stands.

CHRISTITES AND THE SAGA OF BLUE FORMS

-By Chuzan Mahammad (BACP-A)

The first few months of CHRIST (Deemed to be) University, Yeshwanthpur campus felt much like a health enthrallment. Students and teachers alike were diagnosed with dengue which created havoc among the entire campus. The basement evolved into a dreaded space and only a handful of people loitered there because as rumor had it, that is where it all started. As students in a new city, nobody risked it for a steaming plate of fried rice. These months also witnessed a heavy influx of blue forms when students took rounds getting them signed by their subject teachers; few continue making the rounds, just in time for the end-semester exams, to claim their attendance.

For students, moving to university usually brings with it high levels of stress linked to the changes happening in their lives. Going to college is an important part of their education, but it creates stress that affects their health. Money management, healthy eating, and being away from home, away from family and friends can all affect a student's well-being. Christites have a tough grind trying to meet deadlines to submit their CIAs contributing to the already existing mental pressure. For the students to succeed academically, a campus culture that promotes well-being and prioritizes it as a value is a core element.



Similarly, work is underway on our campus to create a non-judgmental environment and to remove the stigma behind mental health issues. Our campus is dedicated to the students' well-being and strives to improve academic performance, retention, and graduation rates. Because college students with a high sense of well-being and belonging tend to be more motivated, and confident, and have higher levels of engagement and achievement. Likewise, they exhibit greater cultural awareness, enhanced critical thinking, higher levels of community service, and are more likely to be empathetic citizens.

CREATIVE COLOUMN

Battlefield

I feel like a battlefield from within War cry is the melody of every inch of my skin
The clash of swords,
The flash of fire
is my heart's brawl against my mind's desire.
My consciousness is trying to find peaceful solitude, whereas,
Oblivion has brought disgrace to finitude.
Tears and whims are indulgent no more,
With sympathies ardently forbidden,
It has become the melancholy I can no longer shore.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND CHRISTITES

-By Khushi Bharadwaj (BACP-B)

We saw students greeting and hugging each other on the first day of college as if they were long-lost friends. We had all connected long before we met in person and had also become good friends. We were all members of several "CHRIST Yeshwanthpur" WhatsApp groups and followed several "CHRIST Yeshwanthpur" Instagram pages. After the classes began, the bond grew stronger.

The SWO Media Team uploads reels, stories, and posts on their Instagram page whenever they hold fests, competitions, or other programs. Hundreds of students repost them to commend their efforts and show appreciation.

On Ethnic Day, our social media feeds were flooded with outfit pictures and dance videos. Christites celebrated cultural diversity by dressing in traditional attire and sharing numerous pictures and videos of the same. It allowed everyone to rewatch the entire event in quick flashbacks. Bangalore is well-known for its famous "Instagrammable" cafeterias, as well as its beautiful parks and restaurants. We learned a lot about these cafeterias, hangout spots, and food joints all thanks to social media. Social media plays an important role in the social lives of Christites and improves the college experience for us Gen-Zs.

End of a semester

-By Timothy Nallal Sundar (BSc CM)

I still, remember the first day I came to university quite well. It was a cold morning in August, and my father woke me up at five-thirty a.m. I had come with my family to Bangalore from my hometown, Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu, and we were staying at my aunt's place. I remember quite clearly the faint outline of my dad flipping the light switch on and off, and my sister throwing one of her pillows right at the switch, turning the light off. She smiled a satisfied smile, and then promptly proceeded to go back to sleep.
How fast has time flown since then?

The first thing I learned when I started classes here at CHRIST was to forget everything I was taught about college as a concept. Sure, the classes were quite fun and interesting, but they were also equally demanding. Overdue assignments seemed to multiply like rabbits, and deadlines made whooshing sounds as they flew past me. This was not the exact college life we were promised in "Kuch Kuch Hota" Hai or any other of Karan Johar's exaggerated productions; there was not enough time to complete all our assignments and extra-curricular activities, let alone fit an extremely elaborate song-and-dance sequence (Yeh Ladka Hai Deewana plays in an alternate universe).

Life seems to go on here at CHRIST, but during exam season the atmosphere changes to one of pure focus and literary revision. The hostel atmosphere also has its own set of changes- the fifth-floor boys, who normally blasted Bollywood songs out of their speakers loud enough for the whole building to hear seemed to have quietened down. People seemed to wake up earlier than usual and the warden too became considerate of the young scholars 'studying' late at night.

My roommate Michael, whom I had met the first day I came here, remained glued to his desk, endlessly jotting down key points about the various topics covered. Dharun, on the other hand, was quite regular in his study schedule and only needed the two weeks before the exam to revise and recap all that he had studied. The only tough exam for him was the French exam.

"Dude, they can't expect me to remember all of the months?!" he would say, and throw his heavy French book away in despair. The book, unfortunately, took flight in my direction and hit me squarely in the chest, disrupting my mediocre revision. I gasped as the heaviness of the book knocked the wind out of me, but Dharun did not seem to notice. "Try reading them out loud," I said, "you're sure to remember the words that way."

Dharun began to recite the 'Les mois de l'année', and searched for his French book which he seemed to have forgotten was on my bed. I wanted to be helpful, so I took his book and threw it back to him, which hit him in the head. It was unintentional, I promise, but who was going to believe me?

I leaped out of harm's way just in time as Dharun lunged toward me.

Magnificat

-By Mridusmita Biswas (BACP-A)

Magnificat, a spectacular event, was a Christmas celebration hosted by the SWO on 28th November and was a clear display of the university's spirit and talent. This event served as a stage to felicitate the winners of Bhasha Utsav. Team Nishaad', team 'Miso Soup' and team 'Dhwani'- the winners of the music event, and team 'Goa', team 'Gujarat' and team 'Punjab'- winners of the dance event were felicitated by Dr Father Abraham.

'Ninaad'- the music society of the university, the University Choir, and two bands by the name of 'Ecstasy' and 'Moms Misosoup' took this opportunity to showcase their talent and put up mesmerizing performances. With the crowd cheering and phone flashlights being waved in the air, it was clear that they were loved by the audience.

Magnificat didn't just stop at music. To keep the audience on their toes, host Eeshaan Krishnan, with a little help from Santa Claus himself, quizzed the audience on their knowledge about different Christmas traditions and trivia. Correct answers received chocolates from Santa Claus. To keep the Christmas spirit alive, the SWO Theatre Team put on a skit that initially amused the audience but in no time left them with a deeper meaning to ponder upon. It was a humorous little performance that encouraged the true essence of Christmas- being kind and giving.

The joy on the faces of the SWO team and the audience was visible through their bright smiles and cheers. Both the audience and the participants were equally involved in making this an unforgettable experience. Be it the dance, the music, or the skit, the performers believed in themselves and that was the main reason for Magnificat being such a glorious event.

RECTOR'S DAY

-By Aminya Bajaj (BACP-B)

Rector's day is celebrated in honour of the birthday of our Rector, Dr Fr Paul Achandy. This year it was conducted on 19 December 2022.

Every year all the teaching and non-teaching staff enthusiastically compete in different events including dance, singing, drama, Christmas tree decoration, etc.

This year, for the first time, the newly established Yeshwanthpur campus participated in this event, surely conquering many hearts.

Achievements.

	Center for Counselling &Health Services Christ University organised a Guest Talk on "Embrace Equity" by Ms Parvathy Sankar, Managing Director of Mindset, on 08th March 2023 , at Christ Deemed To Be University. The emcees for the gathering were Ms Jennifer and Ms Thirusha. Dr Suganthi S, Professor, Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering, welcomed the group and delivered the presidential address. IEEE WIE Student Chair, Ms. Nivedha, gave a brief introduction to the speaker of the day, Ms. Parvathy Sankar. She is the Managing Director at Mindset Consulting. A strategic leader with an MBA from IMD International Switzerland and international experience of 24+ years leading business transformation programs, enterprise software product strategy and go-to-market innovations leveraging technology and cloud transformation. She has held several leadership roles in SAP in Germany and in UCB Pharma in Belgium, where she established efficiency-related programs that drove a strong culture of effectiveness. This has shaped her love for driving organizational effectiveness strategies. With these experiences, she helps clients set strategies to drive value out of technology for business innovations and effectiveness. As Managing Director for Mindset, Parvathy incorporated Mindset in India two years ago and grew the company to around 65 employees, well known for its activities in the User Experience and Technology areas of SAP. Additionally, she shapes Mindset Consulting's overall product strategy globally to ensure our clients get the best experience and value out of the technology transformation. Her passion involves photography, travel and spreading the love of Indian culture. The chief guest of the day, Ms Parvathy Sankar, Managing Director, Mindset, briefed us on how to convert innovative ideas into worthwhile projects. She started by talking about the company's Mindset. The topic was Embracing Equity. She then gave a small activity to discuss a picture and asked a couple of teams to explain it. She talked about leadership. She then spoke about the diversity in India. She mentioned that the higher the graph, the representation of women decreases. She spoke about why diversity is essential and how each person has a different target, experience, perspectives, skills, and communication. She then explained what equity means. She encouraged the attendees to grab opportunities and discussed equality in a workspace. She explained uniqueness, sensitivity towards each other, belongingness and psychological safety. She mentioned different women leaders and the impact they made. She ended with a video of unequal pay and being treated fairly. Further, there was a Q & A session which helped the students to have a direct interaction with the speaker. IEEE WIE Secretary, Ms Adithi, delivered the vote of thanks.

Equity

Women empowering.. Hygine

Should not fear to speak up and grab the opportunities.

Women and men both are equal part of the society

Women should never burn themselves out by trying not to communicate

Equity

Women can do all things if she has the right support

Importance to Equity than equality.

Importance of health and hygiene

Women can achieve the same thing as men can if they put their mind to it. Being confident.

Women should stand for themselves and they should raise their voice.

Everyone can have varying thoughts.

We as Women should support other Women in all aspects

The Women's Day talk was inspiring and empowering, highlighting the challenges women face and the progress that has been made in achieving gender equality. The speaker shared personal stories and examples to illustrate the importance of women's voices and perspectives in all aspects of society. The talk emphasized the need for continued advocacy and action to address issues like pay equity, representation in leadership positions, and access to healthcare and education. Overall, it was a thought-provoking and motivating presentation that left a lasting impact on the audience.

I really understood what is equity and equality and men and all women are equal and it all depends on the state of mind

Women's achievement, recognised challenges and equality for women is required.

Women can fit in any role nd should be treated equally

If we are determined to achieve something then nothing can stop us. Women must pursue their dreams.

It was good and engaging session

1) Women are in various professions and not just homemakers. They have views and ideas to give to the world which can improve different fields and areas and provide development.
2) Women should have enough self worth and confidence to ask questions. And not be scared to ask why.
3) Mental and emotional cleaning is important.

Be independent and stand on your two feet

Women and men should be given the same opportunities.

Equity and equality

Old people can also be mysandrists but some of them are sane

As a women knowing important things to carry forward and to bring in practice of those things

Being a female is like switching between two sides of a coin in a split second

What girl should take care about

Enhance your skills by hard-working

The session was very insightful and helped me understand women in technology.

NIL

How corporate world works

Women should step in front and avail all opportunity out in the world

To live an independent life and not be dependent on anyone.

Women should stand up for themselves

To do what I do with confidence and rise above with a louder voice.

Self importance, health importance

Empowerment by supporting eachother,establishing equity instead of equality

Being unique doesn't mean that we are wrong

Women can do anything

The talk was so insightful, my key take away message is how to not miss opportunities and go forward despite having minor issues and Also to fight for my rights.

Women's growth in the society

Thanks mam for taking this sessions

to never shy away from giving yourself the best that you can give

It was Informative and interactive

Knowledge on women's day

my key takeaway message would be that embracing equity on Women's Day is an essential step towards creating a more inclusive and diverse society. This means actively working to eliminate gender-based discrimination and creating opportunities for women to thrive in all areas of life. By embracing equity, we can promote gender equality and empower women to realize their full potential.

Women power

Women empowerment,health and hygiene.

Very informative session

World is nothing without equality

About how girls are actively participating in every thing

Nothing

Ideas

To embrace the challenges that will come my way. To never stay silent and speak up to get something that i deserve.

Self confidence and women empowerment

Woman empowerment

Don't bother about what others might say. If you want to do something, just go for it, If u feel like you deserve something , speak up. Be strong.

Women should be strong

Word hard and be independent

Women empowerment, importance of health and hygiene

Be kind

Equality

Women are capable of everything men are capable of and more

It was informative

Women should always help other women in times of need

Women don't need to gain a voice, we already have one. We just need to use it.

How to take right choice and health

Be the change

Enlightening

In the STEM world ,women need to come up more and put equity on the table

How to be a better women and face the struggles

Women empowerment is important in the society.

We should not fear down because of what people will say and aim higher goals in life.

Stop dominating urself saying that u r a woman , woman is capable of doing great things which even men couldn't do.

Women have to raise voice whenever needed irrespective of other people's opinions

I've learnt the importance of being a strong independent woman.

We should be confident on what we want to speak out

Women must learn to voice their opinions regardless of the field and be confident enough to lead a team or a community.

Be strong

To utilize every chance in life ,and to be a strong women

women's equity in work field.

Women rights

Nothing

Women are strong

Importance of women's equality to make a beautiful world

Confidence

How to work in team
How to work effectively
How to be healthy

Women should be equally going with the society.

Identify the uniqueness of ourselves

Respect ourselves and others

Every single person in this world are unique and has their own abilities and skills irrespective of whoever you identify as

Both men and women should be respected

We get a confident

Never to be afraid and to be confident always !

You guys did fabulous job It was really good.Would love to be part of IEEE and help you guys 😌

Give some break btw consecutive sessions that would create more impact i guess. Other than tha it was awesome

Please organize these sessions during free hours. Nobody appreciates losing lectures.

It should be Little more interesting

Good

It was good seminar. Well coordinated event.

Everything is perfect

It's

Be better

Do not promise refreshments(and not provide them) to women, especially when they are on their periods.

All the best !!

Great work and keep going.

Nothing...

Session can be more interactive , like the first session.

Don't lose self respect

I feel that women's day is celebrated across world why not men's day . If celebrated both should be equal not overexxagerating one gender.

Boys should also be included as it's important for them to understand why these sessions are being held. Only if they know what women are facing all around the world will they be able to help and make a change in the society.

Do more of these to empowerment all young minds

It was very informative and interesting.

Required more participation

Waiting for it

I think we should bring in the boys also for such talks because the issues faced by women should be understood by them too. We all know this is a male dominant world and we need them to understand where they have to change Or where all they can help for women to grow. We all have to work together to bring a change not just women. When such session are kept only for the girls, it feels like equity is a battle only we have to fight for. Men have to understand the importance of all these and lend their support.

It was informative

Maybe include more males so that they can gain more knowledge too

Could we have people from the industry who are entrepreneurs come talk about how they reached there?

It was good

Men should have been a part of the session too. These days there are guys who treat women poorly as a privilege just cause they can due to the societal norms. So its not girls that had to listen to the session but the guys.

It should be more interactive

If possible the speaker of the event can walk in between us like occasionally. (where we are seated)

Technologies and girls with tricks to shine better

Please make this session compulsory for everyone

I would like to suggest to organise shorter sessions

Subject attendance should not be taken for both boys and girls, while the session is going on. It should be made sure that all girls are strictly attending, unlike this time where half of the girls went to subject class and got subject attendance there, while we got absent for that same hour

Women employment

would like to be member of ieee

Keep going

Should conduct for all not only girls whether it is women's day or not, men should also hear the class

Sessions on mind control

Boys and girls should have a same seminar

Career opportunities

Boys should also be included as they should also know the importance of helping women grow in this society.

Males could also be included because they also have to understand and learn to accept and respect women.At the same time women should be thought that feminism shouldn't mean supressing men but trying to get what they deserve.

No comments

The audience should not be compromised of only women. If we ever are to progress, men should also be aware of our rights and beliefs. We as women already have a strong sense of

Rethinking Region and Regional Media

Focus on Karnataka

CONCEPTUAL NOTE

The National Seminar on Rethinking Region and Regional Media: Focus on Karnataka is an attempt to explore the diverse spectrum of the Indian media ecosystem, through the lens of Karnataka regional media space. The term 'regional' is not epitomized as a peripheral understanding of 'relating to or characteristic of a region' but constantly evolved by socio-political, linguistic, ethnic, cultural and community-level interactions. Seminar presumes the general perception that today the so-called 'mainstream' National Media in our country have continuously marginalized the regional flora, dialect and cultural continuum. This is the background where this seminar explores and revisits the role of Karnataka regional media and how it would perform different participatory functions for national solidarity. Regional media in Karnataka has constantly evolved into framing an assimilative narrative by considering aesthetic, cultural, civic, social, political and economic outlooks.

Regional content consumption has grown across all media platforms. The seminar will also look into this hyperlocal news metamorphosis through the contextual lens of Karnataka regional media. It is high time to explore this regional news ecosystem, parallel with understanding how Karnataka regional media evolves and matures and how the quality of its media content and journalistic practices will rise to meet audience expectations. In essence, the thematic platform of the seminar reiterates such a way of analyzing the media ecosystem in Karnataka. Hence, the seminar would raise questions about Karnataka's societal fabric, history, politics, business models, political discourses and public policy. What constitutes 'local', 'diverse', 'cultural', 'political' and 'regional', and what level of 'localness' is necessary and appropriate for different forms of media in Karnataka? In this process, the seminar illustrates the paradigmatic turns in the Karnataka regional media landscape prevailing up to the present and future. The seminar unveils the disconnections, disenchantment and dilemmas of the diverse regions of Karnataka through the regional mediated narratives of its culture, history, aspirations for the future and experiences from the past.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

CHRIST (Deemed to be University) was born out of the educational vision of St Kuriakose Elias Chavara, an educationist and a social reformer of the nineteenth century in South India. He founded the first indigenous Catholic congregation, Carmelites of Mary Immaculate (CMI) in 1831 which administers CHRIST (Deemed to be University). The multi-disciplinary Institution which focuses on teaching, research and service, offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral programs in Humanities, Social Sciences, Science, Commerce, Management, Engineering, Law, Education, and Architecture. The six campuses of the University, four at Bengaluru in Karnataka, one at Pune Lavasa in Maharashtra, and one at Delhi National Capital Region (NCR) are living examples of harmonious multiculturalism with students from all the states and Union Territories of India and about 77 different countries.

Established in 2022, Bangalore Yeshwanthpur Campus offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral Programmes in the School of Arts and Humanities, School of Social Sciences, School of Sciences, School of Business and Management, School of Commerce, Finance and Accountancy. The Department of media studies at Yeshwanthpur campus is the new addition to the three-decade legacy of impacting media education at our University. By creating an open and collaborative environment that embraces innovation and integrity, the Department of Media Studies offers a plethora of opportunities to the student community to deepen their disciplinary knowledge, hone academic and professional skills and nurture an attitude of professional and societal service, along with excellence. A dynamic curriculum, innovative pedagogy, learner-centric values, intensive research and relevant industry exposure in the form of internships and projects are defining features of the Department. With resourceful and amiable faculty and robust academic systems, we work towards making media education rigorous, inclusive and meaningful.

Rethinking Region and Regional Media

Focus on Karnataka

CONCEPTUAL NOTE

The National Seminar on Rethinking Region and Regional Media: Focus on Karnataka is an attempt to explore the diverse spectrum of the Indian media ecosystem, through the lens of Karnataka regional media space. The term 'regional' is not epitomized as a peripheral understanding of 'relating to or characteristic of a region' but constantly evolved by socio-political, linguistic, ethnic, cultural and community-level interactions. Seminar presumes the general perception that today the so-called 'mainstre am' National Media in our country have continuously marginalized the regional flora, dialect and cultural continuum. This is the background where this seminar explores and revisits the role of Karnataka regional media and how it would perform different participatory functions for national solidarity. Regional media in Karnataka has constantly evolved into fr aming an assimilative narrative by considering aesthetic, cultural, civic, social, political and economic outlooks.

Regional content consumption has grown across all media platforms. The seminar will also look into this hyperlocal news met amorphosis through the contextual lens of Karnataka regional media. It is high time to explore this regional news ecosystem, parallel with understanding how Karnataka regional media evolves and matures and how the quality of its media content and journalistic practices will rise to meet audience expectations. In essence, the thematic platform of the seminar reiterates such a way of analyzing the media ecosystem in Karnataka. Hence, the seminar would raise questions about Karnataka's societal fabric, history, politics, business models, political discourses and public policy. What constitutes 'local', 'diverse', 'cultural', 'political' and 'regional', and what level of 'localness' is necessary and appropriate for different forms of media in Karnataka? In this process, the seminar illustrates the paradigmatic turns in the Karnataka regional media landscape prevailing up to the present and future. The seminar unveils the disconnections, disenchantment and dilemmas of the diverse regions of Karnataka through the regional mediated narratives of its culture, history, aspirations for the future and experiences from the past.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	The Department of Media Studiesat Christ[Deemed to be] University, Yeshwanthpur Campus organized an impressive event for the inauguration of its Press Club, INIKAAS.

Key Takeaways
Summary of the Activity	The event began at 2 pm with a lamp lighting ceremony by the Dean of the campus Dr. Joby Thomas, the esteemed Chief Guest Ms. Afshan Yasmeen, and the Media faculty of the college. The guests were presented with lovely bouquets handcrafted by the students themselves. The Media Department music group then presented a mesmerizing musical medley and hooked the audience to their seats. After the performance, the Dean was called upon the stage to launch the official logo of INIKAAS. At 2:30 pm the Chief Guest, Ms. Afshan Yasmeen was invited to the stage for an interactive session with Dr. Nirmala MN. Ms. Afshan Yasmeen did her studies at Karnataka University in the year 1994. She said that students back in those days didn't have the exposure and the facilities that students nowadays do.She appreciated the work of the students in the promo videos and the logo and told it was commendable that a bunch of first years have managed to do such good work.
Follow-up plan	Department is decided to organise further guest talk series

About Seminar

School of Commerce, Finance and Accountancy, Christ University, Delhi NCR celebrated international women's day 2023 on 10 March 2023, resonating with the UN 2023 theme 'DigitALL: Innovation and technology for gender equality'.

Ms Aparna Saroagi - Director and Head, Credit Risk India, NatWest Group, UK WeAreTheCity Rising Star Global Achievement Awardee' 2022, TEDx Speaker and a Social Entrepreneur and Ms Smita Tandon, POSH and DEI Consultant, were our invited experts for this celebration on campus. A token of memento was given to them by Dr. Chabi Gupta and Dr Harpreet Kaur.

The event started with a small beautiful play that shows a girl's lift from birth till she gets married which gives a very good message to the society that if a girl wants she can do anything and everything for her family.Then one by one guests were invited on the stage to share their insights. Both of them talked about women empowerment, equality and rights..

Aparna Sarogi picked 4 women Leaders from the audience and asked them to make a group to start marking changes from the campus for women safety and rights. Each participant was left with a heightened awareness as well as increased determination and motivation to steer change by the end of the day.The event was a great success.

Profile of the Invited Guests

Her current engagements include key initiatives around Happiness and delivery in the beautiful space of Mindfulness. She is conducting evidence based programs in Happiness, Mindfulness & Stress Management.

Aparna Sarogi

Aparna Saraogi, an IIT alumna and a banker, is of the view that having worked in Fed 14 banks, she is already a priviledged and an empowered women and that most women in India are not like her. Although entrepreneurship amongst Indian women is coming up in a big way especially in metro cities, the women in tier two and tier three cities are still struggling in the concept.

To encourage women who are grappling with the various aspects of entrepreneurship, she along with Standford alumnus Sarandeep Singh came up with a mentoring programme called WEE Foundation (Women Entrepreneurship and Empowerment). She told SheThePeople.TV about the idea behind it to provide support to scale up.

"When we looked around the globe and when I went to rural India for survey, I realised that women want to be financially empowered. They are coming up with a lot of creative ideas. To implement those ideas, they want to understand finance, they want to know who is going to be their potential buyer and most importantly, they want to build that personality. But they need some support and mentorship to scale up," said Aparna, who is also the VP & Head, Market Risk Reporting and Control at RBS Markets & International Banking.

She added, "As we all know that a country cannot succeed until all its women are equally empowered and they are contributing to the GDP. So that's where I thought it's time for me to give back to society. Hence, we came up with a complete end-to-end mentorship programme."

Report on Guest Talk "Gender: The Essence of Life" organized by the Department of Life Sciences on 08/ 03/ 2023

On the occasion of International Women's Day, Prof Phinu Mary Jose was invited to deliver a talk to the final year students of 6BCB& 6BCZ highlighting the importance of gender equality and the role of women in shaping the world. The talk was attended by students and faculty members from the Department of Life Sciences, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Central Campus.

Prof Phinu began by highlighting the significance of International Women's Day, which celebrates the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of women around the world. Prof Phinu stressed on the fact that progress has been made in recent years, there is a long way to go in achieving gender equality and Empowering women for them to attain their highest potential. She addressed and pointed out some of the systemic barriers that hold them back.

Finally, the guest speaker urged the audience to take action towards creating a more inclusive environment and an equitable environment for both men and women. She emphasized on the importance of individual and collective action and encouraged the audience to support women and amplify their voices.

Overall, the guest talk on International Women's Day was an insightful and inspiring event that highlighted the importance of gender equality and the need for continued efforts to empower women in order to create a more just and equitable world.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	• The event was organized to encourage women's participation in the tech industry and provide opportunities for networking, skill development, and mentoring.

	• Women Techies events are important because women are underrepresented in the tech industry. • Women face challenges such as gender bias, a lack of role models, and a lack of networking opportunities when pursuing careers in tech. By creating events that specifically target women in tech, organizers can help women overcome these challenges and advance in their careers.
Key Takeaways	Mrs. Godha Narayana spoke about her life journey, her experience in the US. Regarding open source technology. The implementation of 2D in 3D. The VR and unreal technology used in 3 D imaging. The importance of diversity and inclusion in the technology industry, and the need to create a more welcoming and supportive environment for women and other underrepresented groups. The need for greater transparency and accountability in hiring and promotion practices in the tech industry, as well as efforts to address issues of gender bias and discrimination.
Summary of the Activity	Women in tech is a growing movement to increase the representation of women in the technology industry, which has traditionally been male-dominated. There is a recognition of the importance of diversity and inclusion in the tech industry to promote innovation and drive economic growth. Efforts are also being made to address issues of gender bias and discrimination within the tech industry, such as greater transparency and accountability in hiring and promotion practices. Question and answer session conducted where the faculty as well as students asked a few questions related to industry and how to face everyday challenges with a positive attitude.

Follow-up plan	Continued efforts to increase the representation of women in the tech industry, including promoting diversity and inclusion, addressing gender bias and discrimination, and creating opportunities for women to enter and advance in the field. Developing mentorship and networking programs, advocacy groups, and diversity and inclusion initiatives to support women in the tech industry. Encouraging companies and organizations to commit to greater transparency and accountability in their hiring and promotion practices to create a more welcoming and supportive environment for women in tech.

General Information

Type of Activity	Seminar
Title of the Activity	Beyond binaries
Date	31.03.23

Time	9.30 p.m. to 11.30 p.m.
Venue	1st Block, auditorium

Speaker/Guest/Presenter Details

Name	Vinay Chandran
Title/Position	Counsellor and Executive Director of Swabhava Trust, Bangalore
Title of Presentation	Expressing gender identity

Participants profile

Type of Participants	1st, 2nd, 3rd years of the Psychology department
No. of Participants	400+

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. Aims to create awareness about Gender sensitization. 2. Interactive session revolving around gender, sex and sexuality.
Key Takeaways	1. Destigmatization and awareness about genders and sexualitiesc was achieved.
Summary of the Activity	The event started with an invocation prayer, followed by a speech from Dr VIjaylaya Srinivas (Head of the Department). The session finally started with the speaker asking a crucial question, “What is gender?” The question gathered a wide variety of opinions and answers from the audience members. A series of important points addressed. This includes the conditioning of the sexes, what is classified as feminine and masculine, gender being a social construct, expression of gender through clothing, makeup, role creation based on genitalia and so on. Interrelation between biological and social constructs pertaining to gender. Influence of gender on profession was discussed. Gender is an identity which can be different from the biological orientation assigned at birth or the training one receives through socialisation. There was an interesting debate regarding whether gender is purely a biological construct or involves societal aspects. The faculty members contributed by asking valuable questions. Insight provided on the ‘Hijra’ or the Indian transgender community, which is an essential part of Indian cultural identity and how Transgender Females are given more importance over Transgender males. Intersection of caste and gender identity is important. The importance of gender neutral washrooms and how people should be asked about their opinion regarding the washroom of their choice is Integral. Common ground was reached regarding the LGBTQ community being converted into a trend. The intricacies of pronouns in gender identification was brought to light. The session came to an end with the speaker addressing questions.

4. Feedback

How satisfied are you with the event?	How relevant and helpful was the topic for you?	Would you say you have a greater understanding into the topic now?	How satisfied are you with the speaker?	What were your key takeaways from the event?	Overall feedback
3	2	3	2	No takeaways	No comments
5	5	5	5	Effective way of conducting Queering research	None
4	3	3	3	- The conduct when doing queer research. I understood how queer Psychology is different than research on queer people. I understood the foundational framework	It was good, would have liked it if there was a bit more clarity
5	5	5	5	A new perspective and understanding on the subject	It was a great session and relevant to qualitative research we are currently studying

4	5	5	4	I had previously been put off by research due to how drenched in systemic oppression it was. I had not realised that there were means other than quantitative ones that could be used to conduct research. I had heard of qualitative research but never knew what it was until now. But having this information, I now feel empowered towards pursuing research in the future.	I loved their perspective, ways of researching and their understanding of how research or for that matter anything can not be free of oppression unless it questions/goes against the very systems it was built upon. I do feel that the vocabulary used in the lecture were not very comprehensible to the audience, and I believe my own comprehension of their lecture was solely due to my own non-academic readings of the subject and my interest for the topic being brought up. Hence, I feel that having used simpler vocabulary would've made the information presented more accessible to the audience at hand.
5	5	5	5	Be kind and respectful to everyone regardless of their identity, sexual orientation, and so on.	Great session, I really want more sessions like this which educate everyone and raise awareness on sensitive topics like this to build a better and more peaceful society, where everyone feels safe, including minorities.
3	4	3	3	Knowing ways to queer research	Good

5	5	5	5	Learning what 'Queer stands for', the 'queer lens' , the difference between LQBTQI+ and Queer, Queer research and methods	It was a wonderful session. Especially because only during the session I understood how much I didn't know about Queer, not just as a community but also a word ans how this is actively implemented in to psychological research studies and methodology.
4	4	5	4	I learned what Queer Research is and I learned about the differences between Queer Research and research on the LGBTQIA+ community.	The session was very informative and it taught me much about how to conduct queer research with multiple communities.
3	4	3	4	.	.
5	5	5	5	Better insight into research	Very good and captivating session
5	5	5	5	NA	NA
5	5	5	5	The prospects for Queering research and how it is different from normal research.	Great session; would love to have similar session by such knowledgeable speakers
5	5	4	5	Importance of queer research is not something taught or talked about in research classes often. Having a speaker who has vast knowledge about it and hearing them talk about how it needs to be practiced was insightful.	It was very useful!
4	4	4	4	Session was good	Everything went smoothly
3	3	4	2	Good points were mentioned	Excellent seminar

3	3	3	4	There are multiple research methods for understanding the queer community	It was an informative session
2	2	3	1	The topic was too in depth for the first years.	It was informative
3	4	2	4	Some of the key takeaways was on how to incorporate queer communities and individuals into psychology research and how to be a lot more sensitive and understanding of their situations.	The session was a very informative and enlightening but I wish it was a bit more interactive and understandable for students who don't have much research experience.
5	5	5	5	How to be sensitive and more inclusive when doing a research with different communities	Nice
5	5	5	5	good	good
4	4	4	4	Difference between queer research and research on queer community	Informative session
4	4	4	4	a new perspective to look at research and the literature associated	very apt and relevant for the students

How satisfied are you with the event?	How relevant and helpful was the topic for you?	Would you say you have a greater understanding into the topic now?	How satisfied are you with the speaker?	What were your key takeaways from the event?	Overall feedback
5	4	4	5		Good
5	5	5	5	Insights about gender	Great
5	5	5	5	I have understood more about subjects that I've always wanted to know.	To unlearn , learn , re learn
5	5	5	5	Broke a lot of opinions that I personally held and very informative	Very insightful session, looking forward to more of these!
5	5	5	5	A wonderful and witty insight into the social construct of gender and how it is connected and disconnected from sex.	Excellent speaker who engaged the audience perfectly. I was not bored for a single second of the session. Gave valid information and a simple process explanation. The session was however soured due to the bigoted views of a certain faculty member.

5	5	5	5	It was very informative and it wasn't as complex as it seemed on the internet	We want more sessions from him about sexuality
5	5	5	5	Everything was good	Awesome funny great
5	4	4	5	Got a deeper understandin g into gender identities	It was a great session. Interactive and helpful
5	5	5	5	Broader perspective about gender	It was an insightful session
5	5	5	5	it gave a great insight into the topic and genuinely feel that the speaker articulated his points well and the message got through to the audience.	I cannot express enough how much i enjoyed this session. It was truly informative and fun and it reinforced all of my beliefs. If only every speaker was like him.
5	5	5	4	Treat everyone with empathy and ask them how they want us to view them	Very informative and interactive
5	5	5	5	To be open-minded and sensitive to others needs and see above all social constructs.	Absolutely loved the interactive session and would hope to have more sessions like this.

1	1	1	1	No takeaways	The event was kind of discriminatory towards men and was demonising men actively.
5	5	5	5	Binary awareness, acceptance and how to address binary people.	The only great session ever conducted by psychology department and there should be a follow up session, regardless of some faculty's views.
5	5	5	5	The resource person was very easy to understand, gave valid examples and talked about topics that personally i didnt know a lot about.	It was a great session. As someone who is very interested in learning this gender differences, I was very satisfied with this session. It made me happy and comfortable to have attendee this session and be educated by a experienced professional.
4	3	3	4	Got knowledge about gender Sensitivity	Session was great
5	5	5	5	Even though there's a lot of diversity being seen with respect to gender, the awareness	Hands down to the best session the university has given to the students still needs to be given

5	4	3	5	That identity needs to stood up for.	I hope the department can be more tolerable to divergent thinking. No need to create as the speaker put it ‘drama’ during the session.
4	4	4	4	Acceptance and understanding	The session met all expectations
5	5	5	5	Both the complexity and simplicity of the gender spectrum. Be a non-judgmental, accepting person.	The speaker was versatile, both in language and his topic. It was a refreshing change from the monotony of classes and normal sessions. J
4	5	5	4	The session focused on gender identity and its many aspects, feminism, and respect.	The session taught me much about identity and respect. It was an enjoyable event.
5	5	5	5	.	.

5	5	4	5	The session provided an insight on gender identity and how it is a social construct and its effects on individuals. It aimed to sensitize students on the queer community.	Mr. Vinay Chandran was an amazing orator and understood the mentality of the students. He conveyed the topics with great examples and was able to answer everyone's questions. Hope he takes sessions for us in the future as well!.
5	4	4	5	Better understandin g about the hijra community.	Captivating session, good use of humour.
5	5	5	5	That there is still a lot of work to be done in the area.	Amazing session
5	4	5	5	The session was extremely helpful and gave everyone a lot of insight regarding gender, sex and non binary terms. The session made an effort to traverse beyond textbook knowledge and tap into the biological,	The session was extremely engaging and insightful and the speaker was extremely informative and patient enough to clear all our queries. The session provided us with immense amount of live and practical knowledge and made an effort to tap onto our social and cultural aspects of the topic.	perceptions and beliefs.

5	5	5	5	How binary and confining the whole social system is; especially with respect to gender	Another great session
5	5	5	5	That we need to ask people about their gender rather than assuming it	It was very insightful and eye opening.
5	5	5	5	Gender Identities	Amazing Presentation. One of the best seminars we've had so far
5	5	5	5	Gender is so complex and the importance of acceptance was discussed in the session.	The session was amazing and the speaker knew how to build a quick rapport the audience and how to keep the audience engaged (which a lot of speaker couldn't/didn't do before). More to such sessions!
5	5	5	5	Better understanding of the diversity in gender construct	The speaker was very captivating and knowledgeable

5	3	3	3	Speaker was fun and interactive but ignorant of other faculty's knowledge and vice versa	Session was great although there were moments of clash between speaker and faculty
5	5	4	5	Great	Excellent
5	5	5	5	There were several extremely resourceful points and arguments brought to my knowledge during the session but one that stood out to me due to its relevance in my own life is the statement about how AFAB transgender people are often isolated and lack that sense of community because they are just married off and not necessarily abandoned. This brought into perspective a lot of things I know and experience as an AFAB	Loved the way theg interacted with the audience, absolutely hate the way our faculty responded to them and absolutely love the way they (the speaker) took and continued from the faculty's rude response.

				transgender individual.
5	5	5	5	gender and sex differences	very good and much needed session
5	5	5	5	Understood a lot of concepts	Really enjoyed, informative and cleared a lot of concepts
5	5	5	5	Ask before you assume. The different categories under queer.	Extremely useful, informative, interactive and engaging. The best session conducted till date. Though there were views put forth which was new for me, I was open to new perspectives and ready to listen. The attitudes of certain teachers were very disrespectful towards the guest. Disappointed that the teacher was not even ready to listen or respect the guest's knowledge and perspective.
5	5	5	5	ask and assume people’s identities	It was informative and interesting

5	5	5	5	Asking people their prefferrd pronouns and respecting everyone's identity	Amazing session. Need more speakers like this
5	4	5	5	Being upfront	Amazing and confident speaker
4	4	5	5	Gained a greater understandin g of gender	Informative and in depth. Topic was handled with care.
5	5	5	5	When talking to other individuals one must be very careful with the way they address others as it can come off as insensitive or uncaring at times.	It was a very interactive and informative session.
5	5	5	5	I was able to understand the concepts of gender binary and roles and stereotypes that are attached to it and how one can perceive their gender and identity.	This was an extremely informative and fun session that all students were able to enjoy and learn about gender binaries. I would wish to see him also enlighten us on the differences in sexualities and the struggles of choosing one.

5	5	5	5	How to respectful towards and enhance our awareness towards different kinds of gender identities	Extremely helpful and excellent event
5	5	5	5	Better understandin g of gender identify	It was very informative and interesting
5	5	5	5	Inclusiveness and respect	Good and informative session
5	5	5	5	More in-depth knowledge on gender identity	It was one of the best sessions held so far
5	5	4	5	How simple it is to respect others identity, apologising for a mistake is going to make it much easier to work together	Highly engaging and informative session
4	4	5	5	better understandin g of the communities and gender identities, present concerns and issues	very informative and eye opening
5	5	5	5	He was a amazing and I can't wait for another session	It was amazing
5	5	5	5	Everything was just	Great event

				amazing and perfect

4. Feedback from participants

Reg. No.	Name of the Student	Title of the book/s reviewed	Please provide feedback on the exercise of book reviews done for the purpose of Gender| Ecology| Space Comprehensive Studio
1961735	Sonika Raamanath Hegde	Gender trouble	Reading this book was an eye opener towards what the studio might entail. This sensitized us and helped us understand what exactly the issue was and helped us try to undertsand what we were getting into, studying this vast and controversial topic.
1961717	Vaishakh	why loiter, 15 suggestions for feminist manifesto, seeing like a feminist	The books gave a whole new different perspective on seeing everyday things. Things which were suppressed to be seen as normal and the perspectives on why we should question these practices and thoughts that are gender oriented.
1961736	Tesslyn Tony	Dear Ijeawele, Seeing like a Feminist	The book reading and review sessions were very insightful, and helped lay a strong foundation to start the studio. The analysis and interactions widened my perspective and was very thought provoking.
1961743	Anchitha	We should all be feminists and why loiter	It was a good practice that i read the books. It gave me new perspectives to think about and more importantly how to put out a claim with a solid evidence. I found solid ways to express my opinions and frame my thoughts.
1961724	Eshitha Iyer	Why Loiter// Seeing like a Feminist// We should all be feminists	All were feminine centered books, and talk about the feminism, and equality and empowerment of Women. Book review is actually a thought provoking process wherein we were compelled to read in between the lines of the book to make sense, and relate it to the real life scenario. It is a great way to engage in the habit of reading, and having an intellectual stand.
1961727	Xena Mendonca	The Grand Domestic Revolution by Hayden Delores. Room at the Top? Sexism and the Star System in Architecture by Denise Scott Brown	The book reviews helped us better understand and question feminist theories and concepts while also understanding the importance of space and architecture with respect to these concepts.
1961713	Moloy Biswas	Why Loiter?, The Feminine Mystique	The exercise of book reviews gave us a good insight into the operation of feminist movements over the ages and what changes and reforms it brought into the current scenario of the world. the interpretations of these writings gave us a better understanding of the feminist movements and the views and problems faced by the authors of these books.
1961705	Baarat Krishna S	Gendered Spaces by D.Spain	The book reviews were very essential to understand the three main components of the comprehensive studio such as gender, space, and ecology. The book review helped to enhance my knowledge of the topic of gender and spaces. It helped to identify gaps in architecture to make the gender-inclusive approach. GOOD.
1961703	Adon Naiju	Seeing Like a Feminist, A Feminist Manifesto in Fifteen Suggestions	A fruitful exercise. Unlearning and Debate sessions based on these readings was great.

1961734	Rheethika Ramprasad	Gender Trouble	The book that we reviewed, though complicated, helped us understand the struggle that women actually face, and to this focus on our sites in a way how women would probably prefer the space to be, which is infact the ultimate goal of the studio too. It thus helped us understand what women face or go through and provide them with the openness that they don't have, and even ensure that spaces aren't always made for the other genders, and equalizes women too.
1961722	DEVIKA CHITHRA RAMESAN	The Masters Tools Can Never Dismantle The Masters House	Explores the need for feminism, feminine expression, worldview and culture. Examines the structure of society which makes it impossible for femininity to succed
1961707	Fabian raj benjamin	City of light Invisible women	The books are beased on observation, interviews, facts, belief with interviews and analysis of textual documentation to argue about banaras and the people and their beliefs and the book invisible women talks about the very existence of women and the importance given to them in the society in the past, present and future all this helped us understand or think in different ways to create a gender neutral space where the space would not be baised towords one gender but be designed as per the need of people as a gender neutral architecture
1961740	Vishnupriya	Seeing like a Feminist by Nivedita Menon	I love the exercises that is given but it is supposed to be done in a systematic format rather than researching so much and not being able to do a good job in it
1961733	Rhea b	Seeing like a Feminist	This book was wonderful written on grounds that as a society are taken very differently and how we as women have to face the brunt of society norms.
1961728	Neelima S	Judith Butler - Gender Trouble	This excercise was really helpful because it just gave us immense knowledge on feminism and the debates really helped us get a perspective on where we stand .
1961732	pooja.k	Invisible woman	This book has given me an insight of how women's needs and wants are not greatly taken into consideration at different points of decision making, including all the aspects of requirements from all the genders is important and the book has strong evidences and statistics to prove it
1961706	Bhargav Shekhar	Why loiter The grand domestic revolution	Gave us knowledge on the topics and helped us get into the studio prepared
1961739	Varsha B Varghese	Banras the city of light- The divine Buddha, Shiva Maheshwara great lord, The great goddess	Good excercise
1961709	Hiruthik Dharsan	The gendered Object	Reading through books themed on gender opened my minds into sensitive perspective which i was unaware before as a man. And i was able to grab more after i got introduced to different perspectives
1961721	Daffodil Nicholas	The grand domestic Revolution	Good
1961715	Rohan C R	Urban undesirables	Good
1961711	Joel Sebastian	What would De Beauvoir do?,	The book review sessions and the further debates and talks we had enlightened us with the different feminist theories and helped gain knowledge on gender related sensitive topics.

1961730	Niranjana I P	Invisible cities	The book review done provided a good insight of gender inequalities and various social issues in depicting or representing women as a symbol of pleasure rather than a symbol of power,strength and skill.
1961741	Shresth Swapna	Why Loiter Feminine mystique	helped us inn gaining knowledge about this vast topic and prepared us for the studio on wheels to varanasi
1961744	Muhammed Faheem	Gendered Objects by Pat Kirkham	Not really a self composed book. Collection of opinions in comprehensive forms. Didnt yield expected level of insights and new understandings
1961701	Aaron Samuel. K	Invisible Women	Helped us gain knowledge about the views on women in different situations.

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. The Gender, Space, and Ecology workshop, led by the esteemed resource person Ar. Rohan Shivakumar, Dean of KRVIA, Mumbai, will explore the intersection of gender, architecture, and the environment. 2. The workshop delved into the topic of gender roles in urban spaces, with a specific focus on the narrative of gender archetypes in architecture.

Key Takeaways	1. Through engaging discussions, interactive activities, and thought-provoking lectures, participants gained a deeper understanding of the impact of gender on the design and function of urban spaces. 2. They also learnt about the ways in which gender stereotypes are reinforced or challenged through the built environment.
Summary of the Activity	The workshop provided a safe and inclusive space for all participants to share their perspectives and engage in critical dialogue on the topic of gender, space, and ecology. By the end of the workshop, participants gained valuable insights into the complex relationship between gender, architecture, and the environment, and have developed a deeper understanding of the importance of creating inclusive, gender-responsive urban spaces.
Follow-up plan	To take the learnings of the workshop for the gender audits to be made in Varanasi and Bangalore

Reg. No.	Name Of The Student	Please provide feedback on the Workshop conducted by Prof. Rohan Shivkumar on Gender| Ecology| Space
1961718	Varun Raj M	This was the mind opening part.Got introduced to artifacts.From this i learned how to connect this artifacts with our neighborhood and how it is affected .
1961743	Anchitha	Excellent! Great views and i would love to get exposed to like minded people like Rohan.
1961736	Tesslyn Tony	The initial presentation linking film to architecture was very interesting.
1961724	Eshitha Iyer	Prof. Rohan is an enwrapping person by himself, his patience and the manner of gripping everyone's attention was something I admired. The content of his presentation was an ideology I hadn't thought of before, and it clearly transformed a lot of things for me. I had began seeing his wheel of stillness and it's components in everything around me.
1961727	Xena Mendonca	The workshop introduced us to a framework that helped us decode spatial archetypes of a setting. It was interesting how Prof. Rohan Shivkumar showcased these archetypes through film. In Varanasi, this base helped us identify the spatial archetypes and the feminine archetypes of the women we were studying there.
1961713	Moloy Biswas	A great experience of learning the ropes of filmmaking and how films and books were related to amassing public mentality over the topic of women and feminist movements that brought about changes in it using the same media.
1961734	Rheethika Ramprasad	It was a very productive workshop with a good insight about gender and space. The work that we got to do for his workshop too helped us move forward with mapping styles and inferences that we had to do further on.
1961722	Devika Chithra Ramesan	Realization on how deeply gender is integrated into space. Learnt how to express subjective data and understandings graphically.
1961707	Fabian Raj Benjamin	The workshop was a learning of how to observe and understand the needs of all genders and how we can design and treat them the same and also learnt the importance of mapping and different ways the data can be represented and presented . The studio was a good learning.
1961704	Akshay Raj	It was a good and informative workshop
1961740	Vishnupriya	He was an amazing mentor who made us understand how to view something in various ways and how we can represent something in different formats rather than just drawing.
1961733	Rhea B	It gave us a broader understanding of the world and how things function. It gave us an understanding of the gender related spaces and how we design knowing or unknowingly for a separate gender
1961728	Neelima S	Very cool workshop helped us learn about the various ways in which we could look at gender and how to map it

1961732	Pooja	The workshop had an unexpected impact on my thought process, the way i had perceived many factors had eventually changed and evolved in the space of two days. Prof. Rohan had a very friendly and a easy way of taking us through the journey and leading us ahead.
1961739	Varsha B Varghese	Great workshop, learned a lot
1961709	Hiruthik Dharsan	The workshop was really helpfull in understanding which gender has a dominant role in which space and what was their weaker space , Which helped me to understand the shift in perspectives
1961721	Daffodil Nicholas	Good
1961715	Rohan C R	Exciting, informative,
1961730	Niranjana	It was very insightful and helpful before varanasi trip.we got a little idea on what and how work had to be done...
1961741	Shresth Swapna	leaned new ways of collecting and representing datas
1961701	Aaron Samuel. K	Vast Knowledge on how to collect and represent data.
1961744	Muhammed Faheem	Great workshop, very informed person. Mustve been much more interactive and effective if not online. Gave a new perception to data understanding
1961727	Vaishakh	Amazing workshop by Rohan sir discussing on various philosophies through the medium of films

Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	1. This studio feeds into the COA-USRP Funded project that the School of Architecture has been awarded. 2. The research would investigate the relationship between design, urbanity and gender.
Key Takeaways	1. The ecology of an urban human settlement is more than the built forms, landscapes and natural resources of the geography. It is rather the interactions between urban life processes and the environment. The ecology within which cities and towns operate include human and non-human actors.

	2. The relationship between organisms, the communities that they makeup and their urban environment make for important investigations to understand and design the built environment. The complex relationship between gender and urban configurations is proposed to be studied through this project, while using frameworks from social sciences into the discipline of architecture and urbanism.
Summary of the Activity	Creating gendered maps of cities by formulating a strong method is the pedagogical approach to the studio. The studio takes two sites of Bangalore and Varanasi as their extended and varied relationships to water, gender, geographic polemics, religion. While we consider the details of the studio, the students would be traveling to Varanasi for 5 days to investigate onsite gender audits.
Follow-up plan	As part of the studio on wheels for ARC851, Comprehensive studio, the planned site visit as discussed at the course plan conclave is Varanasi. Since the studio specifically focuses on Gender Ecology and Space, in consultation with Ar Rohan Shivkumar and other experts, the site presents unique challenges and learning. The waterfront has deep connotations to socio-cultural aspects and its link to ecologies makes it a case for its unique juxtaposition to an urban center, such as Bangalore, for mapping gender, hence the studio is working on a comparative study between Bangalore and Varanasi in the third phase of the COA-USRP project.

12. Feedback from participants

Reg. No.	Name Of The Student	Please provide feedback on the Studio on Wheels- Visit to Varanasi for the Comprehensive Studio- Gender| Ecology| Space
1961735	Sonika Hegde	It was overall a wonderful experience. Studying Varanasi showed just how different things can get even within a few meters distance. But, it might have been better if we had more time to understand and experience the place. It would have helped us comprehend the dynamics of the city better as well, as we did not get to go to parts of the city other than the ghats majorly.
1961718	Varun Raj	Its was all together a new experience. I understood how to be prepared before well in hand to know the place and so that we wont be confused while we are documenting.Observations from the Sow showed me the value of why a person should learn the topic gender as such.
1961717	Vaishakh S Nair	Had a great opportunity to explore a politically sensitive area which was very much in contrast to the culture and the setting I am used to. The SoW helped in learning of how to create a blueprint for data collection and site study. Dealing with a huge site and coming together as a class to create collective analysis was a different experience.
1961743	Anchitha	It was a great experience. We got a great place to stay and amazing food which was budget friendly. Varanasi was a pleasure for all my senses!
1961742	Anjali Krishna	Hectic work
1961702	Abhishek Raja	Too good
1961736	Tesslyn Tony	Very good, exposure and learning
1961724	Eshitha Iyer	Very intense, yet an interesting studio on wheels. As a batch we have not had much of such experiences, and this was also the first time we had take the studio on wheels beyond the southern part of India. The preparation for the studio on wheels and the workbook was something that we have never done before. Overall it was an engaging and in depth learning.
1961723	Elizabeth Susan John	We were given the opposite to study a very diverse landscape, and the largest site area covered for a design studio. We managed to audit and interview several people to understand the larger issues faced by the people there.
1961727	Xena Mendonca	The studio really pushed us to learn to derive insights and inferences regarding gender, space and ecology, by adopting multiple techniques like mapping land layering the maps, rhythm analysis, and point-based audit systems.
1961705	Baarat Krishna S	The idea of a comprehensive studio is very important for a bachelor's degree in architecture to focus on a single project by understanding relationships between variables. The same was well established as stage 1 of the studio. The visit to Varanasi has led to assessing the pre-study(literature studies on gender differences) carried out in January. The visit has contributed to a greater understanding of gender differences with the different spatial formats. Further, this allows us to compare Varanasi with Bangalore in gender differences in the aspect of different spatial parameters. THUMBS UP.
1961713	Moloy Biswas	A great insight into a different unexplored part of the country while also being able to experience a civilization thousands of years in the making. Gave us a great view into the lives of people and how society evolved over time into the current state of things.
1961703	Adon Naiju	Has really influenced all of us in aspects of travel, explore and learn - Should have had more number of days to spent in Varanasi, as three days was too short to get a total grasp of the place. - Daily Meetings at the EOD, shortened site visiting time.
1961734	Rheethika Ramprasad	It was an intense yet a very interesting SOW for 4 days in Varanasi, which was practically a very less time to explore every single detail. Yet, with proper scheduling, we got to explore the Ghats and do a very systematic study and analysis, which helped us go ahead with mapping. We tried to understand women and their perspectives and get a thorough insight on the living conditions too.

1961722	Devika Chithra Ramesan	Interesting, informative, made us realize our prejudice
1961720	Ayra Badarudeen	It was very insightful and helped explore on varying concepts including the topics of gender studio. The visit posed many questions answered and many more unanswered .
1961712	Aazil Majeed	Is the finest studio on wheels we've visited; it helped us understand various cultural aspects of Varanasi.
1961707	Fabian Raj Benjamin	Was a great experience as we had experience the different culture and the various architectural features of the place along with the behavior of the people which is a part of our gender studio
1961740	Vishnupriya	Going there was an amazing thing but there were many bad issues that I had to go through once I came back which still keeps reminding me of the unfortunate things
1961733	Rhea B	It was a good experience and being in a place that has such rich heritage and culture was amazing. It was a good way for us to interact with others
1961728	Neelima S	For the very first time the studio on wheels was conducted very well and had a very good learning experience
1961706	Bhargav Shekhar	Good experience and findings
1961709	Hiruthik Dharsan	The visit was good And we had an exposure to a different kind of environment in comparison to banglore
961739	Varsha B Varghese	Needed more time to familiarize ourselves with the place in order to map well cause half of the time was spent on checking where we were
1961715	Rohan C R	Good
1961721	Daffodil Nicholas D	Good
1961711	Joel Sebastian	The visit to Varanasi was a very different kind of studio on wheels. We where able to explore Varanasi in depth because of the extensive research and audit prepared before the visit. This helped the studio on wheels to be productive and worth of the time we spend. The trip was well planned and comfortable for all students and faculty.
1961701	Aaron Samuel	Studio, was very informative and fun. The things we learned about Varanasi and its cultural significance and how it affects women of Varanasi.
1961730	Niranjana I P	Studio on wheels to varanasi was intresting ,fun and informative.It was a very different experience in seeing how people behave,how they work ,how happy they are with their limited resources,how friendly amd approachable they are to every one in varanasi.The rituals performed there,the temples,the gullies,the houses,the streets all are very different and unique.The power of women ,the safety for women,the activities they do,the cloths they wear,the spaces they visit ,the paths they go through are interesting in itself to learn in varanasi.
1961741	Shresth Swapna	great learning experience, introduced several new techniques of learning.
1961744	Muhammed Faheem	Very well managed considering the distance and duration of the trip. Much needed exposure to different landscapes and ecology for architecture students.

ANNUAL REPORT 2022

PREFACE

The past year has been a waking up year for CSA, it has been very eventful and productive. COVID overshadowed the daily life of every individual, groups, organizations, businesses, educational institutions etc., In these divisive times Centre for Social has remained committed to sustaining its vision, mission, projects and opened platforms for all the students to contribute to the society. We as a Centre are always welcome to diversity of ideas and worked relentlessly to bridge the differences in the society. CHRIST (Deemed to be University) has overpowered and broke through every endeavor triumphantly. Centre for Social Action has stood strong through the COVID years and post COVID years. CSA involved in emergency responses to the needs of the people during these tough times.

CSA hosted a biannual event MILAN in the University gathering many children from the project areas to have a carnival, cultural and sports events for the children. The Centre collaborated with various agencies and NGOs to conduct programs in the project areas, we had exposure programs for the international students and faculties, increased the number of volunteers and changed the strategy for active participation of volunteers. We have not only strengthened the existing bonds but build new ones.

CSA has emerged out loud and strong in the last academic year. We are working towards embracing the new and preserving the old. This Centre will continue to be the bridge builder between the students and community and enforcing social action. We are working in new avenues to enrich the experience and develop the society we live in, positively.

Vice Chancellor's Message

I am delighted to witness the remarkable Social engagement activities undertaken by CHRIST (Deemed to be University). Our institution remains dedicated to the vision of "Excellence and Service," focusing our efforts on cultivating socially responsible citizens through sensitisation programs for students and community development projects for marginalised communities. The Centre for Social Action, our University's Social Sensitisation and Development wing, has been at the forefront of serving the less privileged sections of society for the past two decades.

The initiatives encompass providing mid-day meals to approximately 200 children, supporting over 4500 children through our Activity Centre, empowering 2500 women via Self Help Groups, and involving more than 400 students in volunteering activities annually. Our impact extends well beyond the campus boundaries, as we have reached out to 10,000+ families in 134 rural and five urban slums, significantly improving their lives. Additionally, we have raised awareness among 18,000 students regarding environmental issues, fostering a profound sense of responsibility and care for our planet.

I am delighted to announce the publication of our Annual Report on Social Engagement for 2022-23. This report showcases the remarkable progress made by our various departments and units dedicated to serving the community. The content of this report will inspire our readers and encourage more individuals to join us in our noble endeavours.

Warm Regards
Dr Fr Joseph C C
Vice Chancellor

VISION, MISSION & STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT

Vision

CHRIST (Deemed to be University): Excellence and Service

Centre for Social Action: A Better Society through Sustainable Action and Social Transformation

Mission

CHRIST (Deemed to be University): CHRIST (Deemed to be University) is a nurturing ground for an individual's holistic development to make an effective contribution to the society in a dynamic environment.

Centre for Social Action: Enabling students to become socially responsible citizens through developmental initiatives.

Statement of Commitment

CHRIST (Deemed to be University):

Centre for Social Action: 'Learners to Leaders' – Empowering individuals and communities through education and sustainable actions.

CENTRE FOR SOCIAL ACTION

ANNUAL REPORT 2022-23

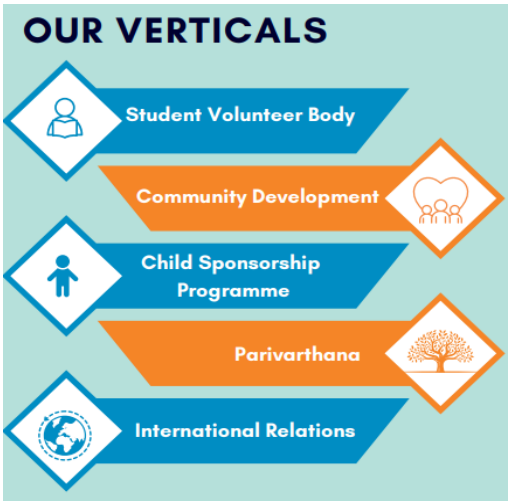
1. OVERVIEW OF CENTRE FOR SOCIAL ACTION

Centre for Social Action (CSA), is a creative platform for students' action/service for establishing a better society through sustainable action and social transformation where student communities are sensitized on various issues affecting the poor and the marginalized sections of society. The centre was set up in 1999 by the Management, faculty and students of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) (then Christ College). The intention was to enable students to imbibe values of social responsibility, as envisaged in the vision and mission of CU.

The core strategy is to facilitate students to internalize socio-economic-cultural issues faced by the disadvantaged sections of society and contribute to sustainable changes in their lives. This they can do even after graduating from the University. Thus, CSA believes in the strength of student communities to bring about positive changes among the marginalized sections of the society. All the programmes and activities of CSA derive their strength from its vision and mission. They form the framework and the basis for the programme/activity implementation of CSA.

Started in a miniscule way, where students sponsored 47 children way back in 1999, today, Centre for Social Action (CSA) is a well-established and a proven model of student initiative which addresses social issues. Currently with a student volunteer base of around 180 and staff strength (development professionals) of 57, CSA is focusing on integrated and impactful development interventions in campuses and communities.

CSA employs the twin strategy of empowering social communities and sensitizing newer generations about realities. It reaches out to more than 16,000 students belonging to CHRIST (Deemed to be University) and other international universities and the general public through this strategy. CSA's primary stakeholders are children, women, youth and student communities. They belong to urban slums, rural and tribal areas and educational institutions including international universities. CSA channelizes its developmental initiatives through five verticals i) Child Sponsorship, ii) Student Volunteerism, iii) Community Development Projects, iv) Parivarthana and v) International Students Exchange Programme.



2. CSA DURING 2022-23

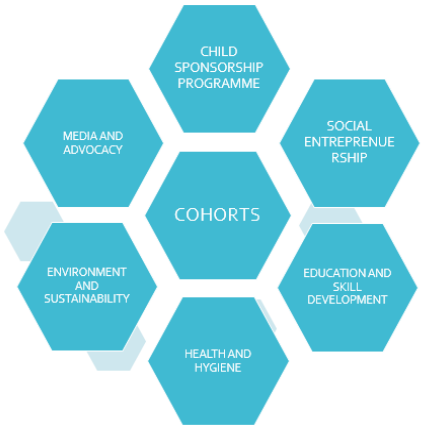
Consolidated data for CSA. (Excel sheet)

2.1. STUDENT VOLUNTARY BODY

CSA's Student Voluntary Body is driven by six cohorts. Each of them is led by two cohort representatives and guided by a mentor. Every cohort is further divided into five programmes and multiple teams, to ensure its smooth functioning. The volunteers, who are part of the cohorts' plan, undertake the activities, in alignment with the focus areas of the government and the institution.

Cohort 1 - Child Sponsorship Programme (Educate. Empower. Elevate.)

The Educate a Child Sponsorship Programme is a flagship initiative of CHRIST (Deemed to be University), which aims to inculcate the values of social responsibility. Christites are encouraged to sponsor the education of underprivileged children in the project areas. Annually, the Centre supports the education of 800+ students through the efforts of the management, faculty and students. The Child Sponsorship Programme cohort aims to transform the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 4 of Quality Education into a reality.



Cohort 2 - Education and Skill Development (Learn. Ignite. Discover.)

The Education and Skill Development cohort under CSA aims to incentivise education for all through the volunteers' body and resources. It aligns with the values of Right to Education and NILP (New India Literacy Program) government policy and focuses on education and development of children in the adopted project areas of the Centre and also on skill development for dropouts. It involves several training and workshop programmes to incentivise soft and hard skills, equipping the learner to bag jobs and choose a suitable career efficiently. It engages volunteers with daily teaching sessions and events, with a focus on education and skill development sensitivity. This cohort aims to fulfil the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 4 of Quality Education into a practice.

Cohort 3 - Environment and Sustainability (Revive. Resurge. Restore.)

The primary objective of the Environment and Sustainability Cohort is to foster awareness and understanding of environmental issues and sustainability, while aligning with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) 7, 13 and 15. It aims to promote and instil practices of environmental sustainability by implementing a range of initiatives that are designed to engage individuals and communities in taking proactive steps towards creating a sustainable future. By raising awareness and educating on environmental challenges, the cohort empowers participants to make informed decisions and take meaningful action.

Cohort 4 - Health, Hygiene, and Well-Being (Care. Nurture. Support.)

This cohort aims for development and accessibility of healthcare across communities, to sensitise communities on health education and promote clean habits. Its activities are aligned to the Ayushman Bharat Initiative of the Government of India and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals -1 No poverty, 2 Zero Hunger, 3 Good health & Well-being and 11 Sustainable Cities & Community. It will majorly strive to improve overall health, well-being and contribute to a sustainable lifestyle, imparting knowledge for the well-being of society.

Cohort 5 - Media and Advocacy (Create. Express. Reform.)

The Media and Advocacy cohort of CSA will be taking care of the overall media, documentation and communication needs of the organisation. The cohort will also take up activities and initiatives relating to sensitisation through various digital, theatrical and non-theatrical modes.

Cohort 6 - Social Entrepreneurship (Initiate. Innovate. Inculcate)

The Social Entrepreneurship cohort seeks to promote sustainable and inclusive economic growth by fostering business skills and innovation through a multi-dimensional approach, equipping students and alumni with the abilities and resources to manage social enterprises. It will also provide support to such entrepreneurs to expand their businesses and take marketing opportunities, working closely with them to develop a greater number of Self-Help Groups and empower locals. The programme is aligned with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) related to promoting decent work and economic growth (SDG 8), fostering innovation and partnerships for sustainable development (SDG 17).

University Student Council Representatives will enhance the overall graduate experience at CHRIST (Deemed to be University) by promoting the general welfare of the student body. They will create new programmes and initiatives to provide opportunities for growth and interaction and communicate with the administration and faculty on behalf of students. The representatives also conduct inter-campus collaboration and coordinate the functioning and activities of the Centre across the six campuses of India, facilitating smooth communication and coordination among the campuses.

Campus Ambassador

The Campus Ambassador will ensure smooth communication between and within campuses. From organising rural exposure camps to general meetings, the Campus Ambassador supports all the stakeholders in the organisation. Given the vast potential of the CSA, it is the responsibility of the Campus Ambassador to communicate and implement new initiatives, acting as a bridge between the faculty and volunteers. They are also responsible for inter-campus collaboration and contacting other Campus Ambassadors

2.2. CHILD SPONSORSHIP PROGRAMME

The Child Sponsorship Programme (CSP) was the first initiative of CSA, a flagship programme of CSA since 1999. CSP is an initiative taken up by the students of CHRIST (Deemed to be University), in order to enable underprivileged children to grow in a community that ensures quality education, health services, adequate nutrition, and opportunities for future employment and income, aimed at their holistic development.

Started way back in 1999 by supporting 52 children, today CSA is able to cater to the educational needs of the marginalized children.

Christites, students and staff are rendering monetary and student-mentoring services for vulnerable children from marginalized communities of urban slums and rural villages. The sponsored children are provided with required educational materials like notebooks, stationeries, bags, shoes, school fees, and hygienic nutrition kits. During 2022-23, through the Christites contribution, this program has enabled over 800 children to move closer to their educational goals.

Financial mobilization for CSP is also facilitated through Parivarthana, a unit that works on recycling the wastes from the university into materials such as notebooks, frames, exam pads, pen holders, bags, and bottles among other things.

Children up to 14 years of age are sponsored to ensure that the children complete their education until 8th grade and the children up to 16 years of age are supported to ensure that they complete their education till 10th grade. Under this programme, the developmental needs of a child can be covered with a contribution of Rs. 4500 for a year.

Children Activity Centre is an intricate system of CSP providing value education to underprivileged children. It works to improve the academic /non-academic performance of the adopted children through informal academic sessions, extracurricular activities, personality development camps, picnic cum study exposure, and sports events. Student Volunteers conduct activity-based sessions and tutoring classes for the sponsored children so as to improve their critical life skills, soft skills, and personality development.

Impact:

- CSAs this initiative covers SDG 4 Quality Education, SDG 3 Good Health and Well-being, and SDG 11 Sustainable Cities and Communities.
- The children who benefit from the CSP are likely to get closer to their educational aspirations owing to the collective efforts of the CSA.
- The student community is provided with an opportunity to acknowledge and play their role in the betterment of society through the fulfilment of CSP objectives.
- The students are provided with the opportunity to articulate the causes that the CSA stands for to the general public thereby enabling them to be the torchbearers of change in the community.
- By working closely with the recycled products, the student community gain an understanding on a personal level about the impact of individual and collective environment-conscious action thereby embracing the CSA motto “WE CARE”.

2.3. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

2.3.1. Urban Projects

2.3.1.1. Project 3D (Desirable Dynamic Development and Empowerment Project)

Janaki ram layout is a slum in Bangalore. The slum is relatively unhygienic. The slum is spread across 6 kilometres with around 3500 households.85% of the people generally are below poverty line. The majority of the people are working as daily wage earners. Some are working as rag pickers and few women are working in garment factories. Drinking water problem is acute leading to physical ailment. There are only 2 Govt Schools and 3 private schools in this area, which is inadequate to cover all the school aged children in the slum. On an average there are 3 to 6 children in each family, so the family size is large in general. The Programme strives towards mainstreaming children into formal educational setups (Schools). Thereby children are provided with financial and educational support through direct and in-direct support. The direct support includes Tuition classes, Note Books, School bags, shoes, stationary materials and other educational aids. Under the child sponsorship Programme (CSP). Women are organized into Self Help Groups (SHG's) for promoting socio-economic stability through management of finance, savings and by addressing family and societal issues through weekly meetings. There are 11 SHGs with 180 members doing well in terms of savings, lending money to its members (micro finance) and addressing various family and domestic issues through sharing ideas and mutual support.

Duration - On going

Objectives of the Project

- Social and Economic growth
- Improvement of Health and Nutrition Status
- To improve the access and quality of Education
- To organize the target community and goal is to improve the quality of Life of Marginalized children and their community.
- Target population Economically below poverty line from A & B Block Janaki ram Layout

Major input: Community development empowers community members and creates stronger and more connected communities.

Impact created: Economic growth and causes people to seek working and investment opportunities in urban areas. Because they have limited financial resources and the cost of food is higher in cities, the urban poor lack nutritious diets and this leads to illness, which contributes to loss of appetite and poor absorption of nutrients among those affected

Coverage:

Slums	SHG	CLA	Federation	Families	Children	Women	Youth
02	11	-	-	350	200	350	25

Major Achievement: Networking with the Ngo's and other partners working in the project area, Formation of Self-Help Groups and involvement of women.

Benefit to Volunteers: Volunteers build self-confidence, self-esteem and life satisfaction. As they work with underprivileged children and marginalized communities, they get a sense of accomplishment, pride and identity.

Benefit to Community: Improve quality of life of marginalized children and community.

Future Plan:

- Academic support for the needy children (Assistance for education, supply of educational and nutrition kits).

- Special days of observations
- Personality development training to the Adolescent children
- Talent's day celebration for children
- Sports Day Celebration
- Children Carnival in the community
- Awareness Rally (Jaata) in the community
- Tracking of graduated children & Alumni meet
- Formation of more SHGs in the community
- Capacity building trainings for the staff
- Formation and capacity building of new SHGs
- Homemade food stall (Mane Thindi) for the SHG women.
- Women's Day celebration
- Community Habba – Fair
- Exhibition
- Street Play by the CSP Children
- Training on mental Health Programmes
- Monthly and review meetings
- To conduct community programmes in collaboration with all the stake holders
- Educational exposure visit
- Mental Health sessions and Sexual education for the children in the community
- Medical Health and Dental Health Programmes
- Identification of new places for the activity centres.
- Awareness on Sex Education and Moral Values

2.3.1.2. Project Vriddhi

Background:

The Vriddhi project focuses mainly on two Slum areas in Bangalore; LR Nagar and Rajendra Nagar in Koramangala and Madiwala in Siddhartha colony. The Child Sponsorship Programme (CSP) focuses on holistic child development by supporting tuition class, basic computer skills and encouraging reading books through the library centre. It is an inspiring initiative by CSA with the contribution of the student community of CHRIST (Deemed to be University). CSP supports around 275 children from the slum with regard to their education and enables them in continuing it hence reducing the school dropout rate. There are two Activity centres, a computer centre and a children's library are being managed in helping the children with their academics. The children are provided with stationery items, bags, and books. Regular medical check-ups and strict monitoring of their diets are taken care of through nutritious kits that are provided to the children. Value education classes are provided to children on a monthly basis. Medical camps, community engagement events etc. are conducted along with regular SHG meetings as well. There are 16 fully functioning SHGs for women and they were linked with various free subsidy bank loans this year as well. A fixed amount is allocated as a revolving fund from the government in collaboration with BBMP. Each group has around a savings of ₹3.00 lakhs.

Coverage:

Slums	SHG	CLA	Federation	Families	Children	Women	Youth
3	16	NIL	NIL	210	275	210	80

Major Achievement:

The performance of the SHGs over the years has been progressing. All the groups have been regularly meeting and continuing their savings, and credit activities. They meet every month to discuss and finalize the inter loaning for promoting income generation and livelihood activities. During 2022-23 CSA have given new opportunities like celebrating women's day in both sites. The nutritious kits were given more in number as compared to the year before. More community members availed the services like the health check-ups that were conducted by the Vriddhi Project. The SHG women were given skill building sessions with regard to the making of paper bags which will enhance their skills.

275 children are taken care of under the CSP wing of Vriddhi project. 200 of them are distributed among the 2 activity centres in L.R. Nagar and the rest 75 are from Madiwala. The older children avail the computer centre services provided in L.R Nagar on a weekly basis. Stationery and nutrition kits are provided to these children this year as well. Health check-ups were conducted with the children as the main focus. They were provided with multi vitamins and calcium tablets to enhance their growth and development. Midday meals are also provided to the children in two government adopted schools as part of the Vriddhi Project.

Some of the events conducted this year were Teacher's Day program, Children's Day program, International Literacy Day, Women's Day, etc. Awareness sessions on financial management, substance abuse, child rights etc., were also conducted. Nasha Mukt Bharat Abhiyan (NMBA) conducted awareness sessions on substance abuse and how to deal with family members abusing substances. The student volunteers have conducted gully cricket matches which involved active participation from the youth from the community.

Benefit to Volunteers:

Interacting with children the student volunteers are more confident to conduct sessions more effectively. Consciousness of the student volunteers about child rights has been on the rise as they are practicing and ensuring child rights. It is an opportunity for them to make good contact and connect with children and be aware of the problem that the slum children experience. The students understood the point of views that were voiced by the women too. Through organizing and planning the events associated with children and women, their critical thinking and fast action to take the responsibility and help the less privileged community has instilled a sense of social responsibility. Students also developed the ideas to do the community-based programs and experimented the same. It was an eye opener to the volunteers about the life of the children from lower economic sections of the society. Volunteers did get an opportunity to network with many other organizations and professionals.

Benefit to Community:

Children and their families were glad for the support we haven given to them, especially about the medical check-up they came to know the health condition of the children, children with under-nourishment, vision problems and other learning disabilities. Appropriate referrals to hospitals were also made for the needy. The health status of 70 children were assessed and medicines were provided to them as well. The importance of checking their health regularly was also understood by the community. Helping children and families for progressing in education, working for improved health conditions, providing economical support to the parents of the CSP children motivates them and drives towards independence.

Future Plan:

The events that were conducted this year were successful and exhibited full cooperation and participation from the community members. It is to be hoped that the next year will also bring forth the opportunities to conduct these events and many more.

More skill building sessions can be conducted in order for increased self-employment opportunities for the SHG women. More meetings other than the monthly ones can be conducted that will provide these women a space to interact and communicate with each other informally. Cultural programs can also be conducted during these times.

The children can be taken out for more one day programs which will provide them with an exposure to atmospheres other than their own community. They can be provided with educational sessions, cultural and physical activities like sports competitions which will nurture their group learning and interaction process.

2.3.2. Rural Projects

2.3.2.1. Bastar Community Development Project

Background: Since 1999, CSA has been implementing development projects across Chhattisgarh. CSA started to partner with KNH in 2002 and implemented various developmental projects for the community with sustainability as its main focus. Initially CSA implemented CFCD projects and now is implementing SHA projects in Chhattisgarh. In all the localities the marginalized women are doing well, and the development is visible with women, their family and in the community. Livelihood is given much priority in the sustained projects. Education to children is given more importance as the parents understand the importance of education and they send their children to school regularly. Sanitation level is improved, 80% of the beneficiaries across the project area have constructed toilets and are using it.

2.3.2.2. Chethana Project

Background:

Chethana Child Focused Community Development Project (CFCD) continues to extend its support to the community in 11 of its target villages. The main activity which is happening at the moment in the project is building the capacity of the SHG women and taking efforts to sustain the project. Federation is formed and registered under Karnataka Societies Act 1960. Federation members are involving themselves in all the project related activities and helping the project team in implementing it effectively. At present 53 Self Help Groups (SHGs) are functioning in all target villages. 3 CLAs are formed to continue to support SHGs for their effective functioning. Project team along with Federation members and SHG women are monitoring and maintaining all the activities like running supplementary education centres, monitoring Anganwadi, coordinating with health and ICDS departments, etc. Women are empowered socially and economically. Once the women become a member of SHG their financial needs are met through the group support and it helps them to improve their living conditions and thus the families are able to provide good education to their children. Awareness programmes are being conducted in the villages in association with health, education departments and students from CHRIST (Deemed to be University).

Coverage:

Villages	SHG	CLA	Federation	Credit Cooperative Society	Families	Children	Women	Youth
11	53	5	1	1	1179	452	520	251

Major Achievement:

- Early Childhood Care
- Strengthening Children's Education
- Community Health and Hygiene
- Community Based Organisations (CBOs).
- Livelihood Promotions

Early Childhood Care (ECC):

In collaboration with ICDS, the community created the model ECC centre in target villages and extending technical support to run it effectively. ECC has helped in reducing the malnutrition among 0-6 years' age children and to creating awareness among the ANC/PNC mothers on child care, nutrition and timely immunization. There are 23 ECCs in 21 villages with 156 children. This number of boys and girls has been changing every year due to demographic and socio-economic changes. These Anganwadi are more child-friendly teaching involving songs and plays in some of the centres. The educational interventions of the Chethana project, through the government Anganwadi, have helped to create increased awareness and motivation among the parents about the education of their children.

Strengthening Children's Education:

School going children are supported to grow in a community that ensures quality education through life skill development programs. Village level Supplementary Education Centres caters 297 children in nine villages. Children are helped to prepare for their exams and homework and also get an opportunity to improve on their life skills.

Village level Children Parliament are functioning in 11 villages and the meeting of ministers have been taking place discussing about school academic examinations, feedback of celebration of Children's Day, national festivals, etc. Children parliament ministers are guided to take up responsibilities from their young age, and they use their free time productively by way of discussing matters which develop themselves as well as the community where they live in. 35 students were taken to CHRIST (Deemed to be University) to participate in the 'Milan' event organised by CSA during Feb. 2023.

Community Health and Hygiene:

The community were sensitized on their personnel health and hygiene, good environment and global warming. Network meeting with Primary Health Centre (PHC) conducted along with ASHA volunteers. One health check-up camp was conducted in the project area involving PHC team and R.L. Jalappa Medical College & Hospital team. Seethanayakanahalli and Enjanahalli village was provided with a water filter each for ensuring safe water to the children in particular.

Community Based Organizations:

It is believed that the sustainable village development is possible through building community institutions like SHGs, CLAs, Federation, youth groups. Fifty-three SHGs, 5 CLAs, one Federation and one Credit Cooperative Bank managed by women is vibrantly continuing their journey. During 2022-23 the project had witnessed one capacity building training at project level participated by 63 CLA members. They were trained in sustainability, resource mobilization, government schemes, ownership, rapport with stakeholders, network and linkages and etc. CLAs also taking responsibility in the continued effective functioning of the project. Organized capacity building training for Federation members they are also aware on sustainability of the project, network and linkages with government and other departments. The credit cooperative society begun with shareholding amount of ₹30 lakhs about five years have now grown with a net worth capital of ₹3.00 crores and with the membership of 900 women.

Livelihood Promotions:

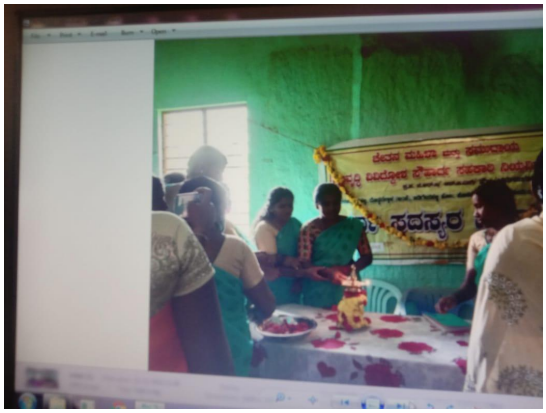
Women are supported to explore livelihood opportunities for generating additional income, secure their families and build community". They access loan from the credit cooperative society and engage in various livelihood activities.

Chethana project had been the learning platform for students and faculties, both from domestic and international universities. A total of 580 students from different department of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) and around 70 students and faculties from international universities (from Western Michigan, VIVES, HAN, Katho, Nord, etc.) have learnt the village life, people, source of income, livelihood activities, role of community institutions in empowerment process and sustainability.

Future Plan:

a) Facilitate the rural exposure camps for students and faculties.
b) Monitor and strengthen SHGs/CLAs/Federation.
c) Organise Health Camps.
d) Facilitate annual auditing of SHGs/CLAs/Federation.

Activity Details: Refer Annexure



2.3.2.3. Pragathi Child Focused Community Development Project Kolar

Pragathi Child Focused Community Development Project Kolar continues to extend its support to the community in 22 of its target villages. The main activity which is happening at the moment in the project is building the capacity of the SHG women and taking efforts to sustain the project. Federation is formed and registered under Karnataka Societies Act 1960. Federation members are involving themselves in all the project related activities and helping the project team in implementing it effectively. At present 42 Self Help Groups (SHGs) are functioning in all target villages. 3 Cluster Level Associations are formed to maintain and support SHGs for their effective functioning. Project team along with Federation members and SHG women are monitoring and maintaining all the activities like running supplementary education centre, monitoring Anganwadi, coordinating with health and ICDS departments. Women are empowered socially and economically. Once the women become a member of SHG their financial needs are met and it helps them to improve their living condition and is able to give good education to their children. Awareness programmes are being conducted in the villages in association with health, education departments and students from CHRIST (Deemed to be University).

Major Achievement:

- Early Childhood Care
- Strengthening Children's Education
- Community Health and Hygiene
- Community Based Organisations (CBOs).
- Livelihood Promotions

Early Childhood Care:

The erstwhile Early Childhood Care centres established by the project is now maintained as Anganwadi centres by the government through ICDS in 22 villages with the continued support and guidance from the community. 221 children between the age of 2 to 6 are attending in these 22 centres. The centres focus on engaging the children with action songs, individual and group games, and ensure more child friendly environment and care. They are also provided with nutritious noon meal contributing to strengthen their health. Pregnant and lactating mothers are also provided with supplementary food, besides sensitizing them on child care, nutrition, timely immunization, etc. Over the years there are no children reported as anaemic.

Strengthening Children's Education:

School going children in target villages are supported for having a positive learning environment, where in quality education is assured for preventing school dropout, enhancing academic performance and promoting higher education. Besides focusing on the academic requirement, the children are also guided to develop appropriate life skills. Volunteers, who are the siblings of 256 school going children from the villages are supported through 22 supplementary education centres. Few of the children those who are not attending the project run supplementary education centres are said to be accessing private tuitions by paying a fee.

Children Parliament is functioning in 21 villages with the 105 ministers. Ensuring child rights and child protection, preventing child labour and undertaking rallies to create awareness on health, hygiene and environment are the areas that are discussed and formulate appropriate actions in children parliament. They also discuss about children's academic examinations, feedback on the Children's Day observation, National festivals. Children parliament ministers are guided in a right direction, they are learning to take up responsibilities from their young age, and they use their free time productively by way of discussing matters which develop themselves as well as the community where they live in.

This year around 35 children from the target villages had an opportunity to take part in the Milan 2023, the biennial event conducted at CHRIST (Deemed to be University) by CSA. This was a three-day event participated by 250 marginalised children from CSA's project villages and city slums dwellings. Children were engaged with different games, stalls focussing on educating and stimulating the children, colouring activities, sports and cultural shows marked the first two days of the event. Best performing children were provided with prizes and awards. It was an enriching experience of learning from other children belong to different region and student volunteers of CHRIST. The programme also set a stage to demonstrate their skills in various sports, art, culture, and also promoted leadership among the children.

Community Health and Hygiene:

The project continues to network with PHCs in villages and ASHA volunteers to sensitize the community on personnel health and hygiene. This year there are four medical camps were organized in collaboration with R.L. Jalappa Medical College & Hospital, local PHC team and ASHA volunteers.

Community Based Organizations:

Over the years Pragathi project had mobilized people under various Community Based Organizations including Self Help Group, Village Development Committees, Youth groups, Children Parliament, Child Protection Committees, etc. SHGs are formed by women to work towards making the women independent, financially capable and take up leadership roles in the community leading to women empowerment and sustainability. As of now there are 42 SHGs functioning effectively with the membership of 520 women. These groups are federated in to 3 Cluster Level Associations (CLA) and further formed in to Federation. Federation (Pragathi Mahila Samsthe) was registered and is planning to establish Credit Cooperative Society. As a registered body, the Federation got a free land from the Government to construct the Federation Office.

Meetings of SHGs takes place every week to decide on the group functioning, livelihood promotion, capacity building programmes, etc., while there are monthly review and planning meetings of CLA and quarter meetings of Federation takes place. As part of the sustainability of the project, SHGs/CLAs/Federation are sanitised on resource mobilization, accessing government schemes, facilitating ownership, stakeholders' participation, network and linkages etc. CLA and Federation are also taking responsibility of facilitating children's day, women's day observations and other days of national and international importance.

Livelihood Promotions:

The SHGs are the primary unit that facilitate promotion of livelihood through micro lending from their savings in the target villages. As of now there are no individual member who had not taken loan for venturing in to income generating activities bringing additional income to the family. Loans are usually obtained for investing in to farming activities, animal husbandry, setting up micro enterprises, and meeting the expenditure relating to educating the children, addressing health and medical needs, meeting emergencies, maintaining the household and houses. The loaning sources is just not limited to SHGs' own savings alone, but there is also a revolving fund being provided by CLA to SHGs.

Future Plan:

1. Capacity building training to SHGs/CLAs/Federation on strengthening the organizations and work towards forming Credit Cooperative Society in Yeldur.
2. Mobilise an additional land space for Federation Office from the Government.
3. Review, monitor and handhold the existing SHGs/CLAs/Federation.
4. Organize health camps collaborating with government PHC.
5. Facilitate conducting annual statutory auditing of SHGs/CLAs
6. Preparation of Agriculture Business to Federation Member's.

2.3.2.4. Unnathi SHA-CFCD Project # Jamkandi

Since 1999, CSA has been implementing developmental projects across Karnataka, Telangana, Maharashtra Kerala and Chhattisgarh. CSA started to partner with KNH since 2002 and implementing various developmental projects for the community with sustainability as its main focus. Initially CSA implemented CFCD projects and now implementing SHA project in Karnataka and Chhattisgarh. All together there are six projects implemented in partnership with KNH. 4 CFCD project were phased out and sustained, they are managed by the registered federations in the respective areas. In all the localities the women are doing well, and the development is visible with women, their family and in the community. Livelihood is given much priority in the sustained projects. One of the sustained projects in Karnataka has started a co-operative bank in their impact village which helps the women to get good accessibility towards the banking and its services. Education to children is given more importance as the parents understand the importance of education and they send their children to school regularly. Sanitation level is improved, 80% of the beneficiaries across the project area have constructed toilets and using it.

2.4. PARIVARTHANA

Parivarthana is a zero waste management project organized to create an eco-friendly environment by implementing solid waste management practices advocating 3Rs – Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. Born out of CSA's "Trash to Treasure" project Parivarthana unit came into being in May 2008 with a view to improving waste collection, recycling and livelihood promotion. Beginning to serve the slum community in Rajendra Nagar and Ambedkar Nagar, Parivarthana has been serving and the University for 15 long years commissioning focusing on i) Collection and Segregation of waste, ii) Recycling paper and producing handmade paper, iii) Producing Compost, iv) Producing Bio-gas, and v) Treating & recycling water. Since 2008, it has been creating both a social as well as an ecological impact through organized efforts to ensure proper waste management practices with the relenting help of the women working in the unit and the students in the campus.

Waste Collection and Segregation

Bangalore Central Campus of the University during 2022-23 generated over 2.27 lakhs kg of wastes, which comprises of wet waste (70%), dry waste (27%) and reject waste (3%). Wet waste is further segregated for producing bio-gas and producing compost/manure. During 2022-23, 61,601kgs of dry waste generated by the campus was sold and brought a revenue of ₹4.22 lakhs. Parivarthana has been providing the learning platform for the student community and general public to get sensitized, trained and involved in different waste management processes including segregation of waste, manufacturing of handmade papers, producing compost, generating biogas and treating waste water and thus building the future community environmentally responsible.

Type of Waste	Quantity in kg.
Dry Waste	61,601
Wet Waste (used Biogas)	1,44,480
Wet Waste (use for Compost)	14,215
Reject Waste	7,201
TOTAL	2,27,497

Compost Unit

After segregating the wet waste like kitchen waste, fruit/vegetable waste and other bio-mass are converted in to organic manure through a treatment process of composting for a period of 45 days. The contents of the composting tank become a homogenous mixture generating revenue to Parivarthana. The input waste of 14,215kgs is processed and converted in to 4,524 kg compost/manure during 2022-23 generating a revenue of ₹1.3 lakh. The compost is sold to outside institutions and individuals besides feeding the lush garden being maintained inside the University campus throughout the year.

Water Treatment Plant

The water treatment plant at Parivarthana involves an elaborate process to ensure that the recycled water is safe for vegetation and gardening. On an average 1.5 lakhs litres of water is re-cycled on every working day. During 2022-23, 19,387kld of grey water is treated and used for vegetation and gardening in Bangalore central campus. Similarly, grey water is being treated, re-cycled and used for vegetation and gardening in Kengeri Campus as well.

Bio-gas

The wet waste generated in the University campus, food waste in particular amounting to 1,44,480kg is processed during 2022-23, which had generated bio-gas equivalent to 6,556kgs of LPG worth of ₹5,52,240 in terms of revenue. The slurry rich in nutrients generated is used for vegetation.

Paper Recycling Unit

Parivarthana make best use of waste scrap paper generated by the University and recycle it by producing handmade paper and manufacture paper products of varied kinds, thus contributing towards a 'zero waste campus'. These products are supplied to the students, various departments of the University, besides other institutions like St. Joseph's University, Bangalore for seminars, workshops and conferences. This year Parivarthana had generated a revenue of ₹4.82 lakhs.

Student volunteers of CSA undertake awareness campaigns on E-waste management and has ensured a systematic way of e-waste collection which is then sold in the scrap market to generate revenue for the Parivarthana.

Few Extra Mileage for Parivarthana

- Parivarthana works in collaboration with local government Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and many other civil society organizations, corporate bodies, academic institutions and slum communities.
- Reject waste is controlled and it is only 3% within the campus, whereas 10 to 15 % is permissible according to BBMP rule.
- The waste management practices of the University are recognized and has received awards from the Department of Horticulture, Karnataka, consecutively for the past 10 years, in recognition for its clean and green concept.

- Through these practices, the University is attempting to spread the idea of environment protection and promotion to student communities, general public, corporates and different stakeholders.
- CSA volunteers are enabled to join hands with other practitioners and organizations involved in the process of mitigating climate change effects including global warming.

Learning visits to Parivarthana Unit – 2022-23

- CHRIST (Deemed to be University) faculties: 996 & graduate students: 10,362
- International visitors: 332
- Service Learning students: 173
- Internship students: 43
- Pre-University students for one-day product making training: 220
- Commerce graduate students for one-day product making training: 9
- CU-BOSCH Bridge programme – Skill Development trainees for greeting cards making using the handmade paper: 52

CSA is envisioning Parivarthana units in all CHRIST' campuses.

MANAGE WASTE FROM YOUR HOME AND OFFICE!

2.5. INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS EXCHANGE (write up by Catherine)

CSA has tie-ups with 8 international universities, as part of bilateral cooperation on the community development program and student exchange through a Memorandum of Understanding. Students from partner universities abroad visit CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bangalore for outreach programmes and service-learning projects. These projects last for a minimum of 3 weeks to a maximum of 6 months. Some students have taken up a year-long course as part of their academic curriculum.

Student exchange is an opportunity where international students explore problems faced by underprivileged sections in India and understand the Indian perspective of social work. The students were placed in slum development projects of CSA in Janakiram Layout and LR Nagar, Bangalore and in Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) based on the student's motivation and interest. In the last academic year, we had 15 students coming from Nord, VID, NTNU and HAN Universities for social outreach programme as a part of their Social Work Practicum.

This outreach programme contributes to their professional, personal development, and career. Apart from this, the students also learn through cultural exchange, gain social and service knowledge to bring about sustainable and meaningful developmental change. It brings together people from international universities with diverse backgrounds and communities to organize service activities develop leadership and professional skills with able academic instructions.

3. CSA CAMPUS SPECIFIC ACHIVEMENTS 2022-23

Bangalore Central Campus

Events Details: Refer Annexure

BGR Campus

Centre for Social Action in CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bannerghatta Road campus has begun its journey towards realizing the vision of the University 'Excellence and Service" during 2016. Following the footsteps of CSA, the parental unit, Bannerghatta Road campus too implement the student voluntary initiatives through five verticals. During 2022-23, around 150 student volunteers of the campus spearheaded all the activities. This annual report encapsulates the impact created in the past year, and reflecting on the same. The initiatives taken up during 2022-23 by Bannerghatta Road campus is benefitting 40 families and 100 children.

Major Achievements:

- Mukti Bike Challenge: This is a week-long event organized by the NGO Oasis-India from October 29 to November 4, 2022. The objective of the challenge was to raise awareness about human trafficking and its various forms. Drishti, collaborated with Oasis-India and performed street plays in 13 different locations across India, starting from Bangalore and ending in Miraj, Maharashtra. The event had a significant impact on the community as it sensitized people about the issue of human trafficking, including child labour and sexual abuse. Street plays were performed in government schools and colleges, raising awareness among students about the risks of kidnapping. The widespread performances allowed Drishti to reach a larger audience across the country. The volunteers involved in the event gained valuable experiences and learnings. They were exposed to challenging and unpredictable situations, enabling them to better understand and navigate crisis scenarios. The event also provided the volunteers with a deeper understanding of the severity of human trafficking and enhanced their theatre skills through street plays. The experience sparked a sense of concern and motivation among the volunteers to actively contribute to the cause. The Mukti Bike Challenge gathered media attention through news articles and videos, which further amplified its impact.

- MILAN 2023: CRISHT Bangalore Central Campus hosted a remarkable biennial event organized by the Centre for Social Action. Over three days, it brought together children from different project areas, providing them with an array of activities and learning experiences. The event commenced with an opening ceremony featuring introductions, highlighting the project areas and initiatives, setting the stage for a memorable occasion. The first day featured a march past, games, and a lively carnival with stalls, and entertainment for children and volunteers alike. On the second day, non-stage events stimulated the children's creativity, with colouring activities and a "best from waste" competition promoting recycling. The closing ceremony included a captivating flash mob and surprises, followed by prize distribution and an after-movie capturing the event's highlights. The community was united, and children from the Bagalkot project area enjoyed a Bangalore Darshan, exploring famous landmarks. Milan 2023 had a profound impact, fostering camaraderie, sportsmanship, and talent expression among the children. Student Volunteers gained valuable skills, witnessing the positive influence they had on the children's lives, fostering empathy and understanding.

- Ground to Glory: Ground to Glory was held at the Decathlon Bannerghatta Flagship store from 5th to 9th March 2023, with the objective of promoting and supporting underprivileged children. The highlight of the event was the football match, where participants showcased their skills and passion for the sport. The match not only brought together players from different backgrounds but also attracted enthusiastic spectators who cheered and supported the teams. It created a sense of unity among the participants and fostered a spirit of healthy competition. Through the event's success, ‘Ground to Glory’ managed to raise enough funds to support the education of 12 students from project areas. This tangible achievement showcases the effectiveness of the event in making a real and lasting impact on the lives of underprivileged children. Ground to Glory brought together sports, community engagement, and fundraising to make a positive difference in the lives of underprivileged children. It created awareness, fostered unity, and raised funds to support education, showcasing the power of collective efforts in bringing about meaningful change. The event served as an eye-opener among the community, particularly the participating students, about the importance of education and the need to support underprivileged children's education. It highlighted the role education plays in empowering individuals and uplifting communities.

- Clean Up Drive: This drive, in collaboration with Akzo Nobel and Youth for Seva, revitalized the surroundings of Mahatma Children's Home. With dedicated volunteers and assistance from BBMP workers. The area was cleared and the walls were scrubbed and painted. The drive had a positive impact on the community, making the area more accessible and discouraging future waste dumping. Volunteers gained valuable knowledge on waste segregation and developed a sense of rapport. The event showcased the power of collaboration and the importance of collective action for environmental sustainability. The Clean Up Drive left a lasting impression, fostering a sense of pride and responsibility among the community members and inspiring future initiatives. The Clean Up Drive resulted in a significant improvement in the cleanliness and hygiene of the surroundings, making the area more pleasant and inviting for the community and the residents of Mahatma Children's Home. It significantly enhanced the quality of life for community members and residents in the neighbourhood. A cleaner and more aesthetically pleasing environment created a positive and uplifting atmosphere, contributing to overall well-being. By removing accumulated waste and debris, ‘the drive’ also helped to eliminate potential health hazards and improved safety in the community. Reduced litter and properly managed waste reduced the risk of diseases, pests and accidents.

- Irenic: Irenic, focused on promoting positive mental health and coping mechanisms among students. The event, held over three days, aimed to raise awareness about mental health and combat the stigma surrounding it. The event featured stalls sensitizing students to different mental disorders and illnesses. An interactive workshop was conducted in collaboration with MACS (Mentoring and Counselling Services) to provide students with practical coping strategies. An orientation session on self-compassion was conducted by Miss Ridhi Pugalia, a Mental Health expert, emphasizing the importance of mental well-being. Irenic served as a timely reminder for students to prioritize their mental health in a competitive and stressful world. By promoting awareness, providing practical tools, and encouraging open dialogue, the event contributed to the overall well-being of the community and empowered individuals to take charge of their mental wellness. Students were encouraged to identify and understand mental health conditions portrayed by various characters from movies and web series. This exercise fostered empathy and a deeper comprehension of the diverse challenges individuals face regarding their mental well-being. Irenic successfully raised awareness among students about the importance of mental health. Through the event, participants gained a better understanding of different mental disorders and illnesses, breaking the stigma surrounding these issues.

- CSP Carnival: The Child Sponsorship Programme (CSP) Carnival, held on 21st January 2023, was a heart-warming event. The event began with enthusiastic preparations as CSA members discussed the interaction between students and children, along with decorations and arrangements. Children arrived in batches, radiating excitement. Highlights included interactions with first-year students from various departments, fostering curiosity and mutual learning. CSA star badges and lollipop accessories were awarded, and a grand entry was made through a rainbow carpet. Throughout the day, children engaged in fun activities and games, including Cupomatic and computer science exploration. A workshop on consent by MACS empowered children with knowledge of personal boundaries and the importance of saying "no". The Child Sponsorship Programme (CSP) Carnival created awareness among CHRIST (Deemed to be University) students about the positive impact their contributions can make in the lives of underprivileged children. The workshop on consent, conducted by MACS empowered the children with knowledge about their rights and limits, promoting a sense of empowerment and self-awareness. Through activities like Cupomatic and computer science exploration, the children had the opportunity to develop new skills and expand their knowledge in a fun and interactive manner.

Benefit to Volunteers:

- The volunteers gained a sense of purpose, satisfaction and fulfilment from contributing to a worthy cause. They were making a difference in the community.
- The volunteers developed a sense of unity and belonging through their engagement with the community and contributed significantly to society.
- Participating in events like a clean-up drive allows them to see tangible results and witness the positive impact of their efforts. It increases their understanding of the importance of waste reduction, recycling, and maintaining clean surroundings.

- The volunteers were exposed to more challenging and unpredictable circumstances, which improved their comprehension of and ability to deal with crisis situations.
- Events like Mukthi Bike Challenge enabled the volunteers to gain more awareness and insights about serious societal issues like human trafficking and child labour. It taught them to adjust to the surroundings and made them realise the importance of being grounded.
- The volunteers acquired professional abilities such as managing a team and cooperating with outside teams to accomplish a common objective. It taught the importance of teamwork, how a team supports and complements each other.
- The flagship event of MILAN 2023 helped volunteers to learn and know more about our project area children and understand the necessities of life and the value of luxury. This event also helped them in learning management and organisational skills.
- Volunteers gained an insight on how things work on an actual ground level and CSA as a whole impact the community. It made them realise how every small effort contributes to society.

Benefit to Community:

- Plantation drives enabled the locality to be transformed from contaminated dwellings to beautiful and safe environments with improved soil, air and water quality. Further motivating the local residents to keep the place maintained, green and clean. Preventing piling up of garbage and reduced pollution would prevent infectious diseases, boosting cleanliness and hygiene.
- Nutrition kit drive sensitized the families of the project area children about good nutrition and with the initiative of distributing rations to these families, they were able to provide for their household food with high nutrition enabling a practice of healthy eating and diet for the coming youth.
- Street plays and Mukthi Bike Challenge sensitized the people of various localities about pressing social issues. It empowered people to take action whenever such incidents took place. The advantage of partnering up with NGOs in the same cause allowed the actors to also inform the audience who they can approach in similar situations further spreading significant awareness. Making people more aware by telling stories of the pain a girl goes through in a society that has oppressed her further educated and sensitized about the disheartening side of the society and how there is an urgent need for change. The impact of MBC was massive as it was performed in over 13 locations about human trafficking and what should be the immediate response when one encounters such a situation.
- CSP fund raising activities enabled a sense of giving and caring for the underprivileged among the college students and through the help of which, children's education was able to be funded.
- Milan allowed the holistic development of the children from our project areas, inculcating a healthy habit of physical activity in their daily life while learning and having fun. The children learnt the importance of diversity as they mingled with children from other project areas and built a spirit of sportsmanship in a friendly environment.

Future Plan:

- Strengthen the collaboration with other NGOs.
- Strengthen the volunteer engagement through newly formed co-harts for Student Voluntary Body.
- Conduct CSA week
- Promote rural camps for students.
- Establish Parivarthana Unit in the campus.
- Facilitate events to improve and develop skills among volunteers by workshops and interactive sessions and collaborations with individuals and organisations.
- Promote 'Social Entrepreneurship' for engaging the Christ community in order to inculcate sustainable ideas and provide a platform for volunteers to engage and learn from influential entrepreneurs and to foster a space of creative ideas to direct the future towards impactful, green decisions.
- Create skits/plays to be performed by Drishti this year addressing the audience from slum areas to schools to malls focusing a wide range of topics such as addiction, abuses, health and wellbeing, and environmental concern.
- Conducts events such as Career Fest, Anti-Plastic campaign, waste management, etc.

DELHI NCR Campus

CSA was established in CHRIST Delhi NCR campus during 2019 with a vision to make every student aware, sensitive, empathetic and contributing to sustainable changes in the society. CSA is a centre for promoting volunteerism and enabling students to develop as socially responsible citizens through developmental initiatives. As a student volunteer body CSA over the years engaging student volunteers in social development initiatives through i) Activity Centre - education and skill development, ii) Maitri - environment sustainability, iii) Drishti - act, react and impact, iv) Media and Communication - create, express and reform, and v) Anti Human Trafficking Club, facilitated by inter-dependent student wings.

During 2022-23 CSA provided a platform to 425 students to learn be responsible and respectful towards society and to work for a cause engaging in volunteering activities, which helped them to connect with the society and thereby contributing towards sustainable change in the society. CSA had strongly engaged in addressing issues related to child rights, socio-economic development of women, youth and farmers, livelihood, community mobilization, animal rights and environment/climate change issues in 2 slums of Delhi NCR (Bombay Colony and Nai Basti).

Coverage:

Slums	Families	Children	Women	Youth	Total
Bombay Colony	40	60	40	12	152
Nai Basti	35	45	25	10	115
Total	75	105	65	22	267

Major Achievements:

- Early Learning and Training Centres: There are two activity centres being maintained 'Neev' at Bombay Colony and 'Buniyad' at Nai Basti. These centres are functioning from afternoon till evening providing supplementary education to 70 children from the locality, besides providing non-formal education to children for enrolling them in formal schools. CSA volunteers work with children engaging them with various soft skill development activities, developing communication skills, art, sports and culture, and group activities that enhances their talents and promote team work. Republic day painting competition was conducted for children of Buniyad centre with participation of 44 children. Unnathi, an awareness session on good touch and bad touch was organized for the children at Ghaziabad on 30 Jan 2023, benefiting 32 (12 boys and 20 girls) children at Neev centre. Student volunteers from the university facilitated the learning through videos and group exercises. Sixty children from Buniyad centre were provided with educational kits, which ensured the responsible learning among the marginalized children.
- Skill Development Training to youth and children: Around 55 children and youth were provided with skill building training in working with the computers during 2022-23. Kengeri Campus

Centre for Social Action began its operations in Kengeri campus during 2010-11. CSA is a platform for students to volunteer to play their role in volunteering for social issues. CSA from Kengeri campus makes sure that students balance their academic excellence with their social responsibility. This annual report consists of the details, impact, benefits for the community impacted by CSA, Kengeri during 2022-23 engaging 500 student volunteers and 90 children.

Major Achievements:

- Waste Management Survey: The waste management practices previously implemented on the Kengeri campus had proven to be ineffective due to an inadequate number of dustbins, poor waste segregation, and improper waste disposal. To come up with more effective strategies and initiatives, a survey was conducted with an intention of suggesting specific initiatives and long-term solutions. The volunteers collected the required data for the same, including the number of dustbins and the number of people generating the waste in comparison according to the crowd and requirements of specific eateries. This survey came out with recommendations of dustbins aligning with number of students and new initiatives and strategies that can be implemented to pave the way for a better waste management system and a cleaner and greener campus.
- Ribbon's Club: The Ribbons Club conducted several activities since January 2023 to generate awareness on various social issues and concerns by reaching out to communities. 'Disha', in Kengeri campus review literature and identify topics that are of socially importance and plan appropriate awareness activities to be conducted across the campus and other locations outside the campus. Some of the social issues that were addressed include Substance Abuse, Gynaecological Cancer, mental well-being, etc.

- Disha Engineering Projects: Engineering projects under Disha Wing is an ambitious endeavour aimed at integrating various engineering disciplines to develop innovative solutions and tackle real-world challenges. This project brings together the brightest minds from different engineering branches within CSA to collaboratively design and implement cutting-edge technologies. The project team, consisting of students and faculty mentors had formulated 'Cancer detection application' (Aug 2022) and 'Incinerator' (April 2023). The team is continuing their efforts towards identifying problems in the fields of automation, robotics, renewable energy, smart infrastructure, artificial intelligence, etc. Through brainstorming sessions and rigorous evaluation, the team will select the most impactful projects that align with the goals of the Disha Wing.
- Book Donation Drive: CSA volunteers conducted a week-long book donation drive during fourth week of July 2022 with in the Kengeri campus. At the end of the drive, 75 books were donated to this noble cause by the students, faculty as well as the college library. The books received included a wide spectrum of genres like philosophical, novel, fairy tales, self-help, grammar and art. CSA volunteers visited NEST (a home for orphans) and handed over the donated books to the children.
- Chat Over Coffee: This is an interactive session conducted on 29 July 2022 igniting insight of every single member and sharing of their thoughts about sustainable lifestyle. The talk also took on a slightly philosophical note, where our purposes in life was discussed and volunteers were asked to connect it to Sustainable Lifestyle.
- Aurora: Aurora, a remarkable event organized by the Activity Centre wing of CSA on the special occasion of Sports Day. The event extended a warm invitation to students from Sneha Jyothi and NEST schools, offering them a day filled with excitement and fun-filled activities.
- Drishti Plays: The CSA wing Drishti performed a play My Body My Choice in the campus and then later in Gopalan Arcade Mall on 24 Aug 2022. The play raised awareness of women's rights to their choices regarding their own body. The play depicted a story of 2 women with contrasting opinions on their pregnancy. While one of them wanted to keep the child, the other woman wanted an abortion. The main aim of the play was to raise awareness about the recent overturn of the Roe Vs Wade verdict in USA, where now it has become illegal to get an abortion. The play intends to spark conversation about women's rights in terms of safety, equality and societies view on women and their choices. A play titled 'Not Anymore' performed on 23 Sep 2022 is an attempt to welcome the juniors. This play focused on the topic of anti-ragging and anti- bullying and was done in collaboration with the Anti-Ragging cell of CHRIST (Deemed to be University). It acted as a framework to let students know that they need not shun the urge to raise their voice and speak up against any form of harassment they experience or notice around them. Yet another play Beyond the Closet is performed on 26 Nov 2022 in the campus and later in Bayalu Ranga Mandira, near Town Hall for the occasion of Pride celebrations. The play actors put up a mind blowing and heart touching performance about the difficulties that are faced by people of the LGBTQ+ community. The play was greeted with a standing ovation and a round of applause for being able to make individuals feel like they're not alone in the battle against oppression.
- Inara: Inara was an event aimed at initiating various activities for the development of an individual through the art of acting and street plays through various competitions, workshops and stalls facilitated by Drishti team. It aimed to create an impact on the differently abled children of Krishna Chaitanya, a CSA project area. The event conducted for three days (29-30 March and 01 April 2023) consisted of an acting-based competition whose major themes included 'equality and quality education'. A dance-based event which was based on the themes of neuro-divergence and equality, a workshop on the expression of emotions through acting and a visit to Krishna Chaitanya's where activities were conducted to promote the well-being of the 38 children there and a few tools for facilitating the learning of these students were donated.

- Marathon for Gynaecological Cancer Awareness: CSA collaborated with the Sports council of the college to organize a Marathon to promote awareness of Gynaecological Cancer and the new vaccine released in India for cervical cancer on 02 Sep 2022. Volunteers engaged in distributing ribbons and face painting. A photo booth was also set up in the same spot for the promotion of the event. Aside from students, we also had non-teaching and teaching faculty join us for the marathon. The event started at 4:30, and the participants completed one lap across the campus to complete the 5km marathon. Medals were distributed to the first fifty to complete the marathon.
- Peer Education for NEST children: Six Peer Education mentors along with CSA Activity Centre volunteers conducted regular visits to NEST, which is a home for orphans from Sep 2022 to March 2023. The aim of this collaboration was to identify any well-being issues faced by the children residing there, specifically related to mental health. The Peer mentors were chosen for this as they are trained and sensitized towards many prominent issues and were trusted to communicate with the children to get insights into what problems they might be facing.
- English Classes for Housekeeping staff: CSA conducted English classes for the housekeeping staff from Nov 2022 to March 2023 to teach them basic communication skills in English. The classes took place throughout the year with a particular set of volunteers.
- Nauka Classes: Nauka classes are an initiative towards ensuring that the students of class 10th are able to study and understand and the concepts in their respective syllabi, and pass their board exams with flying colours. Students were selected from CHRIST (Deemed to be University), and these students go once a week (from Nov 2022 to March 2023) as per their allocations and teach allotted subjects to the students. There are plenty of doubt clearing sessions and individual attention is also given.
- Rural Exposure Camp: A two-day rural camp was conducted at one of the project sites of CSA in Kolar district benefiting 40 student volunteers. The objective of the rural exposure camp was to sensitize the CSA volunteers to the way of rural life and its various aspect by activities like agriculture, clean-up drives and sports for 40 children.
- Milan: A biennial event conducted for three days (12 to 14 Feb 2023) at CHRIST involving 250 children from CSA's project sites. Volunteers of CSA was facilitating the days, providing these kids options and experiences they've never had before is a leap toward their happiness. Children took part in activities like athletics, dance, workshop, cultural nights, and many other events. Through these activities the volunteers tried to help the children who discover their hobbies, and areas of interest and help them to take a step toward realizing their goals.

Impact on community

- The Weekday Classes and Weekend Visits to the partnering organisations have helped us to ensure quality education to all those children who required it the most. Also the helping staffs of the university were also able to develop their linguistic skills, which would be helpful to interact with the students and others in due course of time.

- Inmates of Krishna Chaitanya were helped with not only getting access to education but also providing them with equipment for the good health and wellbeing of those in need.
- Various sensitization plays helped the community to speak up and raise their voice against injustices.

Impact on Volunteers

- All the classes and workshops conducted by the students helped them in personal growth as it helped them enhance their communication, leadership skills as well as their ability to adapt.
- Volunteers who were engaged in plays, awareness campaigns and other things got to learn more about different community.
- Coming up with unique solutions to address and solve the problem helped our volunteers in enhancing their problem-solving skills and to ability to make quick decisions.
- Our volunteers also get to meet and interact with other people with diverse background which helped them in getting exposure to diverse perspectives and experiences and broaden their horizon, not to forget about fostering of empathy.

Future plan

- Collaborations with different NGOs.
- Health and plantation drive across the Gopal Nagara village.
- Organ donation and hair donation drives amongst the students.
- Awareness generation on mental health, menstruation, nutrition, sexual abuse etc., and yoga and exercise drives to promote overall well-being.
- Career and Educational Fests will be conducted for organizations to make the children aware of the options available for them to have a brighter future.
- Clean and green initiatives, such as clean-up drives outside the campus and awareness campaigns to promote sustainability and better waste management.
- Video series and documentaries to showcase the hardships faced by the community.
- Publish CSA newsletters and magazines.
- Sensitization through ‘plays’ focusing on several social issues with a wide range of audience from schools, NGOs, malls to campus.
- Continue events like ‘Chat over Coffee’ and other interactive activities such as workshops.

Major Achievements:

- Youth Orientation: Youth Development and Leadership programme is conducted on 9th May 2022 for 22 youth from Mala gram panchayat to prepare them to meet the challenges of adolescence, adulthood and achieve his or her full potential. This programme included activities and experiences that help the youth develop social, ethical, emotional, physical, and cognitive competencies, which would help them in developing the ability to analyze his or her strengths and weaknesses. It also includes setting personal and vocational goal, having self-esteem, confidence, motivation, and abilities to carry them out.
- Goal Setting Programme for Youth: During May 2022 a one-day orientation was conducted for 20 youth on goal setting and selecting a career. Youth were guided to set goals for the life through some games and exercise. They were given a few tips on how to make a career choice and what all factors that should be considered while making a career choice. The choice of a career depends on the job prospects of the field and most certainly the interest of the candidate.
- Street Theatre Arts: This program was intended to shape lives through theatre education by enriching the theatre education experience of the youth of Mala gram panchayat. This program offered a range of academic, social, and emotional benefits to the youth. This included a greater ability to accept people with different opinions from their own and understand the diversity of ways others experience the world. A theatre art expert had sensitized 25 youth about i) the danger of addiction behaviour (both drug as well as alcohol), ii) violence against women through performing theatre arts. A number of practical sessions and rehearsals were done.

- Seminar on Drugs and its Bad Effects on the Youth: As a part of an on-going training programme to the youth a seminar on 'Drugs and its bad-effects on the youth' was organized and participated by 40 youth. The participants were made to understand the substance use disorder caused by substances such as alcohol, marijuana, narcotics, steroids, cannabis, opium, etc. They were also helped to understand the imbalances that the substance use bringing in personal and social life.
- Rights of Minorities: 35 youth and their parents participated in sensitization session on Rights of Minorities highlighting Article 26 of Indian Constitution. Constitution provides the religious minorities the right to establish and maintain institutions for religious and charitable purposes and to manage their own affairs in matters of religion, in any manner they wish to administer and maintain such property in accordance with the law. He reiterated that the religious minorities have been assured by provisions in our constitution that their special interests - religious, cultural, educational and social are to be protected.
- Winners' Day '22: On 25th June 2022, the students obtained Grade A+ in the Mala panchayat were honoured ceremonially. Thrissur District Panchayat President inaugurated the meeting and delivered an inspiring speech. Mr. Babu.T.K gave a brief introduction about Miss: Asna Sherin, who in spite of her Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA), achieved Full A+ in SSLC Examination. She shared her experiences and gave a very motivational speech. She was honoured with a Certificate of Appreciation and a Cash Award. Then the School with the highest Full A+ was honoured, followed by the students who achieved Full A+ in SSLC Exam. Four selected students from Snehagiri Locality who got Full A+ in Plus Two Examination were specially honoured. These meritorious students shared the secret of their success- how they studied, how much time they spent and what was the best time to study etc. This was followed by an interactive session conducted by Mr. Babu.T.K. He gave some valuable guidelines on how to prepare for competitive examinations. The students were given opportunity to clarify their doubts thoroughly.
- Outing to Athirapilly and CSR Pariyaram: A one-day outing to Athirappilly-Waterfall and CSR Pariyaram was arranged on 28th July for the students who passed SSLC Examination in 2022. They were accompanied by Fr. Joy Vattoly, the Director, Snehagiri Society, Mr. Babu.T.K, Mr. Gikhil and Mr. Jisbin Jose. The group left from Snehagiri at 8.15 a.m. with a prayer led by Rev.Fr. Joy Vattoly CMI. They spent about two hours at Athirappilly-Waterfall. All enjoyed the scenery and the natural breeze there. Then they proceeded to 'CSR' Pariyaram which is a retreat-centre located on the bank of Chalakudy River. They had lunch over there in that serene atmosphere. After the lunch, there was a sharing session in which all the students expressed their future plan of study, revealed their aspirations and ambitions. It was followed by games, fun and some entertainments which was a kind of relaxation for everyone. Mr. Jisbin Jose who holds a Master's degree took a lively class to the students. He gave a true scenario of this competitive world and enlightened the students with his practical knowledge and relevant information that mainly focused on how to prepare effectively for competitive exams. The students clarified their doubts from him regarding Civil Services Examinations, Training/ Coaching Centers, Necessary Sites, and the like.

- Competitive Exam Orientation cum Educational Kit Distribution: As a part of Competitive Exam Orientation, CYC Snehagiri conducted an Educational Kit Distribution in which 75 students participated. They were given a number of study materials that would enable them to prepare effectively for the Competitive exams. Several dignitaries were present at the function and they gave inspiring speeches to motivate the youth to inculcate in them a habit or desire for preparing competitive exams in a systematic manner.
- Orientation on Competitive Exam to Young Women: A meeting of Femina members was held at CYC Hall, Snehagiri on 9th June, 2022 from 6.00.p.m. to 7.15.p.m. About 40 female members and some parents were present at the meeting. The meeting commenced with a prayer song followed by the welcome speech by Rev. Fr. Dr. Joy Vattoly, the Director Snehagiri Society. Rev. Sr. Dr. Vimala CMC, the Chief-Guest, gave an inspiring talk and highlighted the need of women to come to the fore-front and become responsible leaders to lead the society. She also spoke about the necessity of growing up with moral values, promoting Christian virtues, spreading the messages of peace, love & patience and becoming ideal leaders.
- CYC Animators' and Leaders' Meet: The main purpose of this program was to review and plan for the future regarding some of the impending activities. The animators encouraged the CYC leaders-to come to the fore-front and give their innovative ideas and suggestions. They suggested increasing the frequency of the leaders' meet. It was decided to conduct the leaders meeting prior to every program as it would give more opportunities to the leaders to involve themselves in the planning level till the end when these planning are precisely executed.
- Onam "Then" and "Now": On 3rd September, 2022 CYC Snehagiri organized a unique 'Onam Celebration'. It was titled Onam 'Annum' (Then), 'Innum' (Now). The CYC members had prepared a beautiful 'Pookalam' (floral arrangements or colour sketches on the floor or ground). The celebration started at 3.00.p.m. with a prayer song. Fr. Joy Vattoly CMI welcomed the audience and declared that it was quite an informal gathering. Then the sharing session started in which many elderly people shared their sweet memories and experiences of their younger days. Their sharing was very informative and useful to the whole audience. It was a new knowledge and novel experience to the younger generation. Some of the CYC members spoke about how they celebrate Onam these days. This enabled them to compare the Onam celebration of olden days and the 'new-gen' Onam celebration. One of the participants sang a 'naadan paatu' which is a folk song sung to propitiate Gods seeking their blessings. CYC female members performed a fusion - a film song with dance which was similar to 'Thiruvathirakali' (Kerala's traditional folk dance or ritualistic dance performed by women). In a nut shell, the event was quite colourful and memorable to both the old generation and younger generation. All those who were present suggested that this new way of Onam Celebration should be continued in the future as well.

- CYC Get-together: In order to acknowledge and appreciate the CYC members' hard-work, Snehagiri Society organized a get-together for all the CYC members. The students were given valuable guidelines on the effective preparation for the Competitive Examinations. They were updated with the various developments that take place. The trend now is to migrate to abroad and many students don't want to prepare for PSC or UPSC, instead they want to leave India. The speakers highlighted the point that getting a government Job in India is much better than getting a job elsewhere. The students realised the dignity in getting a government job in our own country. Most of the students changed their minds and decided to pursue government jobs by intensive Competitive Exam Preparation.
- CYC Members' Christmas Celebration: On 22nd December 2022 CYC Snehagiri organized a Christmas Celebration for the youth of Mala Grama Panchayath. The youth took the initiative, made a crib, illuminated a Christmas-tree and hung the stars. All the youth sang the Carol Songs and joined the Santa Clause in singing and dancing to make the Christmas Celebration a meaningful one. Rev. Father Joy Vattoly CMI, the Director Snehagiri society gave the Christmas Message of Peace and Love to all those who were present. He also added that the youth should spread the spirit of peace & love. He reminded everyone that all should cultivate the habit of sharing throughout life. He emphasised the importance of competitive exams and getting a government job to settle and succeed in life.
- Leadership: CYC organized a programme intended to develop an insightful understanding of Leadership among the youth. Mr. Binu Kaliyadan, a well-known motivational speaker and the HR Director of training Hub, Aluva took the class on Leadership. Mr. Binu is an expert in giving motivational classes to the school and college students as well as corporates. On the out-set itself, the Resource Person stated that Leadership is the most observed but least understood phenomenon. He could capture the attention of the participants very easily. He spoke on the various aspects of leadership from his real-life situations which really had an effective impact on the participants. The session was quite lively, vibrant and interactive by itself and had lots of take-away. He enunciated that the functional leadership qualities such as good character, power, managerial capacity, initiative and responsibility are the quintessential of an ideal leader. The participants got an opportunity to play some games which go hand-in-hand with the theme 'Leadership'. The participants were given adequate time for reflection and in their feedback, they opined that the session was quite useful for their lives as they got various tips to be 'Good or Exemplary Leader' in today's world, in their own way. Resource Person: Mr. Binu Kaliyadan. Number of Participants: 30. Coordinator: Miss. Arya Kennedy

Benefit to Community: IMPACT

This programme enabled the participants to promote positive relationships with both the peers and the adults.

Goal setting.

It also aimed at providing professional development for the youth including influencing public opinion that theatre education is essential and builds life skills.

Theatre Art: This program helped the youth to introduce a concept of education that allows a space for dealing with sensuous impressions, examining knowledge, experiencing disconnections, re-experiencing meaningful connections and learning "how to know." This is a different form of education than where the emphasis is merely on the "flow of information."

Major Achievement:

- VIJAY M – Age 8 yrs (Address: Beerihundi Village, Mysuru Tq, Mysuru Dt, Karnataka)
  Vijay M was one of the students of our school and had a disorder called Cerebral palsy (CP). CP is a group of disorders that affect a person's ability to move and maintain balance and posture. CP is the most common motor disability in childhood. Cerebral means having to do with the brain. Palsy means weakness or problems with using the muscles. After a surgery, proper guidance and medication he is able to walk and stand on his own feet. As per the Doctor's suggestion he will be able to go to school after proper rest.

Future Plan/Way Forward:

- To identify more children with disabilities by extending our survey and field work activities
- To create mass awareness on the need of special care and protection for children with disabilities.
- To provide more advanced trainings and coaching to our students.

- To make use of every chance to bring children with disabilities to the mainstream of living.
